

COLLEGE AUTHORITIES ALMOST BRING GREAT DISCOVERY TO LIGHT

MAKE UNPRECEDENTED RIDE TO SAND PIT IN RESPONSE TO YOUNGSTERS' REPORT

Air-Castles, Visions, and Dreams of Adding Honor and Fame To M. C. By Disclosing "Missing Link" Piteously Shattered When Executive Trio Arrives At Treasure Spot

Time is needed to really see and appreciate the magnitude of great events such as the colonization of the new world, the Declaration of Independence, and the Great World War. So it has been for the mature judgment which time and cautious consideration could give the event, that we have hesitated to publish an account of the Great Discovery made by our own President and Dean of the College and the President of the Student Council.

It happened in this manner: On the afternoon of February 4, a message was brought to the President of the College by breathless youngsters, that the workmen at the sand pit had made a marvelous discovery. "They've found a petrified man in the sand pit," they shouted. "A petrified MAN!" but by that time the Dr. was halfway home calling for the Dean and trying to think of the exact location of his hat and coat. Before the youngsters had closed their mouths he was back in his car with the Dean and President of the Student Council and then with one snort and a puff of smoke, the Hudson-Super plunged toward the sand pit.

Buoyed up with the vision of enriching and glorifying our museum with a relic of prehistoric man, probably the missing link, fired by the resolution to stake the claim and take the dummy in the name of McPherson College, and, elated with the fervor and thrill of conquest and discovery, these three worthies descended the "uncertain" slopes of the "pit," ran toward the group of workmen, and lo! It was THERE! There! In all of its ugly beauty and completeness, with not one flaw to mar its perfection, the whole, sound, pure and unadulterated NOTHING but SAND!

Mightily crestfallen these gentlemen returned to the Hill, vowing secrecy and innocence concerning the whole affair, with their air-castles toppled piteously.

However, since some time is elapsed and it is realized "what might have been," it is yet hoped that they may organize into a trust and exploit their 20th century methods of discovery. A suggested outline for procedure is, that they give illustrated lectures, with the Dr. and the Dean doing the voicing and Henry cranking the picture machine.

EDITH WATKINS RECEIVES ACADEMY SCHOLARSHIP

By action of the Faculty in regular session Tuesday, February 21, the academic scholarship was awarded to Miss Edith Watkins who graduates this spring. The honor was given on the basis of high grades entirely and is a fitting reward for the splendid work done by Miss Watkins during her academic course, two years of which were spent in McPherson, the remainder in Bethany Bible School. The scholarship consists of a year's tuition in the College in which the person receiving it enters. Honorable mention was also given to Mr. Leonard Birkin in recognition of his high standing and splendid scholarship.

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK AT HUTCHINSON TOMORROW

Mme. Schumann-Heink, the world's greatest contralto, will give a concert at the Hutchinson Convention Hall Wednesday evening, March first. This number is one of the biggest attractions of the Hutchinson Concert Series.

COLLEGE FARM RECEIVES GIFT

The College Farm recently received a gift of two bushels of valuable seed corn from Mr. C. J. Miller, of Lone Star, Kansas. The corn is of Reid's Yellow Dent variety and will be planted on the College Farm this spring. The Management of the farm is always grateful for such gifts from the former friends of the College and wishes to thank Mr. Miller for his donation. Mr. Miller is the father-in-law of Professor Craik.

DR. KURTZ SPEAKS AT KNIFE AND FORK CLUB

President Kurtz addressed the Kansas City Knife and Fork Club in the Hotel Baltimore at a dinner last Monday night. This is one of the largest and most unique Clubs in the Middle West and has more than a thousand business and professional men as members. The Club holds a banquet each month at which time prominent men speak to the members. Dr. Kurtz spoke on "The Human Problem." The other speaker of the evening was Dr. Paul R. Reinsch, former United States Minister to China.

CHARLES ZUEBLIN TO LECTURE THURS. EVE.

CONSIDERED ONE OF THE FORE- MOST PLATFORM SPEAKERS IN AMERICA TODAY

Charles Zueblin, for sixteen years an instructor in sociology in the University of Chicago and regarded as one of America's foremost platform speakers of today, will give one of his noted lectures at the Opera House Thursday evening. Besides lecturing Mr. Zueblin finds time to use his pen. He is the author of a number of books among which are the following: "American Municipal Progress," "A Decade of Civic Development," "The Religion of a Democrat," and "Democracy and the Overman."

