

ALUMNI RENEW OLD-TIME FRIENDSHIP AND PERFECT ORGANIZATION

125 Attend First Reunion Of McPherson County Alumni Association

BANQUET IS FEATURE

THOUGHT BY MANY OLD GRADUATES MAKES Program One Of Rare Interest

The first reunion of the McPherson County Alumni Association of McPherson College was held last Wednesday evening in the music room of Jarnly Hall, and took the form of a homecoming meeting. Many alumni from over the state were in attendance. The affair, celebrated by a banquet, was held for the purpose of renewing old-time friendships and perfecting the new organization. Approximately one hundred and twenty-five people were in attendance.

The college colors were much in evidence in the decorations about the banquet room. Red and white chrysanthemums, and red and white yarn doll favors were used effectively. A splendid dinner was served by the College Hill ladies, and the waiters further carried out the color scheme.

Charles Sandy was toastmaster and cleverly introduced those who were on the program. Mrs. Pauline Vanman Fair opened the evening's program with a piano solo, which was followed by a talk by the president, Dale Strickler, who explained the purpose of the association. Those present had the privilege of hearing Mrs. Susie S. Baylor, who was the first lady A. B. of McPherson College, tell her experiences. Dr. H. J. Harty vividly described the evolution of M. C. and Milan Riddell told of its "Foundations." Maurice Beam delighted the audience with a clever rendition of a saw solo. Professor Mohler was in charge of the "Haps and Mishaps" confessional hour and called upon Professor J. J. Yoder, Andrew Darrab, and Mrs. Theo. Sharp to relate a few of their experiences. A male quartet, composed of Dr. E. L. Hodge, Dr. A. C. Freuburg, Charles Sandy, and Clarence Burkholder sang several times during the program.

Dr. Kurts and Professor G. N. Boone gave pep talks in anticipation of the game on the morrow, and the meeting ended in songs and yells for the Bulldogs.

W. A. A. INTER-CLASS B. B. TOURNAMENT UNDERWAY

Freshman And Sophomore Teams Will Play Tomorrow Night

The girls' inter-class basketball tournament under the supervision of the Women's Athletic Association began this week with a game between the junior and senior girls. Monday evening. The freshman and sophomore teams will play tomorrow evening.

Prospects are good for some good girls' basketball games this year. The freshman class has some excellent material which has been improving in the last two weeks' practice. The other classes, although their material is somewhat limited, have the benefit of several more years of experience and expect to put out winning teams. If followed according to scheduled plans, the inter-class tournament will end before the holidays and the intra-mural teams will organize in preparation for their tournament.

The equipment which has been ordered by the department is expected to arrive soon. Equipment enough has been ordered for all teams that will be organized and will go a long way toward making the season a successful one. The Women's Athletic Association has been fortunate in securing Mrs. Doris Ring Korbman, a former McPherson College basketball star, to referee the class games.

MORAL PERFECTION

In the mind of him who is pure and good will be found neither corruption nor defilement nor any malignant taint. Unlike the actor who leaves the stage before his part is played, the life of such a man is complete whenever death may come. He is neither cowardly nor presuming; not enslaved to life, nor indifferent to its duties; and in him is found nothing worthy of condemnation nor that which putteth to shame.

Test by trial how excellent is the life of the good man—the man who rejoices at the portion given him in the universal lot and abides therein content; just in all his ways and kindly minded toward all men.

This is moral perfection: to live each day as though it were the last; to be tranquil, sincere, yet not indifferent to one's fate.—Marcus Aurelius.

KURTZ GIVES COLLEGE 200 NEW HYMN BOOKS

Smith's "Hymnal For American Youth" Is Title Of New Books

The college is the grateful recipient of over two hundred new hymn books to be used in the McPherson College Chapel. The books were presented by Dr. D. W. Kurtz on his return from a recent trip through Minnesota and Michigan. This gift fills a long-felt want and takes on added value through the careful selection of the donor. In reply to the students' vote of thanks Wednesday, Dr. Kurtz said that his small boys expected a peace offering on his return from a prolonged absence, and with this in mind he had devoted to the purpose the proceeds of his lectures at Cleveland, Detroit and Minneapolis.

