Elected Officers Take Over Work
Of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.
For Coming Year

DR. KURTZ IN CHARGE

Frank Barton and Rhea Fast Gave
Pleasing Solos At Opening
And Close of Program

A most impressive installation service of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets for the coming year was held in Chapel Wednesday morning with Dr. Kurtz presiding, and with the members of the new cabinets seated on the platform.

A vocal solo was rendered in a pleasing manner by Frank Barton, after which Dr. Kurtz gave an address inspiring those upon whom the responsibility of leadership of these two organizations will be given next year. He also gave a challenge to all the members to do their share of service and to be willing to co-operate with their chosen leaders.

Offices Entail Many Duties
While it is considered an honor to be given the privilege of leadership in such organizations, it entails a great many duties and requires much of time and service. These should be given in such a way as only belief in, and love for one's work can make them possible to be rendered.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are international associations of great repute which they have gained through their own good merits and service, and shall be supported.

Dr. Kurtz Took Vows
At the close of his address, Dr. Kurtz, turning to the members of the cabinets, received the vows of all that in the coming year they would strive to do their best in the tasks they are given.

The program was brought to a close by a vocal solo, "My Task," sung by Rhea Fast, which was a most appropriate selection for this occasion and which contributed greatly in inspiring the new cabinets to take up their work with much zeal.

Venerable Stars Of Olden Days Will Meet Youth

Occasionally in a life time we have the opportunity to witness an event the memory of which we treasure the rest of our lives. Just such an event will take place in the local gymnasium tonight.

You often hear your father tell about the things he did as a boy. You often hear people bemoaning the fact that times are not what they used to be. Ah! for the good old days! We, the younger generation—always resent these remarks and try to think of some suitable proof that "the have been" are merely boasting and that we really are doing things now.

This refers, of course to the good old days when basketball was played by these old timers. Such aged men as Sanger Crumacker, Leonard Crumacker, Christian, Floyd Mishler and Rudolph Uhrhau, old as they are, still pretend that they have a basketball team that is invincible. Now it is very foolhardy for a youth to boast of his own prowess, but we, the present generation, feel that we have a team in our midst that can even stand up to the old court mandates that have been named. The Bulldogs tangle with the Whiz Bangs tonight. Come and see what happens.

Admission will be twenty-five cents, and the proceeds will be used to aid the Athletic Association in getting out of debt, as a small deficit is standing on the books.

MEDALS FOR SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL FESTIVAL HERE

Plans for the third Annual High School Senior Festival of McPherson College, to be held here April 12, are rapidly being completed. Ray S. Waggoner has just received from Kansas City the medals that are to be awarded to the successful contestants in the different athletic events. These medals have a distinctive design, presenting a full face view of McPherson College's bulldog. A medal of gold will be presented to the athlete who places first in each event, and one of silver to the athlete who places second. The name of the event is placed on the back of each medal.

HORNER LECTURE POSTPONED

Due to the sudden illness of Mr. Horner the lecture which was to have been given at the Opera House Friday night has been postponed indefinitely. Announcement will be made of the new date so soon as it is determined.

DRAMATIC CLASS WILL STAGE PLAY WEDNESDAY

"THE LOST PARADISE" WILL BE GIVEN AT OPERA HOUSE
TOMORROW

McPherson College students and those interested in dramatic production cannot afford to miss the staging of "The Lost Paradise" by members of the dramatic art class, at the Opera House, March 12. The cast for this great three-act drama includes the best talent of the college, and under the capable direction of Miss Anderson, the presentation is certain to be successful and interesting.

Touches On Real Problem

The drama was written in German by Ludwig Fulda and translated by Henry C. Demille. The theme centers around the ethics of modern commercialism. It is one of the few interesting plays that treat a great and modern theme in a broad and earnest way. It is a struggle between labor and capital. "The Lost Paradise" to which the foreman of the Knowlton Iron Works alludes in the play, is the peace and happiness of lazy people who are content to look on at the storm and stress of serious life. Reuben Warner prefers to mangle in the fight, to advance the cause of his fellow working men and live for justice. He is rewarded by the hand of Margaret Knowlton, his master's daughter, but, above all he has the joy of knowing he has helped the many wretched men and women in the Works to gain an honest wage.