The Redpath Bureau says of Mr. Zueblin: "For more than twenty-five years Charles Zueblin has been interpreting America to Americans and setting forth an ideal of democratic development. As a lecturer he electrifies his hearers, not only by his magnetic personality, but also by the dynamic force of his ideas and the breadth of his information."

"Mr. Zueblin's philosophy of life is uncompromisingly democratic. He believes absolutely in the masses of the people, unorganized and inarticulate but potentially mighty. He is never negative or destructive, always positive, constructive, creative. Criticism is to him merely a clearing process for social reconstruction."

COLLEGE BAND PLANS TO GIVE CONCERT SOON

Those persons who have attended any or all of the College football or basket ball games, played at home, this year, know what a good band M. C. possesses under the direction of Prof. Lauer. Now that the basket ball season is nearly over this musical organization of twenty-five or thirty pieces is spending nearly all of its time practicing several new concert numbers. It is planned that sometime in the near future, probably in about three weeks, the Student Council will include on this year's program an entertainment number by the McPherson College Band. San Romani, instructor of the City Band, will appear in several concert solo numbers along with the rest of the program. Music-lovers will be afforded an opportunity here that will be well worth their time. The date and further information concerning the concert will be announced later.

Band members please remember that practice night has been changed from Tuesday to Friday evening.

M. C. TO MEET KANSAS WESLEYAN DEBATERS IN DUAL COMBAT MARCH 6

The debaters of M. C. are scheduled to meet the Kansas Wesleyan standard bearers in a dual clash on the night of March 6. The Wesleyan affirmative team debates here in the chapel while McPherson's affirmative team goes to Salina. A battle royal can be expected at both places.

The standing of the judges' votes in the Northern division of the Kansas Debating League is as follows:

Kansas Wesleyan	5
McPherson	4
Bethany	2
Sterling	1

If McPherson is to win the division championship it is evident what MUST be done Monday night when the debaters of M. C. and Kansas Wesleyan meet.

May another vital interest be suggested to your hourly thoughts. The Bull Dogs are fighting hard for second place in the basket ball conference. They have our whole-hearted support. But the debaters are fighting equally hard for the championship of the division and of the state. Let's push them over to victory. Wesleyan next!

BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT RE- CEIVES RARE COLLECTION.

Last week Professor Nininger received for the Biology Department a collection of thirty six rare tiger beetles (family Cicindelidae) from Dr. Walter Horn, entomologist in the Berlin Museum in Germany. Dr. Horn is the world's greatest authority on beetles of this family and is a friend of Mr. Knaus of this city, whom he visited in 1902. He learned from a report of their Rocky Mountain trip last summer that Mr. Knaus and Mr. Nininger had taken several very rare and valuable specimens which he was unable to get from any other source. He was glad to send the thirty specimens in exchange for six from Mr. Knaus and Prof. Nininger. The specimens which he sent were collected from twenty-five different countries in all parts of the world. Mr. Knaus collected only American specimens so he turned the entire lot over to Professor Nininger for the Biology Department. They make an interesting and an invaluable addition to the collection of the Department.

CHERNIAVSKY TRIO TO GIVE CONCERT FRIDAY

PROGRAM CONSISTS OF HIGH- GRADE SELECTIONS

Last Number of McPherson Concert Series.

The Cherniavsky Trio, on their third world concert series, will appear at the Opera House Friday evening at 8:00 as the last number of the McPherson Concert Series. These three Russian brothers, Leo, the dramatic violinist, Jan, the poet pianist, and Mischel, the inspired cellist, who are gifted with such remarkable musical talents, received much of their early training from their father, an eminent orchestra conductor. At a very early age they began making tours over Europe, receiving the admiration and unstinted applause of the greatest critics of music of that time.

Below is given a reproduction of their program.

