Score

Gr-r-r fight. Gr-r-r fight! fight! These and many similar exclamations came from the Canines as they were whipped into submission by the Hays Tigers last Monday and Tuesday evenings on the large Tiger court. The first evening's play was ragged for both teams and the Teachers were able to win by the small margin of a 26-25 score. The second game was won by a spurt on the part of the Tigers in the last two minutes of play. This score was 27-22. The game with Friends University Friday evening on the local court was a genuine fight and every minute showed some real basketball. The annexation of this game with the score of 45-37 for the Bulldogs put them in the 400 column of conference standing.

The large crowd did not seem to be the difficulty in the Hays games for Mishler's lineup didn't seem to be able to break up the set-up shots obtained so often by the Teacher offense. Neither team was showing exceptional form, either in teamwork or scoring, but time after time Lober easily got free and tossed in a nice one. Showalter and Groves rivaled for honors in these games but Groves got a few more points than "Show". In the last game the first five minutes found the score 12-3 in favor of the Bulldogs but about that time Hays rallied and within two minutes of the final gun the score was tied at 22. "Show" was then taken out and Hill took his place but Hill was cold and with no time to show his speed made many errors and the score mounted to the final 27-22.

WHITENECK'S ORATION GIVEN FIRST PLACE

Will Represent M. C. in State Anti-Tobacco Oratorical Contest
March 18

To a freshman belongs the honor. To John Whiteneck, whose oration, "The God of Destruction", won first place in the local Anti-Tobacco oratorical contest held Tuesday night, goes the honor of representing M. C. in the state oratorical contest to be held March 18 under the auspices of the Kansas Anti-Tobacco Association.

W. T. Luokett's oration, "The Uncontested God", won second place and Horner Eby with his oration, "The Sinner God", took third place. The three orations showed careful preparation and were ably presented. The judges gave each of the three high grades, both in thought and composition and in delivery.

Judges of the contest were: the Rev. Lawrence Ashley, pastor of the Christian Church of McPherson; the Rev. John R. Pennington, pastor of the Baptist Church of McPherson; and Miss Hattie Heckethorn, County Superintendent of Public Instruction.

MEN'S TOURNEY IN PROGRESS

The intramural tournament got well under way last week when three good teams bit the dust and three others were exalted to fame among their fellows. The Izzie-S. I. F. game Monday evening was the biggest thrill thus far in the tournament. At the end of forty minutes' play the score stood 25-25 and in the extra five minutes the S. I. F. took an extra goal which advanced them to 1000 per cent. Due to the varsity game Friday evening, two games were played Wednesday evening. The first between the I. O. N. A. P. and the Academy was rather one-sided and neither team was hitting good. This score was 26-6 for the I. O. N. A. P. The last one was similar to the Monday game in that it was also tied at the end of the regular period. In the extra time the Izzies came out of the kinks and spurred ahead of the Rinkylinks to finish with the long end of the 25-30 score.

VERBAL AMMUNITION FOR BETHANY SWEDS STORED BY DEBATERS

Traditional Rivals Will Clash Friday

"JACK" LEHMAN IS OUT

Illness Prevents His Taking Part; Mildred Libby Will Substitute

Day by day verbal ammunition is being stored, which will on February 20, at eight p. m., be loosed in such a barrage that there need be little doubt, that the Bethany Swedes' Debate Team will be vanquished. Debate Coach Maurice A. Hess is optimistic over the progress already made in the gathering of material and practice in speaking by his proteges.

Kenneth M. Rock and Mildred Libby will uphold the affirmative side at McPherson, while the negative will be upheld at Bethany by Harvey Lehman and Harry Lehman. Miss Libby will take the place of John Lehman who on account of ill health will be unable to debate. The question for debate is, Resolved, that Congress by a two-thirds vote of each house should have the power to overrule a decision of the Supreme Court declaring a Federal Law unconstitutional.

