Allen Will Reign At Mac Homecoming

Sharon Allen, junior from Wichita, will reign over activities this weekend as MacCollege's homecoming queen. Her attendants are sophomore Lena Miyasaki from Maui, Hawaii, and Judy Hoover, freshman from Denver, Colo.

Sharon, a history major, plans to teach history and English in junior high after graduation.

This year Sharon is junior representative and secretary of the Student Council, a member of SNEA and WAA, secretary-treasurer of Phi Alpha Theta, which is a national honorary history society, and president of the Pep Club.

After being cheerleader her freshman year and varsity cheerleader last year Sharon commented, "I really enjoyed cheerleading. That is about the most fun I ever had."

Last year Sharon played the lead part of Anne in "The Diary of Anne Frank," and was a member of A Cappella Choir.

Sharon's hobbies include reading, sewing, and sports.

Lena, an elementary education major, plans to complete her college education in three years' work. She plans to attend summer school at Colorado State in Greeley, Colo., again this summer.

Second semester she will be classified as a first semester junior and she hopes to graduate with next year's class.

After graduation, Lena's plans include going back to Hawaii and teaching.

Sports, especially tennis, correspondence and "reading just any ordinary novel" are listed as Lena's hobbies. She is a member of SNEA.

ber of SNEA.

Judy, a sociology major, is interested in some phase of social work or BVS after she graduates from College. "However," Judy commented, "If I cannot accomplish that for some reason, I will go into elementary education."

Judy continued, "I don't really have any particular hobbies or interests. I guess I just like everything in general. I find foreign languages quite interesting. In high school Judy studied German, Latin, and Spanish but enjoyed Spanish the most."

While in Denver, she had a Sunday school class of mentally retarded children which she really enjoyed working with.

Judy belongs to Pep Club and is considering joining WAA, which shows she enjoys watching and participating in sports.

She is also a member of German Club.

Club Discusses 'Miracle Worker'

Advanced plans for "The Miracle Worker," were discussed at a meeting of the McPherson College Players, the campus dramatic organization.

Tryouts for Helen Keller and other blind girls will be held Monday evening, Oct. 15. Casting for other roles will be a week later. Playbooks for "The Miracle Worker" with lines designated for tryouts are available at the library.

"The Miracle Worker," under direction of Mrs. Una Yoder, director of dramatics at McPherson, will be given in December.

Unusual features about the drama are fluid scenery, and a leading actress who has no spoken lines. "The Miracle Workers" has never been presented in this area before by amateurs.

In spite of conflicting events, thirty students met to learn drama plans for the year from president Ken Smucker, Edwin Mohler, president of Alpha Psi Omega, explained the requirements for membership in the dramatic fraternity.

First prize is $30, second is $20, third is $10, and five honorable mentions are valued at $5 each.

Floats must be dismantled by sundown.

Recreational Council won the float contest at last year's homecoming with the display, "We're Pulling for Victory."

Winners of the float contest will be announced at half-time during tomorrow night's game.

Trustees Meet At Mac; Discuss College Plans

Completion and equipping of the men's new resident hall, current and future budgetary items of the college program, and matters of faculty development will be considered at the Board of Trustees meeting which will convene tonight for a two day session.

Meetings will be held in the basement of the college library.

Although the March meeting is considered the annual trustee meeting, increased activities of the college have caused the board to have a special meeting annually before homecoming time.

Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, dean stated "By having two meetings, the college administration is able to present business matters related to the college at greater length than would be the case in one meeting a year."

New trustees which will be stated either at this meeting or next March, because of resignation or death, are The Rev.

Glen Harris, Jennings, La.; Earl Brubaker, Waka, Tex.; John Coffman, Minot, N. Dak.; and Mrs. Walter Bucker, Waterloo, Iowa.

The trustees are the final governing body of the college. They are chosen by the churches and by the alumni. There is also a representative from the city of McPherson.

The trustees make final decisions on buildings, additions to the faculty, and faculty salaries.

Chairman of the trustees is Harold Mohler from Warrensburg, Mo., Secretary is Paul Sherfy from McPherson.

