

35 Accept Scholarships

Thirty-five high school seniors have accepted scholarships from McPherson College for a total of $43,800.

The majority of the scholarship recipients took a competitive test here Feb. 12. Interview teams also conducted scholarship tests and interviews in Iowa and Colorado Feb. 2-5.

Winners of scholarships, which range from $2,000 to $400, are determined on the basis of four factors. ACT scores are considered first, along with the student's grade point average in high school and standing in high school are considered.

A personal interview constitutes the third factor, and any other test scores of the student are finally considered.

The six $2,000 scholarship winners are Wayne Bowman, son of Rev. and Mrs. Walter Bowman, Wichita; Sandra Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Fisher, Laklin; Linda Fleischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fleischer, Rocky Ford, Colo.

Sally Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley E. Gibson, Ottawa; Sharla Lash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lash, Pueblo, Colo.; and Craig Little, son of Mrs. Arvada Little, Wichita.

The $1,500 scholarship winners

Students Okay New Constitution

The Student Body ratified the Proposed Constitution Revision of the McPherson College Student Council during elections held last Friday after convocations.

The vote on the constitution saw the majority in favor of the proposal and 27 against. The yes vote was high enough to carry the two-thirds margin necessary to put the constitution into effect.

Ron Cassidente, jr., Denver, Chairman of the Constitution Revision Committee, outlined the main changes and reorganization patterns that are part of the new constitution during assembly before the Student Body voted.

Some of the more important changes include a council organized around four bodies, the Executive branch, or council officers, the Legislative branch, or council representatives, the Judicial branch, or Student Court and council committees.

The new tenure of the council was set from May 1 to May 1 of each new year and several new committees were added to the council organization.

The 1966-67 council began operation under the new constitution last Sunday May 1.

The entire revised constitution will be included in the 1966-67 Growl that all students will receive next year.

Peppy Coeds Make A-String

By Phil Grove

Five "peppy" freshmen girls were elected by the student body during the April 29 assembly to be next year's varsity cheerleaders.

They are Linda Smith, Concordia; Lynda Beavers, Carleton, Neb.; Jody Duffy, Abilene; Connie Dale, Auburn, Wash.; and Priscilla Zigler, Brookville, Ohio.

Linda Smith, a lively blonde majoring in Elementary Education, plans to keep her cheerleading form during the summer by practicing with the high school cheerleaders in her home town. She was a B-team cheerleader this year.

Lynda Beavers, a popular freshman coed who experienced cheerleading during her senior year at Bruning High School, plans to be a music education teacher. She had this to say about her being elected: "I'm really happy, and I'm looking forward to making next year a better year."

Jody Duffy, the talkative young miss from Abilene, said, "I'm really looking forward to next year. I was real thrilled about being elected."

Jody, who was a cheerleader for Chapman High School during her freshman year, was also a

Faculty Holds Dinner

McPherson College faculty will have a dinner in the Church of the Brethren social room, May 6, at 5:45 p.m.

Miss Mildred Siek, professor of home economics, and her Quantity Cookery class are in charge of the meal. Carol Klotz, jr., Fredericksburg, Iowa, will be the student planner for the last dinner the class will prepare this semester.

The dinner will be a Chinese buffet.

B-team cheerleader for Macollege this year. She is majoring in elementary education.

Connie Dale, the West Coast girl who has a special interest in basketball (especially in one of the Macollege starters) is really "on the ball."

Upon hearing that she was elected to be a varsity cheerleader she said, "I can't believe it!" Connie is also an elementary education major and as B-team cheerleader this year.

Last-but not least — is Priscilla Zigler, the spry freshman who is majoring in applied music. She is quite active in music groups on Macollege campus, including the group called the "Grannies."

She was a varsity cheerleader as a junior at Polo High School, Polo, Ill., and was a B-team cheerleader at Macollege this year. Priscilla commented, "I was thrilled to hear that I had been elected."

Monday night the five new cheerleaders met to decide what kind of uniforms they wanted. They were also going to discuss ways of making the pep club more "peppy."

One of the main goals of the new cheerleaders is to familiarize the student body with their new cheers.