Activity Ticket Admits

Admission will be 75c, 50c, and 35c. Students holding activity tickets will be given admission to 35c and 50c seats, but will be asked to pay the difference for the higher priced seats. The performance will start promptly at 8:15. It is sure to be one of the most interesting entertainments of the year. All those who possibly can attend this dramatic production are certain to have an enjoyable evening as well as an instructive one.

Curiosity

Little Willie had been hearing his father rave about his new car and its ability to take the steepest hills. At the Sunday supper table he suddenly dumfounded his parents by demanding, "Pa, does the Lord Almighty own a Dash Six, too?" "Great Scott! No son—why?" "Well, at Sunday school we had a hymn that went, 'If I love Him when I die, He will take me home on high.'"

Boll Weevil

"My good fellow, how do you happen to be lying in the gutter?"

"Ball ri, brother, I jus' shaw two lamp-posts and leaned against the wrong one."

ACADEMY TAKES THIRD DEBATE CHAMPIONSHIP BY WINNING SIX VOTES

Teams Score Eleven Out of a Possible
Twelve Decisions In Two
Encounters

NEGATIVE WINS CLOSE DECISION

Baker and Lehman Perform Exceptionally Well at Bethel; Excel In Rebuttals

By taking six decisions in the two debates last Thursday night, the Academy team gained the championship of the league with a score of eleven of a possible twelve decisions, making their third consecutive championship.

Miss Brubaker and Mr. Spohn, the negative, met Mr. Tetter and Mr. Schelenberger, of Tabor, here in a close debate, which was won by the negative rebuttal. The negative, under handicaps of slight lapses of memory in main speeches, turned the tide by analyzing and comprehensively refuting the contentions of the affirmative, and were given small, though uniform, margins by all judges. The judges here were Professor Martin J. Holcomb, debate coach; and Mr. Walter Ostenberg and Mr. Clifford Swenson, college debaters, from Bethany.

According to margins in judges grades the Bethel debate was not so close. Baker did exceptionally well, and Lehman was graded as high as 96 per cent. McPherson's debaters excelled in main speeches and more in rebuttal. The judges at Bethel were Professor Teale, debate coach; and Professors Baldwin and Mills, all of Friends.

Next Lyceum Number To Be Given Monday

Professor Ira Hilton Jones, Author
and Scientist, Will Compare
Science And Religion

Professor Ira Hilton Jones, Ph. D., the well-known author and scientist, will be here March 17, to give the next number of the Lyceum Course. He promises to furnish one of the most interesting and instructive programs of the entire year.

Dr. Jones is a man of world wide reputation, being a member of many learned societies of scientists and a research worker of marked ability. He was popular in a late chautauqua engagement with the Redpath-Horner management.

Will Illustrate Scientific Facts

Although Dr. Jones carries a complete electrical equipment to illustrate scientific truths, he is by no means merely a demonstrator. The lecture which accompanies is a veritable masterpiece, showing in a wonderful way how the basic laws of science conform to the basic principles of true religion.

The coming of Dr. Jones is looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation.

MADE PLANS FOR ELECTIONS

The spring elections will be held the first and third weeks in April, with the Spectator and Quadrangle editors and business managers chosen first. The Student Council president and treasurer, and the cheer leaders will be chosen in the last election. Provided enough candidates are run, there will be a primary election. The petition form will be used, a minimum of fifty names being necessary to nominate a candidate. However, each class will present a man and lady cheer leader, who will try out before the students.

Can Youth triumph over experience? See the Whiz Bangs and Bulldogs tangle.

"The Lost Paradise" is an all-school event.

JUNIORS TO STAGE "A PAIR OF SIXES"

The Junior Class play was chosen last Wednesday at a special meeting. Several plays were presented by the committee, but the decision of the Class to give "A Pair of Sixes" was practically unanimous. This is a three-act comedy, with a cast of twelve characters, well adapted to staging in the gymnasium. The Class has been fortunate in securing Miss Alma Anderson to coach the play. The tryout will be held Friday afternoon at three-thirty in the Chapel.