Rock Only College Veteran

Kenneth M. Rock is the only veteran on the McPherson team. He was an outstanding figure on the college team last year and with that experience will be a power for the affirmative that any opponent may

WHY FLAPPERS FLAP

She liked him—but she turned him down—because it has been said that Love and Learning are flat to fist, and Young Romance is Blind to Reason. "No, Big Boy," she sighed, "we've had two dates—and if we have another—folks will think we're in love!" So she had a date with Another Boy—and the Public smiled approvingly—and said that she was acquiring a wide acquaintance. She was. The intellectual ones declared that in the due course of time—she would have a large field of gentlemen friends—from which to choose a mate. So she shook hands with herself and resolved to win a new one every day. But now the Public calls her a flapper—and says she'll go with anyone—once. And it's the truth. But, folks, it wasn't Youthful Folly that made a flapper out of her—it was Public Opinion.—It Often Turns Out Just That Way. W. J.

SCHOLARSHIP HONORS AWARDED BY FACULTY

Laura McGaffey Is Fellow to K. U.; Margaret Dresher Wins Academy Scholarship

Laura McGaffey was awarded this year's fellowship to Kansas University Friday morning by the faculty in preference to five other applicants for the position because of her excellence in scholarship and general character. This fellowship, which is granted each year to one senior from each of the eleven denominational schools in Kansas, consists of a gift from the University of Kansas of $400 for expenses for one year's attendance at that school.

Miss McGaffey entered M. C. three years ago, and since then has held the positions of associate editor of the Spectator and the Quadrangle in 1923 and news editor of the Spectator and editor-in-chief of the Quadrangle in 1924. She is now editor-in-chief of the Spectator. In addition she is a charter member of the W. A. A. and a basketball player.

It was in recognition of this and that she is one of the foremost scholars in her class that Miss McGaffey was elected to fill the position of fellow to Kansas University. She is the fourth fellow in succession who has majored in history.

In the same faculty meeting the scholarship to M. C. for this year was given to Margaret Dresher of the Academy because she received the highest grades in her class.

K. C. LITTLE SYMPHONY COMING TO McPHERSON

Kansas City's Little Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of N. De Rubertis will be heard at the McPherson Opera House, March 5 in afternoon and evening programs. The orchestra will be composed of more musicians than when in McPherson last year, there being approximately thirty-five members in the organization. Mrs. Raymond Havens is the soloist this year, and her numbers will be an additional treat.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA GIVES FINE CONCERT BEFORE FULL HOUSE

Miss Katherine Penner and Howard Snyder Assist

J. L. DOLL IS DIRECTOR

Program Gives Evidence of Much Concentrated Effort in Preparation

In a pleasing manner which gave evidence of much concentrated effort in preparation, the McPherson College Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of J. Lewis Doll, assisted by Miss Katherine Penner, soloist, and Mr. Howard Snyder, whistler, rendered its annual concert in the College Chapel, Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

"The Swallow" a Favorite

The program opened with "Ballet Suite", from the operas of C. W. Gluck. This consisted of three movements and each one was given in a commendable way. The third movement, "Iphigenia in Aulis" was an extremely difficult number and was appreciated much because of that fact. The second group was given by the orchestra in accompaniment to Mr. Snyder who imitated several song birds to perfection. "The Swallow" by Lake was especially beautiful and a decided favorite with the audience.

The group following was somewhat different in that the numbers were comparatively simple, yet grand and beautiful in their simplicity. Four selections from "Wood Sketches" by MacDowell, "To a Wild Rose", "At an Old Trysting Place", "In Autumn", and "From an Indian Lodge" were given. The latter was something unique in composition and also in rendition, making it stand out as one of the most excellent.

Vocal Numbers Give Variety

At this time Miss Penner sang two numbers, the first, "Morning", and the second, "The Little Song". These selections were fitting since they added variety to the program in addition to giving the audience the treat of hearing a soloist of great merit.