The book is H. Augustine Smith's, "Hymnal for American Youth." Its aims are to plumb the rich depths of history, biography and ethics in church music; to humanize the subject, and to link up present day activities with the famous men and events of ecclesiastical history. H. Augustine Smith is one of the most able and well known compilers of hymns, and it is felt that this hymnal will be especially adapted to the needs of the McPherson College group.

AN EXPLANATION

The Christmas season is the business manager's harvest, hence the large number of advertisements this week. The manager is "making hay while the sun shines." Read the advertisements and patronize our advertisers.

Mr. Albert J. Philipp and Mr. Fay E. Bailey, promising young students in the school of discipleship, are reported writing a book to be entitled, "How We Learned about the Green Carpet."

It is to be an account of the sudden rise of two youthful ministerial students to the plush footing which is the Green Carpet, the pinnacle of notoriety.

The two heroes began life in the conventional way by which young men become ministerial students. They moved harmoniously through life early, and attained a widespread popularity among the sort of people with whom ministerial students like to be popular.

They drifted through high school as high school students have a natural way of doing. They made their highest grades in deportment. But of course it is to be reasonably supposed that they were very good students.

MANY ALUMNI EXPRESS HAPPINESS IN RETURN TO THEIR ALMA MATER

Alumni Day Observed During Chapel Hour Last Friday

ALL ARE GLAD TO BE BACK

Old Grad Emphasize Spirit Of McPherson College—Haldeman Sings

"Alumni Day" was observed at the regular chapel hour on Friday. Professor R. E. Mohler led in the devotional service. A number by the chapel orchestra, comprising several old-time melodies, followed. Professor Mohler then announced that several former students and alumni would be asked to speak impromptu. Orville D. Pote of the class of '22 was the first called upon. Mr. Pote responded by saying that he keeps in touch with the College. "The alumni of McPherson College are thinking of the endowment," said Mr. Pote, "and may be depended upon to do their part." Professor Mohler next called upon, Clement Haldeman, a member of the College quartet last year, to sing a solo. Mr. Haldeman responded by singing, "Out on the Deep Blue Sea."

"I am glad you are here and hope you will come often," said Dr. D. W. Kurtz in a word of welcome to the former students. "The future of McPherson College is in your hands," stated Dr. Kurtz.

Mrs. Alma Anderson Moore reminded those present that the teacher in a high school has an opportunity to recommend McPherson College to the graduating students each year. "We are happy to be at home," said Mrs. Moore, "and it does us good to come."

Richard Keim of the class of '25 spoke favorably of the spirit manifest in the student body this year. Chrescio Heckman, '24, likewise mentioned her appreciation of the spirit of the student body. "I am glad to be here," concluded Miss Heckman.

"I've been married," said Harlan Yoder when called upon, "and since then my wife does most of the talking." Professor Mohler then called upon Mrs. Yoder who was formerly Miss Fidelia Franz. "I am glad to come home again," said Mrs. Yoder, "and if my husband and myself are within a radius of a thousand miles we will come again next year."

HAHN IS HONORED

Heinie Hahn, full-back of the McPherson College football team, was chosen as full-back of the third all-star team of the Kansas Conference by a vote of coaches, football officials, and sport writers of Kansas.

for good boys make high grades and bad boys make low grades. Thus spake Zarathustra.

In due time these boys matriculated into college life. They drifted quietly along the college course.

They showed the ravenous appetite for text-books that college students usually show. They became full of text book formulas, axioms, rules and recipes. They made high grades because they learned the text books from A to South Africa, and they could quote authority for their every statement.

They were the kind of boys that ministerial students are GOOD.

Then—it was as if the spirit of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde (or vice versa) had seized them.

One Sunday morning they contrived to get a slumbering fellow out of bed. They filled a bucket with cool, running water, and in convulsions of glee, they raised it to the transom

AN IDEA

We are spirits. That bodies should be lent us, while they can afford us pleasure, assist us in acquiring knowledge, or in doing good to our fellow-creatures, is a kind and benevolent act of God. When they become unfit for these purposes, and afford us pain instead of pleasure, instead of an aid become an incumbrance, and answer none of the intentions for which they were given, it is equally kind and benevolent, that a way is provided by which we may get rid of them. Death is that way. Our friend and we are invited abroad on a party of pleasure, which is to last forever. His chair was ready first and he has gone before us. We could not all conveniently start together; and why should you and I be grieved at this, since we are soon to follow, and know where to find him.—Benjamin Franklin.

