BULLDOGS VANQUISHED BY DUTCH'S ICHABODS IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

Washburn Takes Home Football After 10-0 Score.

OFFENSIVE IS BRILLIANT

Bulldogs Play Gaily But Fail To Stop Hard-Hitting Washburnites.

In a game but hard fought battle throughout, the Bulldogs failed to stop the brilliant offensive staged on the local gridiron by "Dutch" Lomborg's hard hitting Washburnites who scored a 10-0 victory Friday.

Ichabods out for Revenge.
The fourth classic of the season found two teams fighting it out on a well hardened field. There was the undying Bulldog spirit which has covered many a field with glory pitted against a no less determined spirit which with grim-face and hardened features was seeking for revenge for the sound trouncing which it received last year at the hands of the Canines.

Bulldogs Consistently Outplayed.
Although the outcome of the game never seemed in doubt, it was no one-sided affair. As the score indicates, Washburn is easily entitled to the victory. Time after time the Bulldogs were forced back toward their own goal line only to hold the Ichabods from scoring. Only once in the second quarter did the visitors cross M. C.'s last white line, and that was over the bodies of eleven prostrate men. The other counter after a successful try for goal came early in the last quarter when Bruce easily made a place-kick from the Bulldog 15-yard line. P. Kurtz, the massive Canine center, who is adept at blocking enemy drop-kicks, had been taking severe punishment during the previous part of the game and lacked strength to intercept the ball this time.

Wind Favors Washburn.
The game was featured by the ball juggling of "Grassy" Bruce and Captain Brewster for Washburn. They

COURSES IN INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION POPULAR

Department Has Shown Phenomenal Growth—More Classes Scheduled

In keeping with the general development of McPherson College is the growth of the department of industrial education. This is seen especially in the division of wood working. Before noon of the second day of enrolment, all the students for whom the present equipment can provide had signed for courses in this work. In comparison with those of previous years, the drawing classes, also, are abnormally large.

A new course in toy making has been added to this department. This course is being given with the special view of interesting those who are teaching kindergarten classes or who plan to make the direction of children their future work.

Another feature of the industrial education department is its democracy. It has expanded to the point where both men and women are beginning to appreciate the benefits of its courses. This year, all those enrolled are men with the exception of two. With the further development of the course in toy making, the number of women will probably correspondingly increase.

SENIOR ACADS ORGANIZE

The Senior Academy Class in their last meeting elected the following officers: President, Herbert Martin; vice-president, Margaret Dresher; secretary-treasurer, Mercie Shatto; reporter, Marie Brubaker; faculty adviser, Miss Celesta Wine.

LEROY DOTY ATTENDS REGIONAL CONFERENCE

LeRoy Doty, president of the local Y. M. C. A. and also president of the State Student Council of the Y. M. C. A., returned yesterday from Topeka where he attended the Rocky Mountain Regional Conference of the Y. M. C. A. This conference plays a prominent part in shaping the policy and program of the Y. M. C. A. in this district and it is an honor for M. C. to send a representative as only the state presidents and regional representatives are sent to these conferences.

MOUNTED POLICEMAN RELATES LIFE STORY

Has Collection of Curios from Africa, Mexico, Canada and Europe.

With twenty-five years of experience as a member of the Mounted Police, hunter of big game and soldier in Africa, Mexico and Canada, standing six feet and four inches in his cavalry boots, lean as a wolf, active as a panther, and straight as a gun-barrel, Major G. H. Schoof of the Canadian Mounted Police rendered an interesting entertainment in the Chapel last Monday evening. His lectures consisted of thrilling tales of his own experiences accompanied by an exhibition of numerous trophies and curios collected during his adventures.