SPILMAN WINS PRIZE

Vivian Spilman recently gained considerable note as the winner in a prize contest held by the Science and Invention magazine for the purpose of getting the best scientific explanation of the so-called "psychic motor." Mr. Spilman was awarded the first prize of twenty dollars out of several hundred competitors. His article appears in the current issue of Science and Invention.

ALL STUDENT TICKET IS PASSED BY S. COUNCIL

BOARD OF TRUSTEES ALSO VOTES TO ACCEPT THE
TITUTION OF THE STUDENTS

The student activity ticket will, beginning with enrolment next fall, be the property of every student, and will be paid for as part of the incidental fee. This action was passed by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, and accepted by the Student Council Saturday morning.

Ticket Reduced to $5.00

By this plan the ticket will be reduced from $6.00 to $5.00 for college students, and to $4.00 for academy students, making the incidental fee for the college student $7.50 a semester, $2.50 being used for the ticket. A new ticket will be issued for the second semester. This gives the Student Council several hundred more dollars to give, not more, but better numbers on the ticket.

Plan Is Favored By Students

The plan, so universal in other colleges, has had a hard struggle in being adopted here. It has been discussed by the Council for at least five years, and student votes were taken the last two years, which resulted in a great majority for the ticket paid for on enrolment. Not until this year, however, did the Trustees feel its importance.

STUDENT RECITAL GIVEN BY FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT

The student recital given Monday, March 3, proved the drawing strength of the department of fine arts. Every number was of superior merit and the renditions were of highest order without exception. These recitals are of the utmost value to the music student as well as to the student at large. For the music student it offers an opportunity for practical self-expression before an audience and for the advantage of comparison of various methods and achievements of his class mates. For the general student of liberal arts it offers an opportunity of hearing and becoming acquainted with the best in music and expression. No one should miss these public recitals regardless of his turn of mind. Many schools make attendance at public recitals obligatory to students of fine arts.

Prize Story

Professor Yoder tells this one on Dr. Harnly. The traditionally absent minded professor, personified in Dr. Harnly, picked up his milk pail and lantern and betook himself to the farm for the purpose of extracting the lactical fluid from the family bovine. Carefully placing the pail in the corner, he set the lantern under the cow and proceeded to milk.

DOUBLE SCORE ON WESLEYANS

Strickler and Tipton, Regular Guards,
Were Missing in the Two Previous Games

The McPherson College Bulldogs finished their conference basketball season in fine style last week, winning two games and dropping one, the Swedes winning on the McPherson court 20 - 14, and losing on their home court 23 - 22. Wednesday night they defeated the Coyote five 26 - 13 at Salina.

First Victory In Three Years

The Bulldogs were defeated by the Terrible Swedes for the first time in three years, when they lost the first of the two games last week. Tipton and Strickler, due to injuries received in the Hays game, were missing from the line-up. Eakes and Mast filled the hole left by these regular guards, both playing well.

Trans Tie In Second Half

McPherson, by scoring at the tip-off and following this by another basket, obtained a four point lead. The Swedes came back with a flashy offense, broke down the Bulldogs' lead and established one of their own. The score at the end of the half was 13 - 7. Determination was written boldly on the faces of the Bulldogs as they came back for the second period and this determination would have carried them to victory had they not been unfortunate in their goal shooting, inasmuch as they obtained twice as many shots as the Swedes. Both teams scored seven points in the second half. The final score, 20 - 14 is one of the lowest of the entire season and speaks well for the guards.

McPherson-Wesleyan

Wednesday night the Canines invaded the Coyotes court, carrying off a 26 - 13 victory. They were still crippled from the loss of the two guards, but this made the victory the more outstanding. Mast teaming with

Valiant Knight Is Second John Alden-In Effect

A certain Valiant Knight, having as his guest a Gallant from another castle, and desiring for this guest congenial companionship on the morrow eve, goeth straightway to the Castle of the Amazons, and on the trumpet which hangeth from the door of the castle he windeth right lustily a secret blast, intended to call forth one maiden and no other. Now this damsel hearing it but being filled with misgivings, sendeth instead a friend to find who calls, who, having told him, "She is not ready", returneth to report. Then met the Amazons in high council, knowing not that the knight came to ask not for himself, but for another, not for that eve, but for the next. For the damsel feared to establish a bad precedent, therefore did the council consider well. Now the decision of the council, and hence the status of the Valiant Knight, though not hid from the knowledge of Ye Scribe, is of small purport; suffice it to say that for the morrow eve her time was promised.