The last group consisted of the "Funeral March of a Marionette", by Gounod and "A Hunting Scene" by Bualoni. The closing number proved to be a lively, spirited selection and suggested through the entire rendition a reality which thrilled its hearers through and through. The greater part of the selection was instrumental but occasionally was broken by the singing of a few strains directly in keeping with the theme of the scene.

The program from beginning to end was good.

TO HOLD MUSIC MEM- ORY CONTEST MARCH 2

Is Conducted in Connection With the K. C. Little Symphony Concert

Of special interest to lovers of good music is the advent of a music memory contest to be held in the Chapel on the evening of March 2 under the direction of Archie San Romani of this city. The contest is held in connection with the concert by the Kansas City Little Symphony Orchestra to be in the city March 5.

Eight phonograph records of standard compositions which will be played by the Orchestra will be played during the Chapel periods February 17, 19, 20, 26 and 27. At these times full explanation of the selections played will be made. Three of the eight records are to be used at the final test. The name of the selection, its composer and the story surrounding it are to be considered.

For the nearest correct paper two dollar tickets to the Kansas City Little Symphony Orchestra are offered. Second prize is one ticket to the afternoon performance.

Page Hearst; Sensational Happening in McPherson University

There was a faint cry of fright and then a pleading, trembling, "Save me! Oh, save me."

A gasp heard, and mustering all the courage that could ever have been known even when the knight's hood was in flour, he advanced quickly up the stairs and into the dark hall that leads to the Spec office. There he paused, pondered, and listened. He heard nothing but the ominous stillness, and it was deafening in its intensity. Everything was awful. His knees began to quake, like a bare shoulder in a Green-wich Village cabaret. He was in a state of fearful being.

But whether for the sake of heroism or curiosity he collected himself and advanced cautiously toward the office door at the end of the hall. One eye he risked to peer within—and—Horror!! There was the editor, or limply resting in her chair, her up-bowed head resting upon a pair of arms that had evidently fallen in fatigue to the top of the desk (the arms were her own). Behind her a window was open—the bargains' avenue of escape, so the man suspected.

Filled with a new realization of his duty, the man moved quickly across the room to the side of the editor. As he approached she stirred, and then she caught a glimpse of the man moving toward her. Terrorized, she buried her face in her hands and screamed desperately.

But finally by tact and craft he assured her that he was harmless. Whereupon she recovered sufficiently to point a trembling finger toward the bottom drawer of the desk, and said weakly, "Look!"

He did. And then when she thought he would do something heroic, he laughed right out loud. "Why for goodness sake," he chuckled, "that mouse is dead!"

An editor has one point in common with Mr. Micawber: Both are always looking for something to turn up.

Speaking of Dickens, some think they find another Mr. Squeers on the campus. Remember Dotheboys Hall?

History does repeat itself, after all.

And some have to repeat history, too. Funny, isn't it?

It all depends on the way we look at things; but what of it?

A TALE OF TWO MEN

There was a man who tried to secure happiness by winning fame; power, wealth, position. And he used his fellows as tools to gain for himself that which he coveted. He stood on them in order to be high. They looked up at him and hated him, and he was unhappy.

Another man sought opportunities to serve his fellows whom he loved, and he found happiness there. Then his fellows lifted him up and looked up to him and called him "great".

POPULARITY

Perhaps the most popular person in the world is the Prince of Wales. A favorite at home with royalty and day laborers alike, he is too big for the boundaries of his own country and his popularity has spread far beyond the shadows of the British flag. And it is not his title the world loves. It is the Prince himself; it is his wonderful sense of duty, his graceful submissiveness, and his sincere sociability among all classes of people. The most popular person in the world is popular because he applies the principles of democracy to his daily associations with people of all types. If you are willing to do that you, too, will be a prince to all who know you.