Life One of Romance.
Major Schoof, a German by birth, came to America in his early boyhood and became a cowboy in Nebraska. He went to Africa in 1880 where he fought under the British flag against rebellious native tribes. He rode 15,000 miles while on patrol duty there. In 1900 the wanderlust took him to Canada where he scouted in the Mounted Police. Later he went to Mexico and joined Madera's Mounted Police, and, but for his English citizenship papers, would have been shot when that leader was overthrown. He returned to Canada and again became a member of the Royal Mounted Police. Today, at fifty-eight, he still rides in that service during the summer months and lectures before schools and colleges in the U. S. and Europe during the winter. He is older and he carries more badges of officialism than any other man in the Canadian Mounted Police.

Makes Plea for Simple Life
Along with his captivating description of hunting and war experiences he made a powerful plea for clean, simple outdoor life. He spoke emphatically against use of narcotics and anything that tends to harm the human body. As a total abstainer he proved the truth of his arguments in his own excellent physique.

LYCEUM COURSE WILL CONSIST OF PROGRAMS EXCELLING IN QUALITY

Is the Most Expensive Course Ever Offered.

SEVEN NUMBERS LISTED

Two Lecturers, Two Humorists, Two Musical Companies and Horner To Come.

With seven numbers on the 1924-1925 Redpath-Horner lyceum course, costing $100 more than ever before, and a program consisting of two lectures, two humorous numbers, one by an alumnus of M. C., two musical numbers and a final number by Charles F. Horner, head of the Horner Institute of Fine Arts, the course promises to be unusual in variety and quality of talent. Season tickets are now on sale, costing from $1.00 to $3.30. The first number will be given October 30.

Lecturer Speaks on Vital Topics.

Lectures by Ople Read, novelist, journalist, lecturer and humorist, and by Judge Ben B. Lindsay, lately returned from Europe where he studied social conditions and rehabilitation plans among women, children and girls of the war zone, a lecturer who always deals with vital topics, are alone worth the price of the ticket.

Music Programs Novel.

For music lovers there will be the Harp Novelty Company presenting a distinctly novel program with the harp in a prominent place, and the Jackson Jubilee Singers under the direction of Robert Jackson, dean of Western University, Kansas City, Kan., who has picked a company of colored people excelling in quality of their voices and in ability to interpret and portray the music of the negro.

M. C. Alumnus To Furnish Fun.

The Tobias-Harper Company, a combination of two artists, bring a program of uproarious fun. Everett Kemp, who was graduated in expression from M. C. in 1896, is an entertainer par excellence who gives either miscellaneous programs or complete plays.

Hornet To Appear.

As a final number, Charles F. Horner, head of the Horner Institute of Fine Arts, will tell his story. This number was scheduled for last year, but was cancelled because of the illness of Mr. Horner.

PUPS TO PLAY

Bull Puppies will tangle with the high school eleven, Thursday afternoon at the fairgrounds in their second game.

A. L. PATRICK SPEAKS BEFORE MISSION BAND

"A Life or a Living" was the subject discussed by the Rev. A. L. Patrick in Mission Band Thursday evening. He emphasized the challenge of a real life by giving a number of references which were read by the audience. The fact that it is necessary to forget the living in order to produce a life; that life must be a consecrated one of prayer and faith with expectancy was made clear. The Reverend Patrick also gave an interesting talk on his mission work in the mountains of Maryland.

Y. W. C. A. OBSERVES CANDLE-LIGHT SERVICE

About 150 Girls Are Welcomed Into Association Tuesday Night in Chapel.

About 150 girls took part in the impressive annual candle-lighting service of the Y. W. C. A. held Tuesday evening in the Chapel. By this service the new members were formally received into the Association.

As the chorus sang "Follow the Gloom" the cabinet members took their places upon the platform while the big and little sisters were seated together. Mrs. D. W. Kurtz briefly explained the purpose of the lighted candle as the symbol of the Christian life of the girl. Margaret Wall, president of the Association, welcomed each new girl into the Association, explaining anew the purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

Following the song, "Lead on, O King Eternal" and while the chorus sang "Hymn of Lights" each girl lighted her candle from the larger one of the president, as a symbol of the Great Light which she is to follow.