Oh, the fatality and time wastefulness of executive conferences!

Now a council member supposing that it would spread no further, told this matter to a friend; this friend told the Valiant Knight, supposing he would tell no one; the Valiant Knight told Ye Scribe under the same conditions, and Ye Scribe telleth you, Gentle Reader, trusting and believing that it can spread no further.

ANOTHER CHANGE

With this issue of the Spectator we again announce a change in the organization of the staff. News will be reported directly to the editor, who takes charge of the work of the news editor.

It is also necessary that we express, in this column, our thanks for the assistance given by Laura McGaffey in gathering and editing the news for the Spectator during the basketball season. The work has been accomplished with natural competence on the one hand, and absolute confidence on the part of those ultimately responsible.

Society can bear up under the strain of a few geniuses who have never learned the lessons of self control, but these few practically exhaust its patience. Hagley.

PUBLISH CLASS PAPERS

"Mirrors of '22," and "Memories of '23," the annual publication of the classes that have graduated from M. C. the past two years, have recently reached the members of the respective classes. Orville Pote, A. B. '23, and Emery Wine, A. B. '22, editors of the two papers, are to be congratulated for their success.

Both publications are full of interesting accounts of activities of the members of the classes, with the work and responsibilities of each member receiving special attention. More lengthy accounts of special trips and unusual experiences add much to the interest of the papers.

"Memories of '23" is the larger of the two publications, being the same size as the Spectator, while "Mirrors of '22" is a four column, four page paper. Mr. Wine and Mr. Pote have been successful in their purpose—of "keeping aflame the pleasant memories and close friendships established at M. C."

THE OMNIBUS EDITOR

He knows more than he tells, and he knows it before anyone else. (Don't blame the newspapers for not telling the truth, you wouldn't wish it all told.)

He is besought by some to keep their names out of print, and by others to put their names in print. Human nature varies, and the editor is both amused and affected with another sort of emotion.

Those innocents! He knows them all, it's a fact, I Spec See, Observer, and Observer. While the ignorant lady is gnashing their teeth in rage, he goes calmly on, telling no secrets, and acquiring more.

GAVE CONCERT AT GALVA

The McPherson College Music Club gave a secular concert in Galva Thursday evening of last week. The program was made unique by the rendition of various folk song groups. The solo groups by Mrs. Gaw and Herkle Wampler, who substituted for Mr. Carl Freeburg, were well received. Judging from the splendid support and favorable comment the audience was well pleased with the performance. The success of the evening was largely due to the untiring efforts of Professor Gaw.

S. C. TAKES ACTION ON SUPERFLUOUS ACTIVITIES

Since the feeling is so prevalent that there are altogether too many activities for the good of the college, the Student Council appointed a committee, who, together with a committee from the faculty, will go over the budget and definitely reduce and limit the number of activities of each department. This decision will undoubtedly receive the approval of the students.

OFFERS $500 PRIZE.

The Poet's Guild of New York City announces a contest for the selection of a May Day poem. To the one who, in the form of poetry, most adequately expresses the idea of glorious childhood typified by spring time a prize of $500 will be given. Those interested can receive the details of this contest from Miss Edith McGaffey.

DECLARES PHYSICAL LIFE OF PARAMOUNT IMPORTANCE

An unusual treat was given those who attended Chapel last Monday when they were privileged to hear Dr. John Brown, Jr., international director of the physical department of the Y. M. C. A., in a short earnest talk on the care of the body and the relation of the health to personal development.

"It is just as much a sin to do those things which fail to build you up as it is to do those things which break you down," he declared in the course of his address. He emphasized the necessity for keeping the body fit because it is the instrument through which one expresses himself and through which God does His work in the world.