I. Trio for Pianoforte, Violin, Violoncello in C minor No. 2, Op. 66, Mendelssohn

LANBORG'S WARRIORS DEFEAT HAYS NORMAL IN TWO GAME SERIES

TEACHERS DROP FIRST BATTLE 22-19 AND SECOND 25-6

Ramp Scores 16 Points In Opening Encounter—S. Crumppacker Leads Scoring In Last Contest—M. C. Quintet Displays Wonderful Defense—Cross Stars For Hays

Lonborg's Bull Dogs came back from Hays with two games safely stowed away on the "win" side of the column, and thus strengthened their position of second place in the conference.

The first game, played Friday night, saw a score of 22 to 19, which, however, is not altogether indicative of the story of the game. Hays made 11 free throws out of their 19 points, which leaves only four field baskets, while the boys of M. C. doubled this last number and added six points from the free throw line. At the end of the first half McPherson had established a safe lead of 14 to 5, which the Normals were unable to overcome, although they came back fighting in the last period and held the honors during that time.

The Bull Dogs seemed a little slow in getting started, which was due mainly to the unusually large court. The work of the guards, L. Crumppacker and Ramp, was the best of the whole season, which is saying a lot. Itump was also able to score 16 of M. C.'s 22 points. Sargent played his steady game at center and did his share by getting the tip-off most of the time. S. Crumppacker played a good floor game, besides making four of the points. Duggell seemed to have lost confidence in himself and so failed to connect with the basket, but per-

PROCEEDS OF PRE-SOCIAL FOR STUDENT FRIENDSHIP FUND AMOUNT TO $63.10

A total of $63.10 was taken in last Monday evening at an all-school picnic supper given in the college chapel by the Conference and Social committees of the Y W C A for the benefit of the Student Friendship Fund. The chapel was very prettily decorated with streamers of red, white, and blue intermingled which gave a festive air to the evening event. Preceding the sale of the pies a number of group games were played and a short program was given. Promptly at half past eight February Silver and Ralph Ström as auctioneers began the sale of the pies. Every young man appeared exceptionally hungry judging from the strivings with which the bidding went on. Sixty-six flaky, crisp, delicious pies of all kinds imaginable were sold to the highest bidder in a short time and were eagerly disposed of by the owner and his fair partner or partners. Without a doubt the supper was a success and the amount taken in will aid materially in helping the suffering students of Europe.

CATALOG IS PRINTED

The annual catalog of the college is henceforth to be issued in February, and in accordance with this new plan the 1922-1923 catalog is now out. It was published by the McPherson Republican. Two thousand copies were printed and these will be distributed from the college office. The committee on the catalog consists of Professors Craik, Blair, and McGaffey.

Prof. Rowland Writes Article

Prof. C. L. Rowland, formerly head of the Vocal School of M. C., but now a teacher in Juanita College at Huntington, Pa., is the writer of an article entitled "Our Church Music in Relation to the Forward Movement" which appears in the February 25 issue of the Gospel Messenger.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

So often the statement is heard that honesty is the best policy and how true it is. The person who makes a practice of being honest not only wins the admiration and confidence of his associates but also builds up for himself a character that will stand firmly against the tempestuous storms of life.

It is the initial formation of such a character that is so troublesome for the college student. So many occasions arise when just a slight deviation from the truth will presumably cover a whole multitude of sins for the present at least and the average college student falls a victim. Of course the next occasion is met with a weaker resistance and soon the offender finds himself telling untruths and even employing dishonest methods in his every day activities. Sooner or later when he finds himself in the clutches of the law he then realizes as never before that honesty is the best policy.

Telling an untruth to a friend, cheating in an examination, or taking articles that are not your own, are trivial offenses in themselves but nevertheless, they tend to weaken a person's moral fiber and thus pave the way for a second and greater violation. To live up to the maxim that honesty is the best policy a person must daily speak the truth and be honest in every act.

WE SEZ 'T HIM SETTIN' NEXT T'US

Don't feel badly if you get bawled out in the Spectator. It's worth something to be conspicuous, eh what?

Some people when they get to talking to you, hang on just about as long as Craik's cold. We suggest this cure: Hang out a sign that reads, "Bank closes at 4 P. M."

Have you noticed the effect of the weather on people? On the balmy days we had lately, people sauntered about; but when the wintry winds did blow, faith, how people did chase about.

If you have anything against anyone, for Heaven's sake, go to his face and tell him. If you don't have nerve enough to do that you haven't any right to hold anything against him.