Trustees are elected for six-year terms. Those whose terms expire in 1967 are Ralph Hodgden from McCune; Clarence Sink, Waterloo, Iowa; Earl Goughnour Des Moines, Iowa; and Glenn Harris, Jennings, La., replacing Marion Stern from Jennings, who passed away.

Terms expiring in 1966 are Emerson Chisholm, Roxbury; Paul

W. Sherfy, McPherson; Homer Ferguson, McPherson; Ernest Peterson, Wichita; and George Toews, Pueblo, Colo.

Terms expiring in 1965 are Ralph Landes, Kansas City; Hubert Swinger, Essex, Mo.; E. A. Wall, McPherson; and Royal Yoder, Conway.

Terms expiring in 1964 are Jay Johnson, South English, Iowa; and Harold Mohler, Warrensburg, Mo.

Terms expiring in 1963 are George Oltman, Enders, Neb.; Paul E. Sargent, McPherson; James H. Beahm, Wichita; and Winston Goering, Nampa, Idaho.

John Miller, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Louis Bowman, Quinter; Harley Summers, Maddock, N. Dak.; and Harold Correll, Hardin, Mo.; retire this year.

Dr. Desmond W. Bittinger, president of McPherson College, and R. Gordon Yoder, treasurer of McPherson College are ex officio members.

Alumni, Displays To Invade Campus

Beginning with student assembly this morning, homecoming activities will continue in rapid succession through the weekend. To every Maccollege student Homecoming means something different.

To some it is an invasion which means even less privacy, a longer cafeteria line, and a weekend of mass confusion.

To others this is a long awaited weekend because

We Get Letters . . .

Reader Looks At Segregation In Northern U. S.

Dear Editor,

I just finished reading David Anders' article in the last Spectator entitled "Prejudice Reigns in Heart of Dixie."

Texas must have moved; Mr. Anders sounds like a northerner.

"We northerners are 'liberal'; we love the Noble Black Man; we wish for equal rights for the Negro; we wish a pox on the southern bigots; we are hypocritical."

I am from Rochester, Minn. Rochester is a country town of 40,000 population and is the home of the Mayo Clinic. Of the one thousand doctors at the Clinic not one is a Negro (this does not include the physical therapy section).

Almost all other races — even the Irish — have representatives on the medical staff. Up until a couple of years ago, the biggest hotel in town would not take Negroes. The hills around Rochester are filled with Negro haters from the word "go."

Rochester is only an example, but from this example comes a strange odor; implications can be drawn.

A leader of the Negro college students in the South said, as quoted in The Saturday Evening Post of Sept. 8, 1962, "In the North, they're all in favor of integration on a 'yes, but' basis. 'Yes, but not now. Yes, but not here. Yes, but not next door.'"

I am not saying there is no difference between the North and South, because there is a world of difference. But in a way the South is healthier and less frustrating.

Both sides know where they stand. The white South says, "No!" We say, "Yes!" It's right out there between us where we can see it and kick at it in public.

Now that the North is indicted we turn to another culprit—the Negro. Some Negroes seem to feel that it is their birthright to be lazy. They seem to think they have the right to relax while their white "brothers" pull them up to the level of first class citizens.

They do not care to work for what they want. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., has seen this and with some degree of success, has pleaded with his people to remedy this situation.

Other Negroes seem to feel that they are as bad as the whites who put them where they are and do what they can to increase hate between the two races.

In the attempt on the part of many people to make "saints" out of the oppressed Negro, they forget that Negroes have prejudices, weaknesses and undesirable characteristics, too. No race is perfect.

It is time for crusaders to stop patting themselves on their collective backs, pull in their horns and put the blame where it belongs — on everyone.

Sincerely,
Peter Ford

Diner Thanks Clink, Others For Dress-Up Night

Dear Editor,

I was really quite impressed with the first dress-up night of the year. It was refreshing to eat at tables covered with cloths and decorated. I want to thank Mr. Clink and those who helped him for this.

I think it is good for us to dress up for dinner at least one night a week. We are at college now and must prepare for the refined occasions many of us will encounter as a result of our education.

The fact that we are of college age should be reason enough to maintain dress-up night. We are no longer little girls and boys who refuse to wash behind the ears.