Dr. Brown deplored the present college social life and the tendency toward professionalism in athletics which is marked in many schools of the Middle West.

COLLECTION OF FOREIGN COINS ADDED TO MUSEUM

Another case has been added to the museum, containing a collection of foreign money purchased by Dr. Kurtz from C. H. Warkentire, a refugee from Russia. There is Russian, German, Austrian, Polish, and Mexican money in this collection. The printed money is especially interesting because it is so different from money used in U. S. Besides notes printed on paper, some are printed on cloth edged with silk braid, some are printed on silk, and others on fine leather. In addition there are some silver and copper coins. In the same case are also some coins and a German note presented by Dr. Craik, and some Canadian coins presented by Mrs. S. E. Delf.

MARRIED MEN WIN

The College Debate Club met in its usual bi-weekly program Wednesday, March 5. The subject for debate was Resolved, That bachelors are more useful to society than married men. The affirmative, supported by Horner Eby and Paul Lents, lost to the negative which was supported by Harriett Mohler and Naomi Mohler. The debate was helpful and instructive and was full of humor. There was a larger audience than usual, which is in itself evidence that the debate was worth while and that many were interested in the question.

The next meeting of the Club will be held March 19, the subject for debate being Resolved, That the states of the United States should use the one house form of government. This question is certain to be interesting. All are welcome to attend.

The Dance of Life by Havelock Ellis of whom H. L. Mencken says, "Havelock Ellis is undoubtedly the most civilized Englishman."

Life is an art, and although it is difficult for man to conceive of it as an art in reality he acts it as such. Architecture is the beginning of all the arts that lie outside the human person; and in the end they unite. Music, acting, and poetry proceed in the one mighty stream; sculpture, painting, and all the arts of design in the other. Our present day dancing is degenerate. By dancing the author means even work is a degree of dancing.

The philosopher is essentially an artist. The scientist, contrary to common belief, is an artist of the highest type. What difference whether a man moulds his conceptions with his mind or with his hands. A philosophical conception of the universe is a thing of beauty, a masterpiece of art. Also in writing, the writer uses words and phrases as the painter uses pigments. Our best loved nature poets gain their beauty of form not through a careful study of nature but through an artistic selection of words.

The supposed antithesis of religion to science is a fiction. They both develop from the same fundamental instincts. The aim of religion is the unity of the Self with the Not Self. But a religious man is not necessarily a moral man. In fact morality itself exists as a separate art; therefore, it is idle to talk of the morality of art. To the masses morality means custom. In this form morality is not an art but to those who adventure into the great expanses of life and formulate morals for the masses morality is an art.

Thus every aspect of life is raised to an art. Science, religion, morals, all converge into the one great stream of life. By gaining the aesthetic view of life one gains the secret to life. On the seventh day God rested and viewed the results of his six days of artistic creation. The first six days represented art, the seventh aestheticism. Our civilization is tending towards ruin due to the influence of the acquisitive impulse. Only by developing the aesthetic sense whereby one enjoys without possessing may civilization be saved.

Havelock Ellis has an intimate knowledge of all the philosophers from Greece to the present day. Those referred to most often are Aristotle, Hans Vaihinger, and Jules De Gaultier. All life is an art and thus creative, but to enjoy, it is not necessary to possess. Thus the goal of life is art and aestheticism.

The End

The last chance to see the Bulldogs perform this year. Come to the gym tonight.

See M. C.'s extraordinary dramatic talent in "The Lost Paradise."

HIGH POINTS OF SWEDISH GAME

Such a game as the Bulldogs played against the Swedes at Lindsborg when they covered themselves with glory by winning a hotly contested engagement by the small margin of 23-22; cannot well go unmentioned.

It was a battle from first 'til last with neither team much in the lead at any time. The Bulldog defense was outstanding and much of the credit for the victory must go to our scoring guards, Captain Strickler and Mast both of whom scored two field goals.