As a close to the service the girls joined in singing "Bless Be the Tie that Binds." Miss Edith McGaffey pronounced the benediction and the girls softly sang "Follow the Gloom" as they marched out of the Chapel.

ADVISORY BOARD GIVES PROGRAM IN Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. advisory board had charge of the Wednesday morning service. Mrs. F. E. Mishler presided over the following program: Devotions, Mrs. J. W. Haraly Prayer, Mrs. Amanda Fabnestock Talk, "Joy in the Race" Miss Edith McGaffey Parable Reading, Mrs. F. E. Mishler

Duet, "I Need His Care" Mrs. C. S. Morris and Mrs. F. E. Mishler The program was appreciated and enjoyed by all the girls. The splendid challenge to find joy in all one does and to be good victors or good losers as the case might be was forcefully given.

DEBATE QUESTION AND RULES FOR NORTHERN DIVISION ARE DECIDED

Coaches Meet in Wichita for Final Agreement.

TO HAVE ONLY ONE JUDGE

Single Expert Critic Will Make Decisions Publicly, Giving His Reasons.

Rules for the northern division of the Kansas Intercollegiate Debating League were made at a meeting of the debate coaches of the League at the Innes Tea Room in Wichita October 13. The question to be debated, the adoption of the single expert judge method and the making of the schedule were the important business of the meeting.

The question, Resolved, that Congress by a two-thirds vote of each house should have power to overrule a decision of the Supreme Court declaring a federal law unconstitutional, was agreed upon by the coaches.

To Have Single Judge.

Under the new method of judging a single expert critic judge will be required to make a public statement giving his reasons for his decision. A uniform fee of $10 is set for the judges throughout the League.

Schedule Is Made.

Two-week intervals instead of the customary three weeks will elapse between the debates. The debates will be dual as before, one debate being held in one school at the same time that the other side debates at the other school. McPherson's schedule follows:

Bethany, February 20.
Sterling, March 6.
Kansas Wesleyan, March 20.

Local Interest Is Strong.

Much local interest is being shown in debate. A number have stated their intention to try for the team and Coach M. A. Hess is requesting all others who are interested to give him their names immediately. The tryout will be held about a week before Thanksgiving.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVES ARE IN FULL SWAY

About 150 Are Enrolled in Each "Y" Association—Budgets Are Set at $575.

The membership drive for the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., which has been carried on for the last two weeks is being conducted differently from the manner of previous years. Instead of strong public appeals for membership, the campaign has been conducted personally by various members of the cabinets. No certain membership fee has been set, this matter being left to the decision of each individual. To date the membership in each of the organizations numbers around 150, although the campaign is still in progress. Pledges for $225 toward the $300 budget have been received in the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A. is well on its way toward its $275 goal.

CHAPEL ORCHESTRA MAKES ITS INITIAL APPEARANCE

A Chapel Orchestra, has been organized by Prof. J. Lewis Doll to play at the regular chapel period twice a week. The first number was quite satisfactorily given Thursday, and the students appreciated the variation in the program. Those in the orchestra are Autumn Lindbloom, Willeta Durst, Ruth Hawkins, Howard Sager, Carl Freeburg, Gordon Hill, Emmert Fair and Archie Ska Roman.

College Band — Eighty students with organ musical instruments and French horns.

"San" Celebrates Hays Victory by Bursting Forth in Rhyme

Football Made Clear,
I'm took myself a notion once
To see a football play.
I'm try to tell you what I saw:
Don't laugh for what I say,
I'm buy my ticket at the gate,
I go in and sat down.
And Oh! the pretty girls was there!
They sat by me all round.
They all was dressed so pretty, too,
With white, and red, and pink,
The people call 'em "Koleidge Kids."
They go to school, I think.
Ah! pretty soon one guy got up;
He say, "Come on, let's fight."
I say to him, "You shut your face,
I'll knock you out a sight."
But they explain it all to me:
They say he talk for fun,
Good thing for him he talk like that.
Or might I soak him one.
Then pretty soon I look in front;
I see there lots of guys.