I am glad to know dress-up night has been enforced so far, both by students and by the management. I hope both parties will continue to do so.

I also hope that students will not become rebellious and start ignoring dress-up night the way they did last year.

I thought it very amusing, but friends and families will be here for a visit.

To many it is the result of spending innumerable hours planning and working on floats, displays, the banquet and ball, and the various programs to be presented.

To all students the weekend and the variety of activities included will be a break in the college routine and studying before five-week tests.

However, as one notices from the majority of the planned activities, homecoming is actually homecoming for former Maccollege students and graduates.

For many alumni and visitors it may be the first time they have seen the new buildings and projects on campus.

Even though it may not seem like the same place, we hope that all who visit here this weekend will feel a part of our campus life.

With all the activities and work put into this 75th Homecoming, let's all do our part to make this a special weekend filled with many memorable experiences for everyone! meg

Sleepy Student Protests Mac's Night Class Craze

Mac To Host Conference

Western regional conference of the Church of the Brethren will be held Friday Oct. 19 through Wednesday, Oct. 24 at McPherson. The theme of this year's conference is "The Church's Ministry to the World—To Heal the Broken."

Conference Leaders Include Clarence Jordan from Kolonia Farm, Americus, Ga.; The Rev. Harold Z. Bomberger, pastor of the McPherson Church of the Brethren; and S. Loren Bowman from Elgin, Ill.

George M. Kreps, on furlough from Quito, Ecuador; Kenneth I. Morse, Elgin, Ill.; Ralph Smeltzer, Elgin, Ill.; and The Rev. Clarence D. Sink, Waterloo, Iowa, are also leaders.

Chairman of the Western Region Board is Paul E. Miller, and secretary of Western Region is Floyd E. Bantz.

On Sunday afternoon at 3:00, during the conference, the McPherson College Choral Club will present "Requiem" by Faure.

disgusting, that some students who looked decent and perfectly groomed the rest of the week, would show up on Saturday night looking, frankly, sloppy for no good reason. This does not include, of course, those who had no time to change after working.

I hope this year, that if the majority of students have a serious objection to Thursday night, they will present their complaint instead of simply ignoring the rules.

I, for one, think it is fun to dress up, even though I may have to worry for a while about what I will wear. (I guess this brands me as a woman.) The only complaint I have is that once I get dressed up, I want to stay that way for awhile, and supper is over so quickly. Afterwards, there is nothing to do but to go back to the dorm, get comfortable, and open my Introduction to Literature book.

—A student.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Maccollege Alumni Demonstrate Loyalty, Success, Dedication

By Wayne F. Geisert

Homecoming is a most pleasant occasion, for it provides the opportunity to renew acquaintances and visit with college friends. Conversations vary at the post-game coffee hour.

Much of the conversation suggests that alumni enjoy looking back to the delightful days of attending college. This looking back often includes the refreshing of memories relative to events involving favorite professors, student life, classroom activities, and inter-collegiate competition.

Although hearts are usually light at Homecoming time, there is also a note of seriousness running through the mind of the careful observer of alumni affairs who takes note of those who return at Homecoming time.

There are three observations which I would like to make concerning McPherson Alumni. The first is that returning McPherson Alumni are loyal to the institution.

There are of course, exceptions to every generalization. Nevertheless the careful observer will note that the folks who return to campus this weekend feel a devotion to McPherson College in terms of love of alma mater, appreciation for the privilege of having studies at the college, and helpfulness in the promotion of the future of the college.

The loyalty of its alumni means a great deal to the college not only in terms of financial support, but also in terms of kind words, thoughtful concern, and increasing respect in educational circles.

A second generalization relates to the success of McPherson Alumni. As students look at the people who return at Homecoming time, they will be looking at a group of men and women, who, for the most part, have discovered the usefulness of education in terms of putting the accumulated wisdom of mankind to work in the modern world.

McPherson College feels a warm glow as it looks to the accomplishments of its progeny.

McPherson Alumni are dedicated alumni. There is a strong note of service motivation that runs through the lives of the graduates of colleges like McPherson. This dedication has brought to some alumni great success in terms of monetary reward.