W. J.

IT'S FUN

"One step and then another and the longest hike is ended". Morning, afternoon and night knicker-clad girls may be seen leaving the campus, laughing and joking, light in heart and step. Several hours later they wander back stiff in the joints but still laughing. Soon all the people on all the roads within a radius of five miles will become so used to us they won't even look surprised or shocked.

Oh, it is fun to hike, if you don't believe it come join us and try it. Then there are always the points. Several girls have already hiked thirty-five miles. A hundred miles isn't so far and a hundred miles means a lot.

The success of the honor point system for the students is so well evidenced that they have begun to wonder why not one for the faculty also.

The skepticism of some pedagogues in a Christian institution is remarkable when it comes to acknowledge the veracity of the statement that "much study is a weariness of the flesh", thinks the tired student.

"COLLEGE FRIENDSHIPS" IS SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION

"College Friendships" is the subject to be discussed at the joint Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. discussion groups this evening at 6:30 in the Y. W. C. A. Room. William E. Sprenger, state student secretary, will be present. The discussions will be concluded in ample time for those present to attend the game. All students are invited to attend and participate in these discussions.

Student Opinion

"FIFTY-FIFTY"

We have a new ruffing that students cannot be absent or tardy to class without a penalty attached. It is proving very satisfactory for it brings the careless student to class on time and causes him to think twice before he decides to skip class. It works no particular hardship on the students; but on the contrary it is a help to many in forming habits of punctuality and regularity.

It seems, however, that the faculty might be put under some similar ruffing, for they can be absent or tardy with no loss to them in any manner.

A large class often collects for a recitation only to find that the door is locked and it is compelled to wait until the professor arrives, or often the class waits five or ten minutes in the class room before the instructor arrives.

If one student in a class of twenty-five is five minutes late five minutes are lost; if the instructor of the same class is five minutes late two hours and five minutes are lost. If one student is absent fifty-five minutes are lost; if the instructor is absent twenty-two hours and fifty-five minutes are lost.

We are not kidding, but the average student knows when he has good reasons for being absent or tardy and if he must pay a penalty for something that is unavoidable why not penalize the faculty as well? Why not make it two-sided instead of one?

MRS. D. W. KURTZ SPEAKS ON POPULARITY AT Y. W. C. A.

Wednesday morning Mrs. D. W. Kurtz gave the Y. W. C. A. an inspiring talk on the subject of "Popularity, or What Makes a Girl Attractive." She said, "All girls wish for popularity". She gave a number of points on which popularity depends.

Personal appearance attracts attention first. One's individuality should be brought out in her dress. A low, musical, modulated voice is pleasant to the ear and adds to one's personality. "Thy conversation be trayeth thee" is an old saying. The boys and girls of the East have a lot of conversation to a greater degree than those of the West. It behooves the girl seeking popularity to improve her English.

Mrs. Kurtz brought out forcibly the value of an honest eye. To be able to look one squarely in the eye is a test of character. The way she walks is an advertisement of the girl. Promptness, dependability, and optimism are elements that make a desirable character.

Those who are exclusive and shy do not have as many friends as others. A girl must assume the responsibilities given her. She should not try to be a Jack-of-all-Trades, but should rather be able to do at least one thing well.

More popularity is like a tide, but it can be made a part of character.

Hear the debate.

MISS CHAPMAN EXPLAINS CORRECT SOCIAL USAGE

"Social usage or etiquette is the happy way of doing things. This was the topic upon which Miss Mercedes Chapman spoke to the dramatic art class Wednesday. The proper conventional forms of how to bow, how and when to lift the hat, when to rise in the presence of ladies, and salutations were a few of the main points in her lecture. Miss Chapman stated that students should know social usages and practice them in their daily life, but at least on the stage. In the presentation of plays all action must be done properly. Not all of the questions of social usages will arise in the presentation of plays in the class room this year but the students should know the correct form, so if a question should arise in coaching plays the proper form would be used.