FOOTBALL SEASON IS A FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Gate Receipts Of Swede Game Puts Athletic Association In The Clear

"The past football season has been a successful one from the standpoint of finances," says Professor L. L. Briggs, business manager of the McPherson College Athletic Association. "Gate receipts of the Bethany-McPherson game amounting to $1,500 enabled the Association to pay all its debts including deficits for the past two seasons." The basketball season always pays, he said, "and we expect to have a substantial surplus by the end of the year."

Professor Briggs expressed his appreciation of the work of the Maconas, who sold over $400 worth of tickets before the Swede game. Before the game the crowds came so fast it was hard to sell tickets properly.

With the athletic finances in such good condition a good football schedule for next year seems assured. Professor Briggs stated that the past season is the only one since football has been started that it was a financial success. The deficit was formerly made up from the proceeds of the basketball season.

"Athletics," said Professor Briggs, "add a great deal to the life and spirit of the school and I am glad that the season has been a financial success as it practically assures the sanction of the trustees for a football team next year. Without athletics McPherson College would not have the splendid spirit which she now has. Athletic teams do a great deal for the school in the way of advertisement."

Deeds, Not Words, Shall Make Man Free According To Young Ministers

Mr. Albert J. Philipp and Mr. Fay E. Bailey, promising young students in the school of discipleship, are reported writing a book to be entitled, "How We Learned about the Green Carpet."

It is to be an account of the sudden rise of two youthful ministerial students to the plush footing which is the Green Carpet, the pinnacle of notoriety.

The two heroes began life in the conventional way by which young men become ministerial students. They moved harmoniously through life early, and attained a widespread popularity among the sort of people with whom ministerial students like to be popular.

Just then the sleeper awoke, reached for a broom and applied it to the bucket. The jesters were soured!

He then slammed shut the transom. One of the enterprising ministers resolved to overcome all obstacles, and accordingly he took in hand a hefty timber with which he assailed the transom.

There was a crash and a clatter of glass. Two young ministers retreated to their room.

Well, well! Why no, they didn't know anything about it!

Just the same, as Longfellow would have said, they left their footprints upon the green carpet—and some rebellious, married student, seeing, might take heart again.

Thus, by example rather than by mere words, these two young ministers have rendered the greatest good:

"Thus spake Zarathustra."

SWEDS BOLT DOWN CONFERENCE CELLAR DOOR ON McPHERSON

Bethany Goal Line Remains Uncrossed After Tussle With Bulldogs

FIRST HALF SCORELESS

Swedes Overwhelm Bulldogs In Second Half Of Game And Win 28-0

Ad Lindsay's all victorious Swedes securely bolted down the conference cellar door over the heads of the McPherson College Bulldogs in a hard game played here on Thanksgiving day. The annual tangle with the Swedes was a hard one but the Bulldogs, after holding the Scandinavians scoreless for two periods, weakened and allowed them to push over four touchdowns.

The game was played on what was almost an ideal field, but with a north wind blowing down the length of it. McPherson detailed the north goal at the beginning of the game and received Tarrant's kick-off on the 12 yard line. The first quarter was mainly an exchange of punts with the wind favoring the Bulldogs. Line smashes on both sides failed to yield much yardage. The quarter ended with the Swedes in possession of the ball on their own 19 yard line after receiving a 62 yard punt from Hahn.

During the second period Tarrant of Bethany attempted two place kicks with the wind in his favor, Campbell, Bulldog tackle, effectively blocked the first one, and the second missed by several inches. The period ended with the Bulldogs in possession of the ball on their own 17 yard line.

In the third period H. Barclay recovered a McPherson fumble and the Swedes took possession of the ball on the McPherson 35 yard line. Two plunges by E. Barclay netted 6 yards, and two passes, Olson to E. Barclay gained 22 yards and a touchdown. Tarrant's kick added the extra point. The Bulldogs kicked off and E. Barclay carried the ball 85 yards in nine plays for a second Swede touchdown. Tarrant again kicked goal. The Swedes kicked off and the quarter ended with the ball in McPherson's possession on her own 27 yard line.

Early in the final period Hahn punted to the Bulldog 45 yard line and from there Tarrant began a march down the field which lasted for nine plays before the ball crossed the McPherson goal line. Tarrant's toe added the extra point, this time against the wind. A series of plunges by E. Barclay brought the last touchdown and Tarrant again added the extra point. The Bulldogs received the ball and rattled at last. A series of passes netted the Bulldogs two first downs and the game ended with the ball on Bethany's 25 yard line.