Business for the Adelpian House (ooh, pardon me—Kline Home) has begun to pick up. Oh no, Foster we didn't mean to tell on you.

Say, we'd like to know who takes upon themselves the huge task of marking up the late magazines. Anything that the author says that pleases the gentle reader, said lamb—like reader applauds by underscoring the passage. That's all right, Genevieve, but there happens to be some of us that do not like to be told when to applaud.

If all speeches are more or less flowery, Blair's speech, in chapel Thursday morning was a whole greenhouse.

Students and Professors always welcome at Matthew's Millinery, where they find the latest and most up-to-date styles.—Adv.

What A Kansas Cityan Thinks

Echoes have reached McPherson from the address which Dr. Kurtz gave some time ago before the Knife and Fork Club of Kansas City. Mr. Till, one of the financial editors of the Kansas City Post writes as follows: "Until recently I have held that of the thousands of men whom I have had to listen to professionally, flourke Cochran and James Bryce were pre-eminent. Last Friday, I heard Dr. Kurtz of McPherson College. He now goes into my memory and completes the trinity of wonderful speakers. An extensive vocabulary, a simplicity of language notwithstanding, obviously a follower of the simple style of his Bible; dynamic, logical, and better than logical—maintaining a sequence, this remarkable man must be rated as perfect. 'It is not always that a scholar can tell what he has learned. Dr. Kurtz can.'"

ACADEMY STUDENTS TO HAVE SEPARATE CHAPEL

During the recent visit of the state inspector it was found that the method of using the academy students as "fillers" in the chapel exercises is contrary to the requirements of both the State, and the North Central Association. By his recommendation and request that the academy be allowed to meet at least once a week in assembly, as all high school and academic groups must do. It has been arranged that hereafter on Friday mornings the academy students will meet in the Music room for the chapel hour.

The first meeting took place last Friday morning under the direction of Professor Hess, Principal of the academy. All meetings will be supervised by the academy teachers. On Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday mornings the academy and college students will meet in the chapel as usual.

It is hoped that this arrangement will prove beneficial as it is made with the intention of fostering a group loyalty in the academy which is necessary for its full development. It will give the students a sense of the need for group efficiency and responsibility which has been impossible under the previous regime. May the academy become an independent self-sustaining unit instead of a motley background for the College.

MISS GRACE SCRIBNER TO LECTURE ON SOCIAL PROBLEMS TOMORROW EVENING

Miss Grace Scribner will be one of the regular lecturers of the Student Lecture and Entertainment Course. Miss Scribner is scheduled to lecture on Social Problems in the chapel Wednesday evening, March 1st, at 8:30 o'clock. She is assistant to Dr. Harry F. Ward of the Social Service Federation of the Methodist Church. Miss Scribner has been booked for 1922 by one of the large Chautauqua circuits. Here are a few opinions of the work of Dr. Ward and Miss Scribner:

"Miss Scribner has been used many times in Summer Conferences in the East by the Y. W. C. A. She has really been the unseen power in sharing with Dr. Ward in putting over the present Social Service program among Methodists."—Mildred L. Inskeep of the West Central Field Committee of the Y. W. C. A.

"From my actual knowledge of Social conditions I consider Grace Scribner one of the five women in America best qualified to speak on the subject. She and Dr. Ward have been the leaders in practically all the social legislation that has been passed. They are planning a great inter-church conference to discuss social problems."—Dr. Lackland, who recently lectured here.

"Anyone who has been associated in social work with Prof. Ward of New York has a message. Knowing of the wonderful work of Dr. Ward, I am sure that his co-worker, Miss Scribner, will have an illuminating message."—Dr. D. W. Kurtz.

We believe it a real treat to hear Miss Scribner. The date—March 1st. Time 8:30 p. m. Admission by Student Ticket or thirty-five cents.

Earl Morris (after gym class): "Say boys, let the water run on your heads, it feels like it was falling on something empty."

FORMER M. C. STUDENT IN UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

The Wichita Daily Eagle of February 19, contained an excellent photo of Miss Julia C. Garst, of that city, who was a student in M. C. in 1917-1918. While here Miss Garst was also assistant librarian, in which office she did most satisfactory service. After leaving M. C., Miss Garst resumed her occupation of teaching school, but soon entered the University of Michigan, from which she will be graduated this spring. In addition to her school work she has taken a thorough course in librarianship, and has been successful in more than making her way financially through the University.