It has brought to almost all of the people who will return to campus this weekend, the genuine pleasure of serving mankind in greatly varied walks of life.

This dedication means much to the future of the institution and to present and future generations of students' not only in terms of financial undergirding of the future of the college, but also in terms of playful support of the goals and the means of Christian higher education.

Observation of the above qualities of the McPherson Alumni should give all of us who study and work at McPherson as students and teachers some real food for thought.

We should be challenged in terms of appreciating our opportunities to work and study together. We should seek and find a useful application of liberal education in our own lives.

The challenging scene of Homecoming should make us realize that in addition to seeking personal development and realization through education, we should also be seeking to serve mankind through the specific application of our abilities as well as through lending our support to the promotion of Christian Brotherhood.

Ladies Added To Office Staff At Maccollege

Two ladies have been added to the office staff at Maccollege. Miss Carol Cheek has become the full time switchboard operator at the switchboard located in Mohler Hall.

Miss Cheek graduated last Spring from Maccollege with a Bachelor of Science degree and a major in Home Economics. In addition to connecting on-campus calls, the switchboard handles calls coming in and going out of the campus.

Miss Myrna Hauck is now secretary to Guy Hayes, director of admissions, also in Mohler Hall.

Miss Hauck attended Brown-Mackie Business College in Salina.

MORE OF TOM, DICK, AND MARY

By Ed Mohler

Chapter five

It is homecoming week at New Hedon College. Many things will happen. First will be the banquet for all alumni. They will eat and eat. There will be heaps and d heaps of hamburgers and hot dogs and chile and popcorn.

Since there is so much to eat and do, maybe half of the old grads will be there. Maybe even both of them.

Chapter six

There will be a special banquet for the students too. It will be followed by a social function in the Student Union, fun and games for the undergraduates.

Not all the students will go. One will not have a date, one can not afford to spend his money, and one will forget. There won't be much of a crowd, will there?

Chapter seven

After the dance everyone will walk around and look at the campus decoration. They will stand around and say, "Gee, what a faggy float."

Other schools spend lots of money and work months and months planning decorations, but not at N.H.C. It is not good to plan ahead.

War might break out tomorrow, and then what good would plans be? Besides, N.H.C. has a tradition it must uphold. It has a tradition of Faggy campus decorations.

Chapter eight

The big homecoming game will be against arch-rival Sam Houston Institute. Sam Houston is expected to win because it is a big school. It has twenty percent more students than New Hedon. Twenty percent more than three is three point six.

Tom will be New Hedon's star player. He has been practicing with Mary. This is not good. Mary always wins. Checkers just is not Tom's strong suit.

Mac Prepares For Grid Battle

The solid defensive line of the McPherson Bulldogs undergoes a severe test tomorrow when the heavy and experienced Southwestern Moundbuilders invade the lair of the Bulldogs. Southwestern, with wins over two of the weaker teams of the conference, faces its first real test of the season in taking on MacCollege, 2-1.

McPherson, with hopes of a creditable season, pits its outside speed against Southwestern in their quest for victory. Homecoming and having never scored on Southwestern before, give added incentive to the Bulldog cause.

In the only two previous meetings between these teams, Southwestern has won by scores of 27-0 and 33-0. Thus the Bulldogs will be out not only to beat the Moundbuilders, but also to score on them for the first time.

The Moundbuilders, in defeating KW and Friends, showed formidable strength through their ground attack. For example, in last week's win over Friends, they gained a total of 432 yards. The running attack is sparked by halfbacks Ackins and Hower.

Southwestern also has a defensive line which seems to toughen with every successive offensive play thrust against them. Against Friends, Southwestern yielded only 81 yards.

Southwestern may unveil a passing attack for the first time against McPherson in order to get over the Bulldog defensive line.

The Bulldogs must come up with either a better passing attack or a more consistent ground game in order to compete with Moundbuilders. Fans can probably look for something new on the part of the Bulldogs in their uphill battle against Southwestern.

Playing in the exhibition soccer game last Sunday afternoon were Phil Miller (left), Bob Hess, and Ken Ullom.