The girls are really going to work next year and they expect the help of everyone to back the Macollege teams.

Prom to Feature Hesston Banquet

By Jeanne Williams

"Raindrops and Roses," a banquet at the Colonial House, Hesston; lovely gowns on coeds, and "the Sound of Music" from the Toby Stout Band will mark the evening of May 7, when juniors, seniors, and their guests celebrate the Jr. - Sr. Banquet and Prom.

Departing from tradition juniors and seniors will dine at the Colonial House in Hesston instead of the Student Union cafeteria. Featured speaker for the banquet, which begins at 7:15 p.m. is Robert Wise, McPherson attorney and Macollege graduate.

The Dragonaires, a mixed vocal group from Hutchinson Junior College, will present some light musical selections to the diners.

Reyher Writes Social Satire

Loren D. Reyher, assistant professor of English and theatre, has disclosed the title of the play which he completed recently as "Love in a Public Pool."

The author describes his composition as being a "political, social and religious satire," which contains three acts and is written for a regular proscenium stage.

Basically the plot consists of the attempts of a reincarnated man and woman to make themselves worthy of admittance into heaven.

In addition to these characters are two others: Herbert H. Herbert, Vice-President of the United States, and his witless, "efficient" secretary. A huge, molting eagle adds its silent but meaningful presence as well.

Prof. Reyher, now in the process of rewriting his play, believes the satire with its surprise ending will be readily adaptable to a Community Theatre project, and hopes to produce it about Oct. 1.

Returning to campus from Hesston for the Prom to begin at 9:30 p.m., guests will find the S.U. basement changed to an outdoor rose garden after a summer shower.

Small tables with centerpieces holding tapered candles and roses will be interspersed throughout the "garden." Special lighting effects will create the illusion of refracted raindrops glistening on the dance floor.

Providing dance music for the semi-formal occasion, the Toby Stout Band from Hutchinson will play until 12:00 p.m.

Heading the Banquet - Prom Committee is George Snively, jr., Lebanon, Pa. Planning decorations are Pete Kaiser, jr., Kenosha, Wis., and Kathie Kilbinger, jr., Elizabethtown, Pa.

Roger Schrock, jr., Harmony, Minn., and Barbara Bollinger, jr., Seattle, have been in charge of the Banquet program.

Choir Readies Spring Salute

In salute to a season and to a week of fine arts, the McPherson College A Cappella Choir will present a Spring Festival of Song tomorrow evening, Friday, May 6, at 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

The choir, under the direction of Don Frederick, director of choral organizations and professor of voice, is rounding out its 34th season as a Macollege choral group.

The 43-voice ensemble completed their annual spring tour April 25. The trip, taken through Western Kansas and Colorado, included presentations in both churches and high schools.

Much of the music to be presented in tomorrow's concert was a part of the tour repertoire.

The choir will seek to present a balanced program, drawing from both classic and contemporary as well as light and serious numbers.

J. S. Bach's "All Glory, Laud and Honor" and A. Tenorio's "Adoramus Te, Christe" are included among the classic choral works to be sung.

A grouping of three numbers by Jean Berger will highlight contemporary pieces of a serious nature. Three numbers are "Psalm 150," "The Lord to Me a Shepherd Is" and "Clap Hands, All People."

Lighter selections in the program will be taken from arrangements by Norman Luboff, Van Christy and Kenneth Henderson. The choir will also present a medley of songs from "The Sound of Music."

The 75-minute program will be given in two sections: one in which the choir will be in robes and a second in which they will be attired in evening dress.

Students will be admitted on activity tickets. Remaining admissions will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The Draft Dilemma—

Selective Service Uses 18 Divisions

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of three articles on the Selective Service. Part three will examine implications of the draft for college students.

By Phil Grove

According to the Selective Service Act of 1948, all males at the age of 18 are required to go to their local draft board and register for the Selective Service System.

After registering, a registration certificate and a notice of classification are sent to the registrants. By law, these two cards are to be on the person at all times.

The notice of classification card bears one's selective service number as well as his classification. The registrant is placed by the local board in one of the following classes.