The score between halves stood 13-12 for Bethany and during the second half advanced almost evenly with the Swedes usually in the lead. The Bulldogs had 19, the Swedes 18 when Bethany "managed" a couple of baskets and the score stood 19-22 for the Swedes. Then Mast heaved a nice goal; two minutes to play; score 21-23, for Swedes; Mast tossed the prettiest basket of the game, score 23-22 which was final. A few passes and then the gun.

Hill and Holloway played very consistent ball at forward, showing lots of scrap. Sargent played the pivot position well and saved several shots from making counts but had hard luck at scoring himself. Strickler, injured as he was with a sprained ankle played a brilliant game. These two lads have probably played their last for McPherson as they both graduate along with Daggett. The College owes them its gratitude.

The Miahler crew of cagers showed up well this season. The final standing is at the half way mark, not bad at all, as it took the players and coach a while to get used to each other. Great things are predicted for M. C. athletics next year.

Who's Who in M. C.

Elder E. F. Sherfy, member of the College Senior Class and instructor in the Bible department of the Academy, is an active worker in Mission Board, pastoral, and evangelistic work, as well as a forceful writer for the Gospel Messenger. A passion for learning has led Mr. Sherfy to overcome many handicaps in order to secure an education. He has spent his summers doing intensive evangelistic work and his winters going to school, while at the same time working as a pastor in the Ramona congregation and later in the Monitor Church. In May, 1919, he took the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Literature from McPherson College.

Children's sermons and snappy articles for the Church paper are his delight. During his pastoral work and revival meetings, of which he has held over forty in half a dozen different states, he has made it a rule to have some kind of a message for the children before the regular sermon.

A recent letter to Mr. Sherfy from Dr. Edward Prantz, editor of the Gospel Messenger, asks for more of his articles to live on the paper. Some of his themes that have been published are "Our Big Problem Now," "Advertising," "Plowing in the Cold," "The Preacher's One Horse Shay," and "Holy Wit." Mr. Sherfy is a ready speaker and a logical thinker who is sincerely devoted to the Church and her work. The Seniors are to be congratulated for having such a successful worker in their midst.

Professor Hess and Dr. Craik are two of the three judges who are judging six orations to be given at an intramural contest at Bethany College, March 19, under the supervision of Professor Holcomb, head of the English department and debate coach at Bethany.

The orations, dealing with the problem of transportation, are now being judged as to thought and composition, and will be given grades and ranking. At the contest the same judges will judge the orations on delivery.

In two six week terms.

The Rocky Mountain Summer School offers a chance for a real vacation while studying. Located on the divide of the Arkansas Plateau, away from the heat of summer and in the midst of Colorado's finest scenery, it is the ideal vacation spot. The place offers splendid opportunity for the study of birds, geology, and so on, and as a point of departure for excursionists gives access to all points of interest. The faculty will be stronger than ever previously, and six hours credit a term may be earned.

For bulletin and further information see Professor Ebel or Professor Nininger. The bulletin, which is just off the press, gives pictures of students and scenery, and information concerning the faculty, place, courses offered, excursions, and expenses.

"M" CLUB STARTS DRIVE FOR AN ATHLETIC FIELD

PLANS HAVE BEEN MADE FOR RAISING FUNDS THIS SPRING

At its monthly business meeting Monday evening and a special meeting Thursday evening called by the president, the "M" Club decided on some extensive plans that will mean better athletics in M. C.

The big derby is now on, and the field for M. C. awaits all the local financial and physical supporters of their Alma Mater. The plan of the campaign was outlined in Chapel this morning, and as the race goes on, the standing of the teams and progress of the work on the field will be announced from these columns. Since the alumni are so loyal in boosting this big enterprise, the "M" Club is hoping that the students and friends of the school will also respond liberally, although no systematic canvass of them will be made. Sanger Crum-packer was elected to have charge of the bulletin boards, and Earl Morris was made reporter to the Spectator.

It was also decided that the "M" Club should elect M. C.'s all-around athlete, whose name is to be engraved on a bronze shield in the trophy case. It is also probable that the Student Council will recognize him with a medal of some sort.