ACADEMY DEBATE CLUB NOTES.

What proved to be one of the most interesting and amusing debates of this year was held Friday evening, February 24. The question up for discussion was one of great importance to all lovers of domesticated animals—Resolved: That dogs are more useful than mules.

The affirmative side was ably defended by Kathryn Thompson and Mary Whiteneck who argued the use of the canine to man and its necessity to man's welfare. The negative views were upheld by Edgar Stauffer and Franklin Evans who contended that the long eared beast was one of man's most faithful servants and also that he is more economical for man's use than the dog.

The decision of the judges was two to one in favor of the negative.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA RE-DEBARS PLEASING CONCERT

Mr. Alvah R. Lauer, conductor, presented the McPherson College Symphony Orchestra in their second concert of the season at the Opera House, Friday evening, Feb. 24. It was gratifying to note the improvement of ensemble and attack. They gave the "Anvil Chorus" its beautiful rhythmic swing and the familiar "Sextette" all its pathos and drama. The "Norma" overture was one of the most beautiful numbers and it and the "Calf of Bagdad" made one wonder at the folly of modern composition with its lack of melodic beauty. Mrs. Forrest W. Gaw sang Arditto's beautiful waltz song "Il Bacio" (The Kiss) with decided brilliance. She is to be complimented on her clearness of tone and ease in singing. Miss Alma G. Anderson's reading "The Cost of Loving" was very well received. Her selections are always unusually well chosen and she impressed one with her clear enunciation and deep sincerity. Mr. Leale Scoville, violinist, played Wieniawski's "Oberon" and Brahms' "Hungarian Dance No. 5" in a very brilliant style. He was recalled in a very enthusiastic manner.

HOW TO GO TO A RECITAL

Appropos of the recital during the past week, we might say that there seems to be a lack of proper recital etiquette. This is quite an impressive fact, almost an overwhelming one. So we are endeavoring to give a few pointers as to how to behave so that you will be classed with the upper crust.

Now in going to a recital a great deal of care should be taken so you will show that you have a great appreciation of music. At the door you will be handed a program. A "program," dear reader, is a slip of paper with the events of the evening printed thereon. Oftentimes there will be various advertisements printed on it also. These are not to be read. Nobody ever does. It is quite unnecessary, even if that is the main reason for the program.

When you take your seat you may remove your coat, rearrange your hair—recomb it if necessary—rub your eyes, manicure your nails, clear your throat and then (not before then) say in a rather loud voice how perfectly awful you look. People will not believe you and they will turn to see if you are a liar. Don't let it bother you.

Then pick up your program and look over what is going to be played, sung, or read. To show that you know something about music and are not of the hopeless hundreds, you must say, "Oh Galumpsky's Etude in B cube is going to be played," or "Just think, she is going to sing the Chariot Race from Don Izzetti," or "Can you imagine him reading the Flower Song from Il Travcoque." All the people will wonder at your intelligence.

You must also comment on the composers represented. No previous knowledge is required—or is generally not used. You might say, "Oh, did you know that Debussy's wife (it makes no difference if he ever had one or not) was a manicurist?"

Now the solist appears. Everybody begins to buzz resembling bees with sore corns. You must stretch your neck to see how pretty the lady is or how old the man is. This will require a great deal of practice for everybody will want to do it at once and you must get your neck to contain a great deal of stretchability.

After the music begins, you must listen closely for a while and then your mind will soon begin to wander. You will soon yawn. When you become bored, play with your handkerchief or take your ring off and on your finger. This last exercise is bound to give satisfaction.

You will soon seek for other ways of attracting attention. During a pianissimo passage, rattle your program. This always gives a good effect. Coughing is always in order. Everybody does it. Don't try to choke it down for that shows your ignorance. If you have been stupid enough to bring a box of Smith Brothers cough drops with you, be sure to leave one end of the box open and empty them all on the floor. This is called the "grandstroke." Everybody will look at you and you will find that your place in society is made. This will also make the solist very angry and he will make his instrument swear.