Four Grid Teams Remain Undeclared In KCAC Play

Ottawa and C of E continued to romp over league foes by safe margins again last week. Ottawa, scoring its 22 consecutive victory, defeated Bethel by a score of 31-0. Using quarterbacks Ken Smart and Jerry Harshaw with equal success, Ottawa rolled up 468 net yards to Bethel's 181 yards.

C of E hard-pressing Ottawa for the conference crown, rolled over previously unbeaten and unscathed on Bethel by a score of 10-0. The Presbies John Phillips scored on a 17 yard play in the first quarter for the only touchdown of the game. C of E gained 366 yards to 75 for Bethel.

Baker and Southwestern also kept their conference records clean with equally easy victories. Baker smashed Sterling 34-0 with John Jacobs scoring three touchdowns. Baker also ran up 467 yards while holding Sterling to a minus 6 yards.

Southwestern lowered the boom on Friends by defeating them 47-14. The Moundbuilders gained 432 yards to 81 yards for Friends.

The MacCollege Bulldogs moved their conference record to 2-1 easing by Wesleyan 13-12. Trailing 12-0 at halftime, Larry Crumrine led the Bulldogs back to victory.

Students Prepare For Intramurals

Volley ball intramural action begins next Monday night for approximately 140 MacCollege students. Games will be played every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings until around the middle of November, according to John Tegeler.

Six games will be played each night. A team must win two of three contests it plays each night to be declared the winner. Games begin at 6:15 and a 45 minute limit is set on each set of games.

The fourteen teams consist of six men and four women on each team. No partiality was given in setting up the teams.

Students may still sign up for intramurals with Don Widrig, assistant coach and instructor of physical education, Dennis Wallace, or John Tegeler.

The teams held practice games last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Spectators are welcome to see the competition in the gym.

A round robin tournament will be held to conclude the intramural action.

Mac Scores Late In Game To Topple Coyotes 13-12

Throwing off a case of first half bobbles, the McPherson Bulldogs scrambled back for a 13-12 conference victory over Kansas Wesleyan at Salina last Saturday. This victory moved the Bulldog's conference record to 2-1, while dropping Wesleyan's record to 0-2-1.

This game consisted of almost two separate contests in itself. KWU dominated the first half, scoring both their touchdowns in the second quarter of play. The Wesleyan Coyotes also put up a strong defense in the first two quarters.

McPherson took command in the second half, mainly by wearing the smaller KW team down. The Bulldogs scored late in the third quarter and early in the fourth to win the game. The MacCollege defense also came alive in the second half to completely stop KWU.

The honor of outstanding player of the game would have to fall to Larry Crumrine, the Bulldog quarterback. Through his running and master-minding, the Bulldogs managed to hang on the first half and then storm back to victory in the second half.

Besides scoring the Bulldogs first touchdown on a 23 yard run, Crumrine set up the play that resulted in Cal Unruh scoring the second touchdown on a 25 yard run. Crumrine set up the second scoring play by running four successive plays himself up the middle of the Coyote line. Then on the fifth play he pitched out to Unruh, who went around right end for the score. Miller then kicked the extra point which won the game.

KWU scored their first touchdown on a spectacular 70 yard run around right end by half-back Rod Brown. The second score came on a pass from John Hoffman to R. Z. Sims. Both tries for the extra point failed.

The game had a dramatic finish with McPherson's Buddy Taylor intercepting a Wesleyan pass in the Bulldog end zone with less than one minute remaining in the game.

The final statistics for the game showed MacCollege gaining 277 yards to KW's 218 yards.

WAA Plans Year's Activities

WAA members chose the sports and sport heads for the first season and discussed some activities for the year at a recent meeting.

Marilyn Marsh is sport head for volleyball, Judy Knelson for tennis, Connie Andes for individuals, and Judy Penny for outings.

Marilyn Marsh, chairman of the float committee, presented the plans for the club's display and announced the evenings the members should help build the float.

WAA supervises the concession stand at the football games. The profit is applied to awards for the members and for the spring banquet.

Sue Warrick, president, announced the possibility of WAA joining the state organization which is just organizing. This would involve planning more play-days with other Kansas colleges. Future WAA meetings will be held every second and fourth Thursday evenings after dorm hours in Dotzour Lounge. Women can still join the club.