They had on funny knee-short pants,
And, oh, oh, what nose.
There was one guy who had white pants,
I think he was a kid.
He had a whistle in his mouth
And blow, that's all he did.
They all line up, some on each side.
A ball was on the ground.
Some guy got smart and kicked it one.
I say, "The dirty hound!"
Then them big fellows start to run,
They make each other fall.
They all run fast to catch one man.
Just cause he catch the ball.
Then they all stop, they all kneed down.
I'm think they going to pray,
I'm think, "Well, that is pretty nice."
I wish they stay that way.

I hear one player say out loud,
"Signal, one-eight-two-nine."
Then everybody yell.
He pass the touchdown line.
The game went on for 'bout two hours.
I'm think it was a shame,
Cause hundred time them boys fell down.
And then they got up lame.
But I just sat and look, and sat.
Them girls went almost bugs.
They clap their hands, they wave their arms.
Cause two boys bust their mugs.
When it was through I say, "Who won?"
They answer me like frogs,
They tell me, "Why you crazy nut,
Bulldogs! Bulldogs! Bulldogs!
Now tell me what fer game is this
I don't quite understand.
They fight each other all the time,
Then say, "Boy, that was grand."
—August San Romani.

Our fair-haired friends to the north seem to be ignorant of newspaper etiquette regarding plagiarism. We feel complimented by having our literary efforts copied, but would like to have our trade-mark appended.

M. C. IN FORENSICS

Honors in great numbers have come to M. C. in the forensic world. We have been state champions in debate. We have won first place in several state oratorical contests. Only last week we placed second in the National Peace Oratorical Contest.

Now is the time for those interested in these activities to begin work. Many possibilities are turning up. The debate season soon begins, and those intending to try out cannot afford to lose any time. Local, state, and national peace oration contests will be held this year, and M. C. can do even better than last year. The Anti-Tobacco Association holds an annual state oratorical contest in which M. C. has twice taken first honors.

To uphold the honor of M. C. in forensics, many students are going to begin hard work immediately. These previous honors were not accidents; they were the result of hours of strenuous mental labor. Just as the Bulldogs on the gridiron have spent hours in grinding labor to win their laurels, so must the Bulldog debaters and orators work to win. Many things cannot be accomplished by main strength, but are brought about by the muscle of the right word given in the right way at the right time, which, like faith, can move mountains—and judges.

WHAT ARE YOU THINKING?

Tell the rest of us about it. Write it for the student opinion column, and please sign your names. No unsigned contributions will be published, be they more poetic than Wordsworth, more rhetoric than Webster, more slangy than George Ade, not even if you think exactly as we think.

SHOW GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

A fine demonstration of genuine sportsmanship was shown Friday during the chapel hour when the Ichabods were greeted with welcoming cheers by the loyal supporters of the Bulldogs. The features of the morning's pep demonstration was the rendering of the original poem, "Football Made Clear", by August San Romani. The splendid work of the Red and White cheer leaders deserves commendation of the highest nature.

—Omer Vancocyc.

Will some one please make a canvass of the feminine population to learn whether the bobbed or the unbobbed are in the majority? Many schools have already declared in favor of the bobbed.

THANK YOU!

The Spectator wishes to thank the Student Council for its kindness in purchasing a copy of "Crabb's English Synonyms" and a Funk and Wagnall Desk Standard Dictionary for permanent use by the Spectator. These books form a nucleus to which others will probably be added in future years.

Several unsigned articles have missed a good chance to appear in the Spectator.

Exchanges

Ottawa Has Homecoming.

The third annual Homecoming was held at Ottawa University Friday and Saturday of last week. A great celebration was held before and after the game on Saturday. A party for the entire student-body, faculty, and alumni was held in the gymnasium Friday night.