I-A: Available for military service; I-A-O: Conscientious objector available for non-combatant service; I-C: Member of the Armed Forces of the United States, the Coast and Geodetic Survey or the Public Health Service;

I-D: Member of reserve component or student taking military training; I-O: Conscientious objector available for civilian work contributing to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest;

I-S: Student deferred by statute; I-W: Conscientious objector performing civilian work contributing to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest; I-Y: Registrant qualified for military service only in time of war or national emergency;

II-A: Registrant deferred because of civilian occupation (except agriculture); II-C: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation; II-S: Educational deferment (temporary);

III-A: Registrant deferred because of dependents; IV-A: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son; IV-B: Officials deferred by law; IV-C: Aliens; IV-D: Ministers of religion or divinity students;

IV-F: Physically, mentally or morally unfit for military service.

vice; V-A: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

No deferment is permanent. One is required by law to keep his local board informed of any change of status — marriage, completion of education or new address.

Deferments make one liable to the draft until he is 35, but is unlikely that he will be called except in a national emergency.

"Death of Salesman" To Appear on TV

Frederick Composes Music In Addition to Teaching

By Jeanne Williams

Besides directing the A Cappella Choir and teaching all private voice students and Public School Music Methods, Donald R. Frederick, professor of voice and director of choral organizations, finds time to do original composing and arranging.

His interest in musical composition dates from high school days in Indiana, when he first arranged songs for a male vocal quartet that he performed with.

Representative works of his 95+ odd compositions and arrangements include "The Whale," a whale, tall-tale for boys' voices; "House of Prayer," a five-part sacred choral cycle written for the 1964 dedication of a Presbyterian church in Phoenix, Ariz.; and "If You But Knew," a love ballad set to music for mixed chorus.

To date, various music publishers across the nation have

Scapegoat Is Easy Way Out

Scapegoats are an easy "way out" for people with problems that need to be solved.

It seems much easier for most people to point the finger of discrimination, misunderstanding, jealousy and misinformation and yell "It's your fault," than it is for those same people to accept the responsibility for some of the problems in this world and do something about them.

Hitler had the Jews, Nero had the Christians, whites had the "nigger" the Puritans had the witches of Salem and the list goes on and on.

Scapegoats are not lacking here at McPherson College either and the same factors of misunderstanding and misinformation prevail.

The students use the food service, the faculty and the administration; and they in turn can reciprocate.

It is about time that we all took a look at the problems and issues that are most bothersome and pressing to each of us as individuals on this campus, evaluated the situation, sifted out the

Fine Arts Festival Draws To Close Sunday

Although the Fine Arts Festival is rapidly drawing to a close, activities still remain for student and faculty participation.

Dr. Harley Stump, professor of English and head of the department, will lecture tonight on "Trends in Contemporary Literature," on stage in Brown Auditorium, at 7:30 p.m.

Friday's convocations has been termed "an experiment" by Modena Hoover, Jr., Rocky Ford, Colo., chairman of the Fine Arts Festival Committee. The film "Picasso" was seen Tuesday in place of the experiment because of scheduling difficulties, according to Modena.

Directed by Donald R. Frederick, professor of voice and director of choral organizations, the A Cappella Choir will present its spring concert tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

Symposiums will occupy Saturday, May 7, with an art symposium beginning at 10 a.m., a literature symposium beginning at 1:30 p.m. and a music symposium featuring an original composition for woodwinds by Charles Dadisman, sr., McPherson.

In the symposiums, winning entries will be discussed and criticized by student and faculty participants. Winners will be notified before Saturday and are encouraged to attend the symposiums.

Nancy Miller, sr., Rocky Ford, Colo., will present a piano recital Sunday May 8, at 3 p.m. in Brown Auditorium. Following will be a reception in Friendship Hall.

At the reception, Modena Hoover will present awards for outstanding entries in the Fine Arts Festival competition. Awards will be presented for art, ceramics, poetry, short story and drama.

In conjunction with the Fine Arts Festival, McPherson College artists and ceramists are exhibiting their works in Friendship Hall this week.

The paintings include a wide variety of modern art, geometric designs, landscapes and portraits. Oils, water, color and paintings consisting of various textures such as crayons are being shown.

hearsay and prejudice and inspected our own motives before we start looking for the scapegoats that will be our "easy way out."