When the concert is half blown over or thereabouts, let your program slide down on the floor taking care that it goes beyond the row of seats in front of you. Demand your escort to get your program immediately as you simply must have it. He will offer you his, but of course you could not deprive him of his program. He will sneeze after the truant program. His shoes will squeak. He will bump his head. The lady in front of you will think that he is trying to untie her shoe. If she insists upon it, let her have it her way. His tie will become crooked and his collar awry, his face will be painful but—you will have your program.

When the recital is over, make a mad rush for the nearest door. Everybody does this and you must, too. Try to be the first one there. This is great sport, you will enjoy it immensely. So will all the others. And as you are crowded there together, you will inhale the mingled fragrance of Djer Kiss, Gardengio, Woolworth's Special, Juicy Fruit, Fatima, Wrigleys, and Colgate's Toothpaste (the kind that has flat on the brush.) Amongst all "these perfumes of Araby" (a la Mrs. Macbeth) be sure to tell how you enjoyed the recital. If you do not, people will think that you got over 200 in the intelligence test and that—oh heavens, no—that would never do.

Some of those who went are: Miss Brown, Mrs. Brown, Pauline Vaniman, Norma Smith, Cecile Martin, Bernice Peck, Eunice Frey, Blanche Spurgeon, Helen Garst, Lloyd and Galen Saylor, Harry Bowers and Paul Pair.

Glenn Strickler, Stanley and Richard Keim, and Paul Sarzent were dinner guests at Mr. F. A. Vaniman's Sunday.

Prof. Hess went to Hesston Thursday where he was judge at a class debate between the seniors and sophomores. The seniors, who defended the negative side of the Smith-Townier bill, were victorious.

Professors Deeter, Blair, and Fries were the judges of a debate Friday night between Galva and Junction City High Schools. Galva won a 2-1 decision on the Philippine question.

John Daggett, Winona McGaffey, Roy Neher, Maud Merkey, Emma Toutsley and Jessie Breen motored to Osborne, Kansas, Sunday. It was only the primary purpose of locating a school for next year that necessitated Mr. Neher's company.

Lewis Bowman of Hardin, Missouri, visited College friends a few days last week.

Dr. Kurtz appeared on one of the numbers on the Lecture Course at Stet, Missouri, Monday night.

STUDENT FRIENDSHIP FUND

Much effort has been concentrated the past few weeks on the raising of M. C.'s quota of the Student Friendship Fund for the relief of the suffering students in Europe. Various events were planned to aid in securing this money and were carried out with a great degree of success. Besides providing entertainment they have added substantially to the fund. The pie supper given by the Y. W. amounted to $63.00. The Eu-

Thus far the total receipts for the fund almost reach the $600.00 mark. The committee wishes to thank all who have supported this campaign and particularly those members of the faculty and our worthy friend J. A. Flory, who have contributed so liberally to this fund.

Society News

On Thursday evening, Feb. 23, Glade Fisher was very beautifully reminded that his birthday had again arrived. At six-thirty o'clock a small group of friends gathered at Kline Cottage and joined in a hearty good time in Mr. Fisher's honor. Dinner was served most delightfully by Misses Mildred Fisher and Alta Mohler—and a bountiful fare it was! Plans were very tastefully laid and adroitly executed, and the impression received when the lights were turned out and the candles on the big birthday cake were lighted, is one not soon to be forgotten. "Success" is the word most descriptive of the occasion.

Those present were: Misses Ruth Martin, Alta Mohler, and Mildred Fisher and Messrs. Glade Fisher, Ralph Garman, LeRoy Doty, Marathon High, Roy Brammell, and Leslie Sargent.

A delightful surprise party was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Penland at their home in honor of the birthday of their son, Marcellus, last Wednesday evening. The time was very pleasantly spent in playing games and solving various mysteries. Dainty refreshments were served and everyone present reports a jolly good time. Those present were Misses Marie Cullen, Reetha Studebaker, Irma Witmore, Gertrude Witmore, Elsie Forney, Gladys Brubaker, and Messrs. Marcellus Penland, Clarence Showalter, Harlan Yoder, Rodney Martin, Cecil Hayes, Earl Morris, Irvin Irlig, Elmer Brubaker and Everett Brubaker.