Normal Publishes Handbook.

At a meeting of the Student Council of Pittsburg Normal, it was decided to publish a student handbook, to be in the hands of the students within the first two months of the school year. The purpose is to get the constitution and by-laws of the Student Council before the students, that they may see how they are governed. The book will also give information of the activities of the current school year and a list of the college organizations and their officers.

One of the rules for freshmen in the Pennsylvania State College is: Wear your little green cap gracefully and proudly. Don't attempt to conceal the fact that you are a freshman. The seasoned college man can identify a freshman 100 yards off unless the freshman should try to disguise it, in which case he can be recognized a half a mile.

A campaign for $400,000 is being put on at Bethany College, Lindsborg. Half of this amount is to be used in the erection of a "Messiah" Auditorium. The campaign closes November 24.

VOTING REGULATIONS

Student voters in doubt as to where they shall cast their ballots in the coming elections may receive some enlightenment from the following statement by Professor Harold R. Bruce of the Department of Political Science at Dartmouth:

"The general rule adopted by the courts of the states of the Union regarding student voting in the location of the college or university is that a student who is entirely self-supporting may declare his residence to be in the college town and vote there; but that all those students who receive any portion of their support from their parents are legal residents of their home town and must vote there if at all."

Thirty-two states have provisions in their statute books whereby "absentee-voters", under which classification students are usually included, may vote by mail if properly registered. These provisions vary so greatly, however, that no summary is possible. The wisest course for any student wishing to indulge in the coming battle (to pursue) is to write immediately to the clerk or register of his home county or parish and to ask what he must do.

—The New Student.

Y. M. C. A.

A varied program was given last Wednesday morning for the Y. M. C. A. meeting in Harnly Hall. Albert Philippi led devotions, which were followed by a violin solo by Abram Hostetter, accompanied by Marathon High. Jay Eller then gave a reading. A song by the college quartet, Samuel Kurtz, Harold Barton, Herkie Wampler, and Clement Haldeman, with Winston Casler accompanying closed the program.

Go to Salina Friday.

Student Federation Movement Has Many Sides

BY LEROY DOTY

The World Student Christian Federation is the student movement of America, combining with those of other countries to aid in the European Student enterprise. We sometimes get an impression that this movement is all one-sided and consists of charity work only. But this is not true, since European Culture has a great deal to contribute to us. A student from the Netherlands came up to one of our American representatives to the Annual European Student Relief Conference this last year and asked if she believed that all Dutch people wore wooden shoes. I believe that this shows us that we have a tendency to judge foreign people by one impression or by some national characteristic of the past. We are striving toward the abundant life, which is the highest type of living, but the fact is the European Student knows more than we do, which is perhaps partly due to the reason that the European Students are older than the average American student. They have a poise and dignity which we do not have. They enjoy beauty of nature, the galleries and mountains. European culture does have something to contribute.

However, we American students do have a contribution to make. We have our youth and idealism. We do not have that hatred and fear which exists between the countries of Europe and we have a recognition of individuality for its own worth, rather than of class distinction. Through the Student movement known to us in America as the Student Friendship fund a great deal of aid goes to the European students in the form of self-help enterprises, but that is not all. Last year Annual European Student Relief Conference consisted of representatives from 23 countries, which is making progress toward a student understanding of international relations, although at the present time there are fundamental differences in our thinking. By the relief measures such as will go to students of Russia this next year, they will see and understand the great Christian law of love, even though our beliefs are not the same and we are not allowed to teach Christianity under the soviet government. By this great international movement the students hope to have a big part in establishing a permanent peace of the world.

JOURNALISM BOOKS IN LIBRARY

The class in Journalism so much in demand has not yet been realized, but those really interested in the work can now find several books in the library devoted exclusively to journalism in its various phases. The books, with one exception, were placed on the shelves this fall.