RADIO CLUB TO START STUDY OF TEXTBOOK

This is the Radio Club doing a little broadcasting. The purpose of the organization is to study the principles upon which radio communication is based. Heretofore the meetings have consisted of reports on certain topics of interest followed by a general discussion of the subject. At the last meeting Phillip Spohn and Lowell Sell gave an interesting report on the principles involved in the vacuum tube. The Club is going to take up the study of a textbook at its next meeting. A good one has been selected and the Club hopes to get some valuable information from it.

Announces Engagement

M. C. students will be interested in a Valentine party held in La Verne, California, Saturday night when Miss Pauline Shirk announced her engagement to Stanley Keim. The affair was a six o'clock dinner served to twelve intimate girl friends of the bride-to-be. The table was decorated in red and white with the aid of cupid's hearts, and sweet peas. The table was centered by a gold telephone from which gold cards extended to individual telephones at each place. At the base of these telephones were envelopes containing small red hearts, which when placed together rightly, read, "Polly and Stan." An elaborate three-course Valentine dinner was served. Miss Shirk is well known to students here, having attended M. C. last year. She is now attending LaVerne College, where she is a senior.

For Vivian Harnly.

On the evening of February 12, Vivian Harnly was hostess to a group of friends at an informal Valentine party at the home of her aunt, Mrs. D. S. Horner of East Euclid Street. The evening was spent in games and contests, the most significant of which was a "proposal" contest which was won by Winston Cassler who played Schubert's "Song of Love" on the piano. A delightful lunch was served by the hostess. Those who enjoyed the evening were: Mary B. Swope, Maurine Stutzman, Fidelia Frantz, Mary Harnly, Vivian Harnly, Ethel May Metzger, Julia Hollem, Mrs. Thelma Jones, Sanger Crumacker, Moffat Eakes, Floyd Kurts, Winston Cassler, Herman Jones, Ray Trostle and Grover O'Neill.

Valentine Party.

An informal valentine party was given for members of the football squad, basketball squad, athletic board, debate teams and coach, and their friends on Saturday night by the girls of the Foods Class, under the direction of Miss Mayme Wilker. The guests were taken to the fourth floor of Harnly Hall, where the evening was spent in playing games. First the girls were each given two tiny paper hearts and two paper mittens, each boy was to endeavor, by proposing to the girls, to get as many hearts and mittens as possible. "Little Jim" Ellwood was successful in obtaining the greatest number of hearts while "Peanuts" Morine received the most mittens, for which he was awarded a tiny doll. The remainder of the evening was spent in stunts and contests by the families; forty-yard dash, forward pass, rebuttal, and goal shooters. At ten o'clock the guests were led to second floor where a delightful two-course luncheon was served in a unique way. The following delicacies were served from their respective booths; chicken sandwiches from "Dinty Moore's Hashery", beat pickles from "Heart Beasts", Perfection from "Shimmy Land". Second course: Angel Food Cake from "A Little Bit of Heaven", ice cream from "Eskimo Land", Mints from "Sweet Hearts". The color scheme red and white was artistically carried out in the decorations and in the luncheon.

College experience, was star debater on the Little River High School Team for two years and showed a great deal of ability in the debate tryout. The negative team will also be strong. The hard working Lehman twins know college debating, having for two years been members of the McPherson Academy Debate Team which for these two years won the championship of the Pentangular League. Remarkable teamwork makes them a hard pair to beat. The Bethany Team has no college veterans but with a line-up of high school stars and orators will be sure to put up a stiff fight. Elmer Peterson, Arthur Hissell, Merle Yowell and Lloyd Malm make up the Bethany Team.

Professor William A. Irwin of Washburn will judge the debate at McPherson and Professor W. A. Starbuck of Newton will judge at Bethany.