New opinions are always suspected and usually opposed, without any other reason but because they are not already common.—John Locke

From The Locker Room

By Larry Morlan

In the dressing room immediately following McPherson's narrow victory over KW, Bulldog halfback Cal Unruh was seen to be almost crying. Coming closer, Cal could be heard muttering to himself, "one lousy point, just one lousy point." Cal thought the Bulldogs had lost by one point instead of winning by one.

Maybe the team should provide Cal with his own individual score card.

Again this week against KW, the McPherson pass defense was pretty bad. The only time it sparkled was when Taylor intercepted the last pass in the end zone. Lucky thing for the Bulldogs that the Wesleyan quarterback failed to see his receivers in the open during the course of the game. Also it wasn't until late in the game that KW even started passing.

Another thing which the Bulldogs seemed to lack was adequate pass protection for the passer. Passes were rushed and thus there were few completions.

There were two additional features at the KW game last Saturday. One was the use of a walkie-talkie system by the Salina team. A spotter in the sports-casters' booth operated one end of the system, while the KW coach handled the other end.

The second attraction was the Wesleyan unveiling of their new cannon. This cannon was fired after each Salina touchdown.

Baker, C of E, Ottawa, and Southwestern ran up the yardage against their opponents for the second week in a row. Last Saturday these four teams racked up a total of 1733 yards to their opponents 331 yards. Looks bad.

Bethany College has shown surprising strength in its first three games. The best showing came when the strong Presbies beat the Swedes only 10-0. The rest of the league had better watch out for the terrible Swedes could upset some good teams.

The Bulldog defensive line will be the only thing which will keep McPherson in the game against Southwestern. Since the Moundbuilders main threat is on the ground, the Bulldogs have a chance to pull an upset.

But in my prediction I will stick to the favored Moundbuilders. McPherson 13, Southwestern 25.

Cheerleaders Applaud Pep of Bulldog Boosters

The cheerleaders would like to express their appreciation to all the spectators who showed their loyalty to support the Bulldogs at the Salina game last week.

Geisert Will Attend Meeting In Chicago

Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, dean of McPherson College, will be in Chicago, Ill., next week at a meeting of the North Central Leadership Training Project.

To hear, at the meeting, the result of a study of McPherson College, is the purpose of Dr. Geisert's visit.

The study was made last year by three associates from the project for practice in observation.

Mac Cheerleaders Discuss School Spirit

Maccollege cheerleaders this year are Charlotte Erritt, Judy Fox, Karen Oltman, Shirley Vanderau, and Vida Sue Werner. After cheering at several football games, the cheerleaders expressed their opinions on the importance of cheerleaders, Maccollege school spirit, and sportsmanship.

"There was a definite improvement of school spirit after the Salina game. We felt encouraged as the students were behind us. Regardless how hard the cheerleaders try, we can't accomplish much if the students are not behind us," stated Charlotte Erritt, second semester junior from Somers, Iowa.

"If the boys are behind us this really helps as they can really yell."

"Cheerleaders should direct the students to get a united force of enthusiasm. So far this year the sportsmanship has been good. However, it is harder to tell in football since a person's voice does not carry as much as it does in basketball."

Charlotte plans to teach history. She is also a member of Women's Council, Pep Club, and is secretary of the senior class.

Judy Fox, sophomore from Garfield, believes cheerleaders are needed by the crowd to raise their interest in the game. "The audience is more apt to respond if there is someone down there to give them more enthusiasm.

So far this year, I really believe the school spirit has improved, although we need improvement. Most of this is up to the cheerleaders, but we still need the support of the college students.

"I've never seen poor sportsmanship at a Maccollege game. This is especially important in a church college. This is also a responsibility of the cheerleaders and they must 'curb' this when it first begins."

Judy, a speech major, plans to be a speech therapist. She is a member of Social Committee, Pep Club, Players Club, and is secretary of the sophomore class.

"Cheerleading should organize the enthusiasm of the crowd and help them follow good sportsmanship rules," commented Karen Oltman, sophomore from Enders, Neb.