Three books by Bleyer are perhaps the most valuable for the journalistic writer. In his "Newspaper Writing and Editing," a general text on the making of a newspaper, are chapters on making of the newspaper, getting the news, structure and style in news stories, different types of stories, editing copy, writing headlines, make-up and a style sheet. Bleyer's "Types of News Writing" contains chapters on news writing and style of news stories and examples of all types of news writing. "Special Feature Articles" discusses the field, preparation for writing, finding material, purpose of the feature article, their beginning, the style, titles and headlines and has concrete examples of feature articles. "Newspaper make-up and headlines," by Radder, is an excellent book on copy-reading, building headlines, essential elements in headlines, types of news and feature headlines, ethics of the headline, proofreading, type, headline and body type and make-up. Cuts of the make-up of the best papers in the United States are shown.

Smith, of the Chicago Tribune, in his pamphlet "It's the Way It's Written" and "Writing versus—Everything Else," gives an interesting discussion of the literary equipment of the newspaper man and its relation to his other work.

Similar to Bleyer's "Newspaper Writing and Editing" is Harrington and Frankenburg's "Essentials in Journalism." In Harrington's "Writing for Print" chapters are given to the reporter and the news, simple news items, building the news story, special types of articles; use of words in the news story, the writing of editorials, making the high school newspaper, copy reading, headline writing and make-up.

In addition to the library books, the Spectator has in the office a copy of the deskbook of the school of Journalism of Missouri University, which it follows practically in toto. A pamphlet from the University of California giving the rules of the editorial committee with specifications for style of printing is also to be found in the Spectator office.

Aspiring Greeleys and Bennetts can now have something tangible from which to get inspiration and practical help.

Smile a White

He Willed.

This wedding ceremony is said to have been used by a Tennessee squirrel some 30 years ago:

"Wilt thou take her for thy pard, for better or worse, to have to hold, to fondly guard 'til hauled off in a hearse? Wilt thou let her have her way, consult her many wishes, make the fire every day and help her wash the dishes. Wilt thou comfort and support her father and mother, Aunt Jemima, Uncle John and three sisters and a brother?"

His face grew pale and blank; it was too late to jilt, as thru the floor he sank, he meekly said, "I wilt."

Distracted wife (at bedside of sick husband)—Tell me doctor, is there any hope at all?

Doctor—I dunno, Madam. Tell me first what you are hoping for.

Here lies the body of Johnny Jones, He was a sifny sinner, He died one morning just at ten, They say, to save his dinner.

Little boy—Mother, is it true that sheep are the dumbest animals? Mother (absent-minded)—Yes, my lamb.

A Scotchman was found dead in front of a one-cent punching machine. The coroner found that death had been caused by overexertion. Investigation revealed a sign reading: "Your penny returned if you hit hard enough."

A lad with a splendid physique, Shaved not for many a wig; This was, I presume The cause of his dune, He was shot for a red Bolshevique.

Poets' Corner

From "Collected Poems."

These have I loved:
White plates and cups clean-glam-ing
Ringed with blue lines; and feath-ery, fairy dust;
Wet roofs, beneath the lamplight, the strong crust
Of friendly bread; and many tast-ing food;
Rainbows, and the blue bitter smoke of wood;
And radiant raindrops couching in cob flowers;
And flowers themselves that sway through sunny hours,
Dreaming of moths that drink them underneath the moon;
Then, the cool kindness of sheeps, that soon
Smooth away trouble; and the rough male kiss
Of blankets; grainy wood; five hair that is
Shining and free; blue massing the clouds; the keen
Unpassioned beauty of a great machine;
The benison of hot water; furs to touch;
The good smell of old cloths; and other such.
The comfortable smell of friendly fingers,
Hati's fragrance, and the musty reek that lingers
About dead leaves and last year's ferns.....