Sunday evening, Feb. 19, Professor and Mrs. Swope entertained a small group of Mount Morris College Alumni, all of whom were students in college at the same time. Mr. Claude Marker of Topeka was passing through McPherson and stopped to spend a few hours Sunday evening with old friends. Those present were Professors Mohler, Swope, Hoover and wives and Mr. Marker. All present were M. M. C. Alumni except Prof. Hoover.

Mrs. Swope served a dainty luncheon. "Table talk" consisted largely of "green carpet" and flag rush stories of former school days. The stupid (?) matron and the cleverness of ex-president Miller received proper mention. Literary society spirit and rivalry were always keen at M. M. C. This loyalty seems to remain with M. M. C. Alumni. Amphibitions were in majority in this group as Mrs. Mohler was the only representative of the Philorhetorians. The same old spirit of rivalry was jovially manifested during the evening.

Mr. Marker is now a large stockholder and president of the Farmers Creamery Co., of Topeka. His financial success is proved by the fact that about five years ago he started with very little, taking hold of this company at a stage near collapse. At present the business is in a flourishing condition and he has cleared a neat little sum. He is also associated with the Topeka Y. M. C. A., having oversight of some of the Y. M. C. work there.

The little party dispersed with the anticipation of meeting again in about three weeks when Mr. Marker will come to Salina with the Topeka Volley Ball team to play the Salina team. After the game he expects to drive down to McPherson.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Heaston announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys Irene, to Mr. Nelson W. Krehbiel of Moundridge. Miss Heaston, a member of the class of 1920, attended Chicago University for some time after graduating from M. C. At present she is principal of the Moundridge High School.

Y. M. C. A.

Prof. Mohler speaking at our Y. M. C. A. gathering brought to us with startling clearness the necessary qualifications for success. We were impressed very vividly with the truth that whatsoever a man thinketh so is he. We must clean up; our thoughts must be pure, for thoughts beget acts. No human can be pure in action and think impure thoughts. Another qualification was service. Any man entering a profession for money only will make and has made a failure. We must get a vision of service. We must serve—not dominate. Surely M. C. students are fortunate. We as men students extend our appreciation.

A TYPE OR TWO.

Misses Ida Johnson, Effie Miller, Ida Blough, Eunice Frey and Jennie Amos are the successful competitors for the 25 word Remington Proficiency Award, having passed the February proficiency test. Miss Frey, who attained the highest mark, wrote 35 words a minute for a period of ten minutes, and lacked only four words per minute from winning the 40 word award which is a handsome card case. Other awards are: 55 words, a gold medal, and the 60 word test, which requires 15 minutes perfect typing at the rate of 60 words per minute, a New No. 10 Remington typewriter.

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS SECOND MEETING

The Athenian Literary Society held its second meeting Saturday evening, after having been postponed two or three times for various reasons. Seven new members were received. The first part of the program consisted of music and a reading. Following this Prof. Ninsinger gave an illustrated lecture on his biological tour through the west last summer. Pictures of many places of interest were shown, also a number of rare and beautiful specimens of beetles that were taken during the trip. Prof. Ninsinger also had with him a collection of thirty-six specimens which he recently received from a collector in Berlin in exchange for six specimens from this trip.

MISSION BAND

The Mission Band was very fortunate Thursday evening in having for its program an illustrated lecture by S. Ira Arnold. Mr. Arnold has spent a number of years as a missionary in India and is now on furlough, being enrolled as a student in the college this semester.

The pictures shown were views pertaining to our own missions in India as well as other things of interest from that country and were thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

After the lecture an election was held to choose officers for the ensuing year. The choice was as follows: President, Roy Hyllon Vice President, Grace Crumpeaker Secretary-Treasurer, Jessie Ball Corr. Secretary, Ralph Loshbaugh Chorister, Naomi Fasnacht Reporter, Jessie Breen.

Y. W. C. A.

Everyone knew that there must be something "Special" going to happen in Y. W. C. A. Wednesday morning when they heard Eunice Frey playing, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," while the girls were assembling. It was the 22nd of February—you can guess the rest.