TAMPA GIRLS ARE EASILY DEFEATED BY CHICS HERE

The McPherson College Chics decisively defeated the Tampa Girls Athletic Club 24 - 11 last Wednesday night. The Tampa girls came as an undefeated team, but they were not strong enough to defeat the fast College team. The Chics experienced little difficulty in completely outplaying the Tampa sextet. The Tampa offense was completely frustrated, which decided the issue early in the game. The Chics got off with an early lead, the half ending 10 - 1. The second half was more even, the Chics making 14 to their opponents 10 points. The Tampa girls were at a disadvantage, being used to a loose enforcement of rules.

Chics (24)	Tampa (11)
Edgecomb, f.	Shehan, f.
Harden, f.	Budley M. f.
Hammann, c.	Pugh, c.
Vogt, c.	Klaier, c.
Ring, g.	Medley, g.
Shirk, g.	Costello, g.
Long, c.
Davis, c.

The scoring was as follows: Edgecomb, 11; Harden, 12; Shehan, 5; Medley, 6.

Ernest Tipton is a McPherson High School athlete who has contributed much to the Bulldogs basketball teams. "Tippie" played in a number of games last year, and this season has been awarded a letter, although injuries kept him from a number of contests. He plays a guard position, and aside from being a good defensive man, has an eye for the basket. In the Pittsburg game he brought his team from behind with two long-distance shots. He has two more years to give to M. C.

Two McPherson Stars Place on Honor List

Strickler Gets Berth On Second Team as Captain, and Hill Makes Honor List

On the mythical all-state teams that were chosen the past week by the conference coaches, Dale Strickler was placed on the second team with the additional honor as captain, and Cleo Hill was given a place on the honor list. In commenting on the teams Leslie Edmonds, sport writer for the Topeka Capital, says:

"There isn't any great difference between team One and team Two. Strickler of McPherson College was all-state last year when his team finished second. He appeared to be as good this year as then but the votes didn't come his way."

On team Two with Strickler we find such players as Gardner of Southwestern and Woods of Fairmount, exceptionally good players, who had their team placed higher would have found a place on the first crew. Hill, McPherson, forward, received an honorable mention. It is felt that he well deserves this. Hill, with a total of 65 field goals, was high point man for the Bulldogs.

McPherson should extend her hearty congratulations to these men. However the playing and record of our other men also deserves praise. Sl Sargent and Daggett as well as Duke have played their last year for old M. C. and will be badly missed from the line-up next year. The following is a personal record of each man.

	FG.	FT.	F.	G.
Strickler (capt.)	15	8	12	15
Hill	65	13	17	16
Sargent	36	18	15	17
Daggett	6	3	9	8
Eakes	14	4	7	14
Holloway	4	3	4	6
Mast	3	0	3	7
Ellwood	5	2	3	7
Tipton	6	3	9	8
Total	154	54	79	98

VICTORY OVER SWEDES ENDS SEASON WITH AN EVEN BREAK IN GAMES (Continued from Page 1)

Eakes at guard, passed, dribbled, and shot in fine style, and appeared to be at home in a red and white uniform. Sl Sargent's playing also featured, and the lanky center, was high point man with 10 points to his credit.

Held Lead Entire Game

The Mackmen led throughout the game, holding a 14 - 7 lead by the end of the first half. The Coyotes found it useless to try to solve the Bulldogs defense, while theirs in turn was penetrated almost at will.

McPherson-Bethany

The final game, at Lindsborg proved to be one of the most thrilling contests of the season, holding the spectators in breathless suspense until the final whistle. The game was hard fought every inch of the way, the score see-sawing back and forth, now one team leading and then the other. The defensive play of Strickler and Mast featured in the contest, the Bulldog captain going into the game after the termination of the first quarter.

Score Close All The Way

The score advanced more slowly in the second period, standing at 19 - 18 in favor of the Bulldogs with about seven minutes to go. The Swedes put through two counters in rapid succession, which gave them a lead of three points, and it seemed as if this would bring them victory. But soon the Bulldogs secured one counter, and finally with about a minute to go, Mast dropped in a ringer from the central precinct of the court, which after a little stalling, gave the Bulldogs the victory.