Dear names,
And thousand other throg to me!
Royal flames;
Sweet water's dimpling laugh from tap or spring,
Holes in the ground; and voices that do sting;
Voices in laughter, too; and body's pain,
Soon turned to peace; and the deep-panting trail;
Firm sands; the little dulling edge of foam
That browns and dwindles as the wave goes home
And washes stones, gay for an hour; the cold
Graviness of iron; moist, black, earthen mould;
Sleep; and high places; footprints in the dew;
And oaks; and brown horse-chestnuts, glossy-new;
And new-peeled sticks; and stinging pools in grass;—
All these have been my loves.
—Rupert Brooke.

"A famous educator says every-body ought to read a little poetry every day."

"I agree with him. If more people would read poetry every day, perhaps there wouldn't be so many trying to write it."

DANES LAUGH AT FOOTBALL

A description of how football is played in America provoked mirth in an assembly of Danish students, according to John Donley Prince, American minister to Denmark, who lectured recently to the Copenhagen University Students' association on "Student Life in America."

"I went into the subject of hazing," says Professor Prince, "and gave them a view of some freshmen newly painted, and I also endeavored to describe a cane rush, for which there is, of course, no expression in Danish. All this caused much laughter, and one of the professors expressed the hope that it might not set a bad example.

"Of football, as we play it, they know nothing, so I showed some illustrations and gave a brief lecture on our methods. They asked whether we did not have a field hospital and stretcher bearers, and on my reply, 'Of course,' the whole hall went into spasms of laughter."

Many Alumni Here Over Week-End
A large number of alumni spent the week-end on the Hill. Those from the class of '24 were: Gertrude Whitmore, Hazel Vogt, Harlan Yoder, Omer Vanscoyoc, David Brubaker, Roy Kinzie, Earl Marchand, Arthur Prather, L. G. Templeton, Everett Brubaker, Rhea Fast, Victor Vaniman, B. F. Waas, Leland Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Eshelman.

From the class of '23: Stella Bowman, Jacob Yoder, Robert Blough, Orville Pote, Grace Crumpacker, Marietta Pyerly and Gladys Brubaker.

From former classes: Mayme King, A. B. '22, Emery Wine, A. B. '22, and Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers '13.

Alumni Hold Reunion.

A group of alumni and former students of M. C. in attendance at the State Teachers' Convention at Hutchinson October 16, 17, and 18 met Friday evening at the city Y. M. C. A. to spend the supper hour together. Fahmrey Siffer, A. B. '22, was in charge and at his suggestion several speeches, yells and songs were given. The sentiments expressed centered around the thoughts that the "get together" meetings of the M. C. friends while at such conventions are of real value to those who can attend; also, that the farther removed, in years, one is from the college days, the greater is his appreciation for the ideals and inspiration received from his Alma Mater.

The alumni hope the college reunions at the annual Teachers' Meetings will become a definite part of the program of each teacher in attendance, and that in the future this matter may be handled in a more efficient manner so that more may be accommodated in a better way. Interest in M. C. can only be kept alive and keen by frequent renewing of the College spirit.

Dormitory eats do not satisfy freshman appetites. Because of this "their greennesses" went to Anderson's grove for a good supper and a good time Friday night. If reports are correct, they must have had both. At any rate they came home happy and contented at a reasonably early hour—for freshmen. Supper was served in the old fashioned cafeteria style. After the first line had passed, the second came, followed by others until the food supply was exhausted. When came this terrible calamity everybody seated themselves around the campfire and real fun began. Paul Dick was appointed master of ceremonies, and although he pulled a couple of boneheads, as usual, his efforts were greatly appreciated by the committee. He announced a debate on the subject, "Resolved: That a beard is more unsanitary than a mustache." Although both sides advanced splendid arguments, the decision of the audience was twenty to twenty-three in favor of the negative. After the debate Galen Mishler gave two readings which were highly enjoyed. Then the cheer leaders took charge and the noise began. After several yells and songs had been given the mob dispersed.