Ruth Miller told us all about her trip to Mt. Vernon last summer; we felt a great deal better acquainted after having visited their home, "make believe," as Ruth pictured it to us. Then Ocie McAvoy told us a bit of the personal life of Abraham Lincoln, and his courtship with Mary Todd. Lincoln was a great joke-maker, it is true, but when he failed to show up on his wedding day Miss Todd became very angry, as became a lady in her standing, but later, from all accounts, she must have seen the "point" for the delayed wedding took place some months later.

Ethel Whitmer (in Shakespeare): "Girls in Shakespeares time were just like they are today—indifferent and independent, saying they'll never marry, but if you set a Trapp for them they fall in every time."

Second Game

In the second game, played Saturday evening, the Bull Dogs did not wish to risk a come-back on the part of their opponents, so kept a lead all through the game that meant certain victory. When referee Boyer blew the last whistle the Canines held the large end of a 25 to 6 score. During the first half they held the Normals to only one free throw while they ran up a score of twelve. Likewise in about the first twelve minutes of the last period they added eleven points to this, and for a while the score stood 23 to 1. Dutch's men relaxed in the last few minutes and Hays made five points in that time.

The team again put up a wonderful defense and forced their opponents to shoot from a distance, which resulted in their only two field baskets, and these were made by the guards. Coach Woodward of the Normal, said that if the M. C. team could play like they did that night it would be worth a game between them and Southwestern on the Hays court. The sportsmanship and good will of the Hays team was very much appreciated by the home boys.

The score follows:

HIGH SCHOOL EASILY WINS FROM JUNCTION CITY

Coach Dean's High School quintet proved their ability to hold the League championship when they won a decisive victory of 36 to 8 over the Highs from Junction City last Saturday evening at the Colloge gym. This was the last game for the locals in the Central Kansas League, and this victory merely raised their percentage, the championship having been already cinched by them.

McPherson made eleven points before the visitors were able to score, and from then on Junction City was able to drop in only four field baskets, while Dean's men continued to pile up the score, and at the end of the half they were leading 21 to 4. Excellent guard work on the part of Crumpacker and Tipton and Showalter's nine field goals were outstanding features in the play of the locals, while inability to make good their few attempts at baskets and poor passing kept down the score of the losers.

In a preliminary the local Junior High nosed out a victory of 14 to 13 from the Juniors of Galva.

Next Thursday evening a chance for a come-back will be given Inman when they meet the McPherson High for the second time this year. This promises to be one of the best games of the season.

BULL DOGS AND WHEAT-SHOCKERS MEET TONIGHT TO DECIDE SECOND PLACE HONORS

M. C. Girls Meet Sterling Sextet Tomorrow Night in Last Home Game.

The Bull Dogs came back from Hays still holding down the second step of the conference standing. But to-night will determine to a large extent who will hold that position at the close of the season. Coach Hoover's quintet of hard fighting Wheatshockers are going to try their best to clinch that place for themselves, but the Bull Dogs are just as determined to win it for M. C. As to dope, it is not very illuminating. Fairmount won from both Bethany and Pittsburg, but the scores in both cases were not as decisive as those in the McPherson games. Again, Sterling lost to Fairmount with a somewhat larger margin than she did to M. C. But all in all, if Gus and Big Crummy go at their usual pace, and if the rest of the team will show us again what they can do, it looks as if the last game at home will just give us a firmer grip on our present conference position.

Because of the game with Fairmount and several attractions at the Opera House this week, the games with the Swedes and Kansas Wesleyans have been changed to next week. Although the contract has not been signed it is expected that Lonborg's Canines will go to Lindborg next Tuesday night, March 7th. On the 9th Dutch takes his quintet to Salina for the last game of the season, that with the Wesleyans. The District High School Basket Ball Tournament is to be held at that time at Salina and this game will be one of the big attractions. A crowd of McPherson people will likely be present to witness both the Bull Dog game and the games in which the local High School will participate.

Tomorrow evening, the 1st, the Sterling sextet of basket throwers plays a return game with our girls at the college gym. Although the Bull Dogettes lost at Sterling, it is expected a different story will result after this game.

My love she flew,
She did me dirt,
I did not know
She werg a flirt,
You not so schooled,
I would you kid,
Be not so fooled
As I was did,
She has gone,
She has went,
She has left I all alone,
Us can never go to she,
She will never come to we.
Alas, alack, so let it be!