For the Bulldogs, Hahn and Shulwater did most of the offensive work. Hahn's line plunges seldom failed to gain ground, and his punts slightly exceeded those of the Swede punter.

Kurtz and Crussacker, who not gaining so much territory, played a consistent game throughout. On the defensive Eggen and Ellwood were probably McPherson's steadiest fighters. "Big Jim" was playing his last college game and the fight he put will long be remembered by those who witnessed the game. Eggen played as always, getting his man and giving all the fight he possessed. The remainder of the line while not showing particularly brilliant football except in the first half, played a game worthy of Bulldogs.

E. Barclay was the outstanding player for Bethany. He carried over three of the Swede's touchdowns. He gained 175 yards of ground for Bethany. Tarrant gained considerable

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1923

Now that the football season is over and the basketball season has not commenced we suggest a few social activities and some hard study.

A TOAST TO OUR SPORTSMEN

Last Thursday marked for three M. C. seniors their last game of Kansas Conference football. Jim and Helen and Sam have played their last football game under the Red and White of McPherson. Sportsmen in victory or defeat they stand as exponents of the true McPherson spirit. They played for the honor of the College rather than for the honor of self. They willingly sacrificed personal honors for the honor of their school. The M. C. captain, who, in the last minutes of the last game of his football career, without a word of his bitter disappointment, yielded his place to a substitute, we honor as a gentleman, and a friend.

To these three men the "M" stands not merely for football honors but for the spirit of M. C. which they have personified. In their careers they have brought honor to M. C. on the gridiron and in their characters.

So here's to Jim and Helen and Sam, possessors of the true M.C. spirit, gentlemen, sportsmen, and friends. May we portray the spirit of McPherson College as well as they.

GREAT MEN

What is it that makes great men great? How is it that some men who have had a limited amount of experience and only a little education attain great heights? What is it that gives a man the shove that sends him above his fellows? What impetus is there that helps many of relatively small capacity to develop their capabilities in such a way as to surpass those who have far greater talent? Why does he of the five talents often surpass his friend of ten?

In our rather limited observation of great men we have come to the conclusion that there are two things that a man must have to become great. One of these principles is the weaving of experience and mastered fact into the cloth of life. Relation of fact is one of the greatest things a man can do. We are continually having bits of information that we possess used in relation to facts which our minds had failed to relate them to. It is this principle that goes far in making a successful man. We women. The more facts a person can relate to each other the greater he becomes. Who has not noticed the clear way that facts are related by great men? Why cannot we as students get into the habit of relating all fact into a coherent mass? Success in any field depends upon the proper relation of facts.

Then there is the other principle, that enthusiasm for service and that good philosophy of life, which all really successful men have. A man without a view of service to humanity and an appreciation of the eternal verities is not a success. Ideals are essential for success and the higher they are and the nearer they come to attaining them the more successful he is.

Let the students of McPherson College form a sound philosophy of life, an appreciation of the things that are eternal, and strive to form the habit of properly relating fact to fact and fact to life.

Student Opinion

THE STUDENT MOVEMENT

Students of McPherson College should take a great interest in the great problems that are facing our nation and the other nations of the world. The nation's problems should be our problems and we should earnestly seek for a solution.

The students of the United States are interested in the World Court question. They are studying it with great earnestness and consideration, and they are going to vote on the question. The results of their votes will be sent to the Senate before it convenes on December 17.

M. C. students, read all available material on this subject and know what students and others are doing and saying about the affairs of the world. Read what leading judges and statesmen say on the question. Do you want the United States to join the World Court? What do you want the Senate to do on December 17? There is excellent material in the library which is interesting and instructive.

Many people are saying that the World Court is the first possible step in establishing peace. Public opinion in the United States seems to favor it. It would set out of the Court the forty-eight nations that have entered would convict us of halterity since it is an outgrowth of an American ideal. We have urged them to join us in creating it and if we refuse their invitation to join they will conclude that we have been deceitful, perfidious, and false.

The vote in the Senate is uncertain. Student opinion on the World Court can accomplish important results if it centers its attention on the critical question now, if it has facts on the question and if it studies the best means of influencing the Senate and uses them.