Karen continued, "I think on the most part the school spirit is pretty poor. Last week's game was better but that was an exception. It seems like the students are scared to yell."

"The sportsmanship is usually pretty good but at times those who ruin it are not from the college."

Karen plans to teach English on the secondary level. She is in SNEA, choir, band, orchestra, Pep Club, Wind Ensemble, and she accompanies a trio.

"One of my main interests is sports," commented junior math major Shirley Vanderau, Plattsburg, Mo. "I love to participate in sports, but naturally a girl can't participate in all of them. Being a cheerleader gives a girl a chance to go to the games and learn more about them."

Maybe it will also give me a chance to help the student body become as interested in them as they should."

Shirley feels that there is definitely some room for improvement of the school's spirit. "I hope students show enough interest to want to go to the games and take school spirit along."

On the whole, Shirley thinks the school shows good sportsmanship with the exception of a few individuals.

Shirley, a member of SNEA and Pep Club plans to teach on the secondary level.

Vida Sue Werner, a sophomore English and Speech major from Winona, is a member of Pep Club, SNEA, band, choral club and German Club.

She feels cheerleading should inspire the students to display their school spirit. Vida summarized the attitude of the cheerleaders when she commented, "Although there has been some improvement in school spirit this year there is room for much more."

Cheerleaders should be intent on improving the school spirit but every student must display spirit instead of just one or two to make it worth while.

In Pep assemblies and at games those who yell are looked upon as freaks and the situation should be reversed. Those who don't yell should be looked down on.

Often someone says the team gives the spectators nothing to yell about but we should give the team the inspiration to give something to yell about."

College Begins TV Programs Next Friday

Three Maccollege students from Hutchinson will be presented at the first McPherson College TV program next Friday morning to publicize the student body and college increased enrollment and expansion plans.

Joe Funderburk, Mrs. Betty Bibe and Fred Finrock will be in the program.

Marvin Blickenstaff, assistant professor of piano, will discuss Mac's Cultural Series Schedule.

Guy Hayes, director of admission, is in charge of the program.

The college will present a TV program every third Friday at 7:30 a.m. on KTVH, channel 12, from Hutchinson.

KU Accepts Funderburk For School Of Medicine

Joe Funderburk senior at McPherson, has been accepted at the University of Kansas School of Medicine.

The institution, commonly called KU Medical Center, is located in Kansas City. Joe will be studying to become a medical doctor.

Majoring in Biology in college, Joe also has other interests, mostly in music. He has sung in A Cappella Choir and has played in the marching band at McPherson.

Last year he presented a piano recital in Brown Auditorium, including the works of Chopin, Brahms, Rachmaninoff, and McDowell. But he also likes to play "a little popular music."

In addition to this, he played the major role of Tommy Albright in "Brigadoon," which was presented last March by students at McPherson.

This year, Joe serves as an assistant in the Biology Department.

Deciding to go into medicine hasn't been a lifelong plan, reports Joe. But during high school days in Hutchinson, his ambitions and interests began to be drawn to both medicine and music.

Asked if he doesn't think music and medicine is an odd combination Joe says, "It isn't as odd at this school as it might be at some other schools."

Joe explains that at McPherson, the student usually participates in many varied activities, often becoming outstanding in more than one.

Joe feels it is not adequate for a student to devote all his time to one activity. Joe illustrates well the way he feels, giving much time to both the music and science departments at McPherson.

California Test Given To Maccollege Freshmen

The California Test given to students last week is a test of mental maturity. It is used in cross reference with the A. C. T. test given to all enrolling freshmen.

"With a test of this nature (The A.C.T.) it is best to have a second test," states Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, dean of McPherson College.

One test is inadequate for obtaining answers these tests provide because of physical condition, as well as other disturbing factors.

MENC Picks Members For Program Committee

Due to the weather, the M.E.-N.C. picnic was held in the basement of the Student Union.

The picnic started with a short business meeting. Sandra Hoover and Dale Marrs were selected to join the Program Committee. The club then decided they would find lodging and act as guides for the members of the Quinter High School Band when they are on Macampus.

The Quinter Band will put on the half time show at the homecoming game.

A game of musical charades was played and supper was served.