Among the Alumni

Book of Alumni is Reviewed
The January issue of the American Historical Review contains among the review notices a brief write-up on a book written by an M. C. alumnus. The work is entitled "Economic Aspects of Southern Sectionalism, 1840-1861", and it appears in volume eleven of the University of Illinois Studies in the Social Sciences, published at Urbana, Ill. The author is Dr. Robert R. Russell, A. B. '14, now professor in the State Normal college in Kalamazoo, Mich. The reviewer praises the scholarly character of the work and says that "the final judgment must be that the book is a distinct contribution to the discovery of the old South."

Eastern Tour for the Austins
Arrangements have been completed whereby the Reverend and Mrs. O. H. Austin, the college evangelists, are to make an extended evangelistic tour during the winter of 1925-1926 into some of the eastern states. Already several meetings have been booked in Pennsylvania, among them the congregations in Philadelphia, Hollidaysburg and Huntingdon.

Strickler Is Second Vice-President
Dale A. Strickler has been elected second vice-president of the Alumni Association to act in this position during the absence of Prof. R. E. Mohler. The Rev. Henry Stover, first vice-president of the society, is engaged in pastoral work at Monitor, and is therefore unable to perform many of the duties of this office.

Sometimes we wonder if a lot of things are worth the trouble.

HONORS IN FOOTBALL AWARDED IN CHAPEL

Keim Brothers Receive Blankets for Four Years' Service; Fourteen Others Honored

In accordance with the rule of the Athletic Association which states that before a man can be presented with a letter of the institution he must have passed in 12 hours work done during the semester in which he participated in the sport, the men who earned football letters in the 1924 season were announced Friday morning in Chapel. Due to some incompletes a few letters were withheld but the following men received letters for the first time: Virden Kolsow, Richard Knowles, Verne Strickler, Dale Showalter, Leo Crum-packer, Glade Fisher, Floyd Cotton, Galen Miesler and Ernest Tipton. The second year men who received letters were Paul Kurtz, Olin Ellwood and Leon Morine. Henry Hahn for three years and captain got a white sweater and Hal Barton a red one for three years' service. Richard and Stanley Keim received each a large red blanket with the letter on it for four years' stellar work on the first team.

*Second game.

The Quaker-Bulldog tangle was one of the hardest games of the season. Playing a team composed mostly of small men with a 1000 per cent in the lost column, it looked as though Miesler's men should have had an easy time but before forty minutes' play was over every Bulldog admitted that their opponents were the fighting Quakers. The Dogs defended the south goal the first half and the rooters had hardly gotten into the swing of the game before Showalter caged a ringer. This started the ball rolling and from then on the score was not decisively long either way. At times it was tied but for the most of the time the Canines held a small lead. The outstanding feature of the game was Crumpacker's work at guard. This former high school star is now unmistakably one of the college conference stars and his worth is further clinched each game when he displays such consistent guarding coupled with a lot of flashy floor work and brilliant shooting and recovering. In short Crum-my's worth cannot be lauded too much. Showalter and Groves as usual worked nicely at forward but the referee saw too much so Show had to be taken out late in the second period. Groves took Hill's place earlier in the game and came out with five ringers to his credit. The game on the whole was a good one and M. C. has reason to be proud of her battling basketweavers.

CANINES HAVE THREE HARD BATTLES AHEAD

Newton Here Tonight; Bethany Coming Thursday; Go to Friends Saturday

Tonight the Canine basketweavers face the fast Newton aggregation in the Alumni Gymnasium. Newton has one of the strongest teams in the conference, having defeated the Pittsburg Manuals who defeated the Bulldogs earlier in the season. Old man dope is against the Bulldogs but M. C. has the assurance that Bethel will have a hard fight before she carries off the laurels.

Thursday evening the Bulldogs will try their luck against the Bethany Swedes on the home court. The local fans are assured that these old rivals will put up a spectacular fight and even if the Canines did win away from home the game Friday night will be the season's classic.

Saturday evening the Bulldog crew will journey to Wichita where they will meet the Quakers again. Although the score of last week's game did not show so much difference there was no doubt in the minds of the fans as to who had the superior team. A victory should be the outcome of the fray with the Friends quintet.