Who is your scapegoat today? Try understanding the fact that as men, we may all make mistakes or let our emotions rule our reason, and when this happens we look for scapegoats, or, become one ourselves. rbc

Grove Joins Spec As Campus Editor

The Board of Publications has announced the selection of Phil Grove, soph., Laurens, Iowa, as campus editor of The Spectator next semester.

Phil plans to become a newspaper reporter when he graduates from college. Asked why he applied for campus editor, Phil replied, "I believe that working on The Spectator will give me invaluable experience in newspaper work."

As an English major, Phil is very interested in journalism. When he attended Laurens High School, he typed newspaper articles for The Elkhorn, but he was never a reporter.

This year Phil has been reporting for The Spectator and writes an average of 34 inches of copy per week.

As campus editor, Phil will be responsible for assigning all stories and beats for The Spectator. Besides being in charge of all campus news, Phil also is responsible for making sure that all assignments meet the deadline.

Phil will have a chance to take over the duties of campus editor next week in the practice issue of The Spectator.

When the editors of The Spectator put out the practice issue, each member of the staff takes over the duties of the next higher position.

During the practice issue Linda Kurtz, jr., McLouth, will be

Subtle Force Is Apparent In Brubeck

Jazz Impressions of Eurasia, Dave Brubeck

From musical phrases jotted down in countries of Europe and Asia comes the sometimes soft and subtle, sometimes powerful driving force of Brubeck's "Impressions of Eurasia."

The impressions come from the folk tunes of different countries mixed with the jazz idiom, giving a small idea of the countries' musical feel.

As in any musical work, jazz or classical, it is not the theme alone but the treatment and development of that theme which is the heart of the piece.

While on tour in these countries, Brubeck gathered themes and later put the bits and pieces together into choruses and form to make this record.

This record gives the listener a chance to hear the exotic sounds of the east diluted to an enjoyable sound westerners can appreciate.

The Indian musical tradition is much different from ours. It emphasizes intricate rhythms and pure melody without harmony. The ability of Paul Desmond, Joe Morello, Joe Benjamin and Dave Brubeck gives Americans a taste of the other world, the world of Eurasia.

Phil Grove

come editor-in-chief, and Jane Newton, fr., McPherson, will be managing editor. Ron Cassidente, jr., Denver, present editor-in-chief, will not have any responsibilities for the practice issue, May 12.

printed 75 of Prof. Frederick's compositions and arrangements, both sacred and secular for female, male and mixed voices with piano and organ accompaniment, while 20 works are in manuscript.

works from the idea: a poem by Christina Rossetti, a hymn text or his own lyrics, and then expresses it in music. "I give the idea a musical garment," he says.

Admitting that his musical style is not definable, Prof. Frederick comments, "I am a romanticist, liking a free, romantic style with a touch of the modern. I love dissonance and harmonic tone colorations. I rebel against academic formalism."

Prof. Frederick credits his wife Faye as being a great source of encouragement in urging him to follow his creative bent.

He explains, "I will never become rich from the royalties from my published music, but I have a secret hope that in time something more solid and more lasting than a superficial tune will be gained from my work."

P. E. Department Adds Classes, Offers Credit

Half-hour credits, coed classes and additions to the curriculum typify the change in the Physical Education Department for 1966-67.

New courses in the department include Movement Principles and History, Philosophy and Principles of Physical Education.

Movement Principles, which is a Women-only class, will deal with fitness, posture, weight control, and body mechanics such as walking and sitting.

This class will involve some lecturing and is recommended for anyone with physical limitations.

History, Philosophy and Principles of Physical Education, a non-active upper-level course, is recommended for anyone thinking of having a teaching field in physical education.

Archery, Golf and Tennis, all co-educational classes, will be offered during the first half of the semester. Bowling, Badminton and Movement Principles will be available during the latter half.

This arrangement of half semester, mixed classes is being used to give students a wider selection of classes and to enable professors to specialize in various fields of athletics and will also allow a student to take two active sports at the same time.