Students, we want to share with the rest of the students of America in this great need. We want to lend our influence for the good of our country, and the countries of Europe. Read about the World Court and attend discussion groups.

MERLE STOUDEF.

Bethany College is having a popularity contest in which Margaret, Willis, Helen, Mildred, Barney, Ethel, Clarence and "Butter" are entered. We are afraid "Butter" has no show in this cold weather so we cast our votes for Barney, Rose and Bethania. And for the handsome, blue-eyed, light-haired Clarence.

Views of Life Were Discussed by Cassidy

Chapel services on Monday morning were led by Dr. G. W. Cassidy of Wichita who represented Ottawa university. Dr. Cassidy prefaced his address by stating that two-thirds of the leadership of this country today has come from the small denominational colleges which compose only one-third of the student body of the country. Dr. Cassidy asked the question "What is life anyhow?" and answered by saying that it depends upon one's

What Students Think

H. S., one of Dr. Hershey's assistants, hands us the following "ideas" submitted by chemistry students in a recent quiz:

Sheep have the most iodine in the glands of any other animal.

Iodine is found in the thyroid gland of sea plants.

A solid is a substance which requires support on five sides or it is a six sided figure.

And so the mob mind chooses to differ with the men of science!

"Not what one gets but what one gives determines value, and for that reason it is important that one gets the right things." Dr. Cassidy illustrated his remarks by comparing the Dead Sea and the Sea of Galilee in respect to the giving and the receiving of the two bodies of water. "It is a great thing to live a life that counts," said the speaker, "and to do it one must live close to the man of Galilee."

"PROBLEMS OF PEACE"

IS THEM? BY RICHARDS

Rev. H. F. Richards of the McPherson Church of the Brethren led the chapel worship Wednesday using as his theme "The Problems of Peace." Rev. Richards mentioned the various phases of the movements for peace among the nations and discussed the religious phase in particular. "The most tragic phase of the present situation," said he, "is our belated Christianity." He presented the challenge to Christianity to break away from materialism by saying (that the world is waiting for a clean moral victory. "Only by a sacrifice on the part of some nation can lasting peace be brought to earth." "Armoured defenses have failed; only armorless defenses will suffice." "The reason that God is unreal," and Rev. Richards "is that we do not make the moral ventures that make God a necessity."

"The more I study the world, the more am I convinced of the inability of brute force to create anything durable."

Alumni Notes

CLASS OF '23 REUNITES AT HOME OF DR. KURTZ

Several members of the class of '23 who were here for the Thanksgiving vacation held a reunion at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Kurtz at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

The evening was spent in talking school room experiences, talking over hygienic days and planning to music. Cocoa, wafers, and nuts were served as refreshments.

Those present were Elmer Brunk, Ada Kurtz, Harvey McClelland, Miss Edith McGuffey, sponsor of the class, Orville D. Pote, and Ruth (Cripe) Rump of the class of '22 and August Rump of the class of '22.

J. Howard Rieger A. B. '11, has resigned his position in the Needwasha public schools and is now High School Secretary for the Y. M. C. A. at Tulsa, Oklahoma. In the senior high school alone there are 1,500 boys, many of whom are organized into H-Y clubs. The junior high school add their hundreds to those who come under the influence of Mr. Rieger. This position comes to Mr. Rieger as a recognition of his work among the boys of Needwasha and at Camp Wood, Kansas.

LOIS WILBY TO SPEAK TO M. C. STUDENTS

Miss Lois Wilby who represents the International Student Friendship movement will speak to the students of M. C. at the chapel hour on Wednesday, December 2. Miss Wilby has travelled extensively among the nations of Europe and is conversant with the various student and youth movements of the world. She will be remembered as having appeared on the program of the Student Friendship conference which recently convened at McPherson College. Miss Wilby comes under the auspices of the state Y. M. C. A. and of the regional Y. M. C. A.

Poets' Corner

STEVEDORE

I watched him rolling logsheads into a rusty boat.
A bigger in blue overalls
And a tattered coat;
I heard him sadly crooning
A strangely witching tune
Like a ghost of wailing
From beyond the moon.

In a dim black forest a howl came swaying.
Tom-toms throbbing and cymbals
playing;
Minstrel-men in red coats, and street-men in blue
Strutting down the forest lanes
grand review,
Singing for their great king, at tling all about.
Smiling like a bronze god on golden throne.