BULLDOGS TO INVADE COYOTES' TERRITORY

Mishler's Crew To Meet Methodists in Crippled Condition Friday.

The McPherson College Bulldogs will invade the territory of the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes at Salina Friday. A close contest is expected as the Bulldogs are still somewhat crippled as a result of the drubbing received at the hands of the Washburn Ichabods.

No close data can be obtained as to the comparative strength of the two teams, but the Bulldogs have the habit of winning from Kansas Wesleyan. During their three years of conference football the Bulldog grip has been strong enough to retain the heavy end of the score in each gridiron engagement.

BULLDOGS VANQUISHED BY DUTCH'S ICHABODS IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

repeatedly tore off large gains through skin tackles plays and end runs. Washburn easily out-punted the Bulldogs, being favored with the wind.

Hahn and D. Keim Play Well.

Captain Hahn and D. Keim played well for the locals, the latter being removed from the game toward the last part on account of injuries to his leg. This is the first time in four years that Keim has been removed from a game for injuries.

It seems the Dutchman knew just what men to watch in order to make his plays successful. McPherson ends had no chance of getting down under punts because of being accosted by halves in front and sacked by opposing ends in the rear.

Bulldogs Have Only One Break.

It must not go unsaid that Kurtz intercepted a forward pass for a nice gain and that after Washburn blocked an M. C. punt Dick Keim recovered for a gain of 30 yards. It was the only break the Bulldogs had. Every man on the local team played hard. The substitutes played well. Glade Fisher, although in only a few minutes, showed the Bulldog fight.

The lineup:

McPHERSON (0) WASHBURN (10)
Eakes, lb., ..... Fe., S. Hall
D. Keim, lb., ..... rt., Warren
Morine, lg., ..... rg., Davis

S. Kurtz, q., ..... q., Bruce
Hahn, (c.), rh., ..... lh., Brewster, (c.)
Mishler, lb., ..... rh., McCall
Barton, f., ..... f., Cramer
Substitutions—McPherson, Cotton for Morine, Showalter for Kurtz, Tip-on for Kolzow, Knowles for Owens, Strickler for Barton, V. Ellwood for Eakes, Fisher for D. Keim.

Summary: Attempted forward passes—Washburn 12, completed, 4 for 46 yards, intercepted 1 for no gain. McPherson 6, completed none, intercepted one for 10-yard gain. Earned first down—Washburn 10, McPherson 4.

FORD BATTERIES

Ford Batteries possess three outstanding points of superiority to other batteries being marketed for Ford cars, namely—CAPACITY, ABILITY and LIFE. Its capacity is 6 volts, 80 amp. hours and has 13 plates as against 11 in most all others for Fords.

This gives it the ability to turn the engine over faster and for a longer period of time making it much easier to start in cold weather. It holds its charge better, which lengthens the life of the battery and the materials, as well as the workmanship, used are of the very best. See the one in our window which is cut in cross sections and you will be convinced of its superiority.

W. A. A. MAKES PLANS FOR PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

A short business meeting of the members of the Woman's Athletic Association was held Monday evening. Laura Hammann, president of the Association presided. Laura McGaffey was elected chairman of the committee for drawing up a constitution and Laura Hammann chairman of the committee on points. It was decided to present a petition to the Student Council, making two provisions; that the women's basketball games be placed on the Student activity ticket, and that the Student Council furnish letters for the girls who earned them.

As soon as plans can be perfected, it is planned to present them to the Association for its approval.

The Song of the Vanquished.

Now the battle's over, Bulldogs,
Lomborg's "Ichabods" won the game,
Washburn beat you ten to nothing,
But you fought them just the same.

M. C. honors you, her Bulldogs,
For she knows you all played fair,
And fought it through both well and bravely—
Kept the college spirit there.

Now the Washburn game is over
Think not of it any more
But when you play Salina, Bulldogs,
Get the big end of the score.
—Paul Dick.