Courses taught on a nine-week basis will be worth one half-hour of credit, and will be offered only during the first semester. Final grades will be given at the end of each nine-week period.

Structuring of the Physical Education Department for the future calls for the offering of most individual and dual sports every year on a co-ed basis.

Team sports will separate men and women and will be offered on alternate years with co-ed dance classes.

Another mixed class next semester will be folk and square dancing. Although omitted from the pre-enrollment schedule, this class will be offered at 1:30 Tuesdays and Thursdays and will deal with fundamental dance forms including both folk and social.

General Physical Education and Physical Fitness will be offered for men in the traditional fashion. Even though many classes will be offered on a nine-week basis, students should pre-enroll for both periods if they intend to take a full semester of active sports.

Beachell May Secure New Javelin Record

By Jamie Oxley

If Jim Beachell, soph., Princeton, N. J., continues to improve in his specialty of throwing the javelin, before this season is over McPherson College could have a new javelin record.

Already this year Jim has a throw of 193' 2" in his assault on the school record of 199' 11", which was set by Bob Detour two years ago.

Jim bases his hopes on breaking the school record on the fact that he has been so consistent thus far this year. He has not thrown under 185' in a meet yet.

Fortunately for Jim he grew up in a state that allows the javelin in high school competition; many states have outlawed throwing the javelin because of its potential danger.

Also Jim went to high school where the javelin throw was a highly competitive event.

Following the footsteps of his older brother, who earned a full track scholarship to Southern Illinois University for his javelin throwing ability, Jim took up the javelin as a freshman in high school.

As a senior Jim won the all Delaware Valley meet, which featured opponents from 22 different schools, the largest conference in the state. His farthest throw in high school was 190'.

His track coaches and teachers recognized Jim's ability and sportsmanship and awarded him the Jerry Cyprus award as the outstanding athlete in track during 1964. That year he also served as co-captain of the track team.

Other sports Jim participated in during high school were football and wrestling. Through the college admissions center he went to Jim learned of McPherson College and decided to attend school in Kansas.

In his first semester at McPherson, second semester last year, Jim earned a varsity letter, despite having a sore arm and severely cut thumb which held his distance to below 185'.

This year Jim also participated in football, playing quarterback.

With his major in industrial arts Jim hopes to teach after graduation.

Haycock to Assume Virginia Pastorate

Reverend Cecil Haycock recently announced his resignation from the position of Minister of Education at the Church of the Brethren, to assume a pastorate at Luray, Va.

Besides serving a congregation of 250 people, Rev. Haycock will have the opportunity of experimenting in a cooperative leadership training program among churches in the county, an interdenominational venture.

Rev. Haycock, his wife Berchie and their two girls, Gilda, six, and Hope, five, will be leaving McPherson at the end of August.

Netmen Take 5th in Meet, Drop Two in KCAC Play

In their last four matches the Bulldog tennis team lost two to conference foes while defeating another league opponent and taking fifth in the Tabor invitational match.

Competing April 23 at the Tabor invitational, McPherson earned fifth place with a total of eight points. Top point-getter for the Bulldogs was Pete Murray, fr., Bloomfield, Conn. He went to the semi-finals before losing out.

Larry Evans, jr., Lincoln, Neb., won two points by advancing to the finals of the consolation bracket, and Tom Crago, soph., LaVerne, Calif., and Lorea Boughtman, soph., McPherson, won two points by winning a doubles match.

Bethany College won the meet. Sterling dominated the Bulldogs in a match on April 25, winning by a total of 7-2. The only victors for McPherson that afternoon were Loren Boughtman in the number 4 singles, Boughtman and Gary Blackwell, fr., Pawnee Rock, won the number 2 doubles.

In a match held at McPherson April 29 the Bulldogs outscored Ottawa 5-2.

Pete Murray won the no. 1 singles 2-6, 6-1, 6-1. Larry Evans lost 0-6, 4-6. Tom Crago won 6-1, 6-4. Boughtman won 6-2, 6-4. Blackwell also won his no. 5 singles match.

In doubles matches the number one doubles team of Murray and Evans won 8-6, 4-6, 6-3. The number two team, Crago and Boughtman, lost 2-6, 2-6.