Humming by the gold throne like
a swarm of bees,
The minstrel-men were swaying
midst the trembling trees,
Then with lips of laughter and with shining eyes
Flower-girls came bringing bloom
of Paradise,
Blossoms red as rapture, blossoms
pinking sweet,
Blossoms that they heaped upon the bronze god's feet.

Stepping to their singing of a huddling song.
Shadows shifting joyously, the toe passed along.
Then the air grew heavy with the scent of musk.
As a golden dancing girl came gleaming through the dusk:
Like a stately Hy, tall and fat and slim.
Dancing to the bronze god, she bowed low to him.
In the dim dark forest with dew
eyes of dreaming.
Tom-toms throbbing and cymbals
screaming.
Weaving through the shadows
shook the Dance of Death.
For the king had wearied of the lips he had caressed,
And she held an adder to her aching breast.

He was rolling logsheads
into a rusty boat.
A tall bronze god in blue jeans
And a rusty coat;
He was ever crooning
The sad soul of a tune,
A ghost of bitter wailing
From the witching moon.
—Edgar Daniel Kramer in Verse

STOIC

I wear my broken heart with pride,
Because it took one such as you
To set a dagger in my love
And break my heart in two.

Nor will I count the tears as lost.
The agonizing tears dropped that
I'd rather say I covered my eyes
To make them bright again.

$412.50 IS RECORD OF MACOEDS IN TICKET SALE

Ruth Helbert's Team Wins Prizes Offered by Athletic Association

Five teams of Macoeds, comprising twenty-five women, sold $412.50 worth of tickets before the Swede game. The prizes offered by the McPherson College Athletic Association for the greatest number of sales was won by the team captained by Ruth Helbert. Madeline Gray, Dorothy Lichty, Helen Lichty, and Viola Bowser were the other members of Miss Helbert's team. Each of the members of the team received an M. C. pennant for their splendid salesmanship and pep. The Athletic Association also presented to Winifred O'Connor, president of the Macoeds, a large M. C. pennant in appreciation of the efforts of the peppy society.

The Macoeds were busy for days before the Swede game, selling tickets and preparing stunts for their organization. Since its organization a few weeks ago the pep organization has been doing a great deal of work and had been instilling pep to the utmost. The Macoeds promise many interesting stunts during the basketball season and are planning to make the debate season a peppy one. McPherson College has never had such a peppy organization as the Macoeds and their influence on the pep and spirit of the school is agreeably noticeable.

ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED for overworked students and athletes engaged in extra-curricular activities and for average and honor students who are working for high scholastic achievement.

Some of the Topics covered

Scientific Shortcuts in Effective Study.	The Athlete and His Studies.
Preparing for Examinations.	Diet During Athletic Training.
Writing Good Examinations.	How to Study Modern Languages.
Brain and Digestion in Relation to Study.	How to Study Science, Literature, etc.
How to Take Lecture and Reading Notes.	Why Go to College?
Advantages and Disadvantages of Cramming.	After College, What?
	Developing Concentration and Efficiency.
	etc., etc., etc., etc., etc.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine. Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful man in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. B. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the students to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a harassment, and an insuperable obstacle to conquest." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort. Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.

BULLDOGS VS. SWEDES

ground and his educated toe never failed to kick goal. Olson's passes to E. Barclay was another feature of the Swede machine.

Pep demonstrations during the half bespoke well the enthusiasm shown by the rooters of both side in support of both elevens. The Maccoeds performed an effective stunt to cheer the Bulldogs and the Blue Dozen did its best for Bethany.

One more page has been turned in Bethany-McPherson history. The Swedes have their third victory in five years, this being the first time that the score was more than seven points for either side. Fans are already beginning to plan revenge in basket ball and track and the 1925 football game.

THE BEST STORE FOR THE

"The Sweetest Voice in the World"

It can't be heard on the campus,
It can't be heard in the classroom,
It can't be heard at the movies,
It can't even be heard on the radio,
In fact, there is only one way for a College Man to hear Mother's voice, and that is—over the Long Distance Telephone.

So, if you want your pulse to tingle pleasantly:
if you want to brighten your spirit as well as your intellect—let Mother greet you over the Long Distance Telephone once every week of your College life.

This little folder has been distributed on the campus. It tells you how low the rates really are.

If your home town is not included in the list,
call the Long Distance Operator and she will give you the rates.