Sportscope

By Gene Czaplinski

Golf is a funny game. A conditioned duffer can go out on the most beautiful day of the year and scrabble out a 115.

The next day, through the mud, wind and rain, the same slasher gets lucky and sinks a few putts, to wind up with an 89.

Also to be pitied is the poor guy who makes the greatest chip shot of his life, only to see the ball land on the only pebble on the course and bound 30 feet from the hole.

His partner, the old shark, blades his nine-iron chip and runs it square into the flag stick and down into the hole.

Then there is the fellow who watches the pro on TV swing smoothly at the ball, with all the grace of a ballerina but admits his own swing resembles a drunk throwing bottles in a barroom brawl.

Last of all we have the fellow who brings his wife out to the course for the first time. After an extensive demonstration of the proper grip, proper swing, proper way of yelling "fore" and the proper rules, Wifey coos gently:

"But dear, can't I just walk around with that little goody-foo on my cart and get a tan?" See you next week...

Five Alumni To Receive Citations

McPherson College will honor five alumni at its commencement exercises this May, four with Citations of Merit and the fifth with an honorary law degree.

Elmer B. Staats, recently appointed Comptroller General of the U.S., will be given an honorary L.L.D. Degree during the May 29 ceremonies.

He received a Citation of Merit from the College in 1959.

This year's Citation of Merit winners are Erwin J. H. Bentz, Washington, Ill., division manager of diesel engine components and structures in the research department of the Caterpillar Tractor Co.;

A. R. Lauer, Santa Monica, Calif., retired professor of psychology and director of the Driving Laboratory, Iowa State University;

John Maxcy, Daytona Beach, Fla., retired chairman of the department of health and physical education, State University College, Potsdam, N. Y.;

J. C. Russell, Lincoln, Neb., retired professor of agronomy at the University of Nebraska.

IBM Process To Be Used By Registrar

Automation will be coming to McPherson College campus next fall in the form of key punch and IBM facilities in the registrar's office.

Dean Reynolds, registrar, stated the college is considering several types of IBM computer programs in connection with the recording of grades. Under the IBM system, professors will record students' grades in pencil on special computer cards.

The registrar's office will then feed the cards to an IBM machine, and the students' grades and grade point averages will be tallied.

During pre-enrollment students would have to fill out a special application for admission form. The information from this form will then be transferred to a master card to be kept in the registrar's office.

One of the biggest advantages of a computer grade card system is that it will be both a time and labor saving device, according to Reynolds.

Instead of receiving grade cards two weeks after final or mid-semester exams, students will receive their grades within a week after tests.

Not only will students know their grades, but their standing and grade point average will be calculated automatically.

Players Club Plans Picnic, Alpha Psi Adds Members

A picnic for members of the McPherson College Players Club and Alpha Psi Omega to be held Sunday May 15 at Pete's Puddle will round out a year of drama activities at McPherson College.

A joint meeting of both organizations will be held Tuesday May 10 at 8:30 p.m. after laboratory theatre, and plans will be made for the picnic and officers for next year's Players Club will be nominated.

Alpha Psi Omega, a nationwide dramatics fraternity with a cast at McPherson College, held initiation of new members last night at 8 p.m.

The four initiates were Merv Penner, Jr., Olathe; Bill Lawrence, soph., Manassas, Va.; Linda Kurtz, Jr., McLouth; and Pat Greenway, soph., Indianapolis.

The initiates were required to recite the Greek alphabet from memory along with twenty-five lines from one of William Shakespeares works, and a memorized portion of one other play. Old cast members put the initiates through other tests to prove their qualifications for joining Alpha Psi.

To become eligible for an invitation to join Alpha Psi at McPherson College, a student interested in Drama must attain a minimum number of points earned for working in drama.

A minimum of 20 acting points and 10 production points or 20 production and 10 acting points are needed. Students may earn points in all productions with 6 points being the maximum attainable from one production, given to lead actors or head lightmen, technicians, or stage managers.

To become a member of Player's Club, a student need only have an interest in dramatics. Any one who has performed on the stage at McPherson is considered a member of the Players Club.

At the picnic to be held May 15, the new Players Club officers will be elected.
