Foreward

It is a wholesome exercise—the editing of one number of the Magazine. The response to the requests for news was good, yet some who are doing vitally interesting work were either too modest or too busy to report it. The rest of us are the Insers, for we wanted much to hear from them. I hope this number will bring news of interest to all of you and that you will have the kindness to overlook errors that are not too serious and omissions that were not intentional. I am particularly indebted to Eunice Almen, John Wall, R. E. Mohler, and Dale Strickler, who helped secure material, to Orville D. Pote, who took full charge of the printing; and to Ethel Sheryf, '32, who addressed the wrappers.

Do Your Part

The life membership of the Alumni Association is proving to be the stabilizing factor in the support of the organization. This membership of fifteen dollars is used as endowment, the income from which serves the Association for current expenses. If every alumnus would be willing to pay the annual dues of one dollar, our income would be far more than it is from this endowment. It will be noted in the summarized statement, that only sixty-six members paid annual dues in 1930. Only forty-one paid these dues in 1931. At this rate, the Association could not send out one letter a year. Consequently, it is increasingly important that the life membership fund be built up, so that more of the Association's plans can be carried out. The organization uses all the money at its command to keep in touch with alumni. Memberships are solicited at any time.

An Explanation

In another column of this paper is printed a summarized statement from the treasurer for the year, April 19, 1930 to April 17, 1931. Alumni frequently ask, "What happens to the money that I have paid for a life membership?" or "What is done with the dollar I pay annually?" It is hoped that this statement will help to answer those questions. The Magazine is the largest item of expenditure. Through the kindness of some alumni, advertising was secured which helped pay part of this expense. Both numbers of the Magazine were sent to all alumni regardless of life membership or paid-up annual dues. Such a policy may not be possible in later years, but we feel justified in following it now. The result is that a few are paying for the benefit of many. Other major expenses include the banquet at which the graduates of the current year and of the tenth year are guests of the Association, the expenses of the member on the Board of Trustees, the secretary's salary, postage and printing. The books are open at any time, and the treasurer solicits suggestions for ways and means of increasing the income and of spending it more wisely.

Don't forget the advertisers. They mean business, and they deserve the attention of readers of this magazine. They support the Alumni Association. Alumni should support them.

Before You Forget

Will you not send to the Association any changes of address that have occurred recently? We try to keep an accurate file of all alumni. Will you help?

A Correction

Through an error it was stated in the last Alumni Magazine that a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher, December 15, 1930. This little girl is the daughter of Mrs. Glade Fisher. Friends will recall the tragic death of Glade Fisher in the autumn of 1930, while he was hunting. The Magazine regrets the error.

On February 22 the many friends of Dr. H. J. Harnly met to honor him because of his seventieth birthday. This year also is the fortieth year of his association with McPherson College. The reception was followed by a brief program and a social hour in the parlors of the college church.

McPherson College will entertain the meeting of the Kansas Academy of Science, April 15 and 16. It is estimated that two hundred scientists of Kansas will attend this meeting.

From The President

'Tis an easy task to pilot a ship through quiet waters. But when the sea is rough and the waters troubled, the skill of pilot and crew is sorely tried.

For a decade or more American education has been sailing on quiet seas. Every kind of school has been growing and prospering. Institutions grew and multiplied. There seemed to be no end to the expansive power of American education or American finance from 1919 to 1929.

But now we have encountered an economic storm. These days reveal where there has been waste and weakness. Not a few American institutions have crashed, many colleges and universities are being tried as by fire. Some will not survive the storm.

This time of crisis will reveal the capacity of our institutions. Those that have the adaptability to adjust their program to the changes that have so suddenly come upon us have a chance to live; especially if they leave convinced a critical public that they justify their existence.

At McPherson College we are using whatever of wisdom we have to adjust our program to the changed times. We are doing this just as much as is consistent with keeping up the reputation for high quality work, which has been won through many years.

We are eagerly expecting, too, a hearty response from those loyal friends of the College who know how critical these days are and who believe that the maintenance of our spiritual institution is of paramount importance.

Accepts College Presidency

Dr. D. W. Kurtz, president of McPherson College from 1914 to 1927, has accepted the presidency of Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, made vacant by the resignation of President A. C. Wicand. Dr. Kurtz is eminently qualified for this position. His training has included attendance at many great American universities, including Yale and Pennsylvania, and the European universities of Leipzig, Berlin, Marburg, and the Sorbonne. His advanced degrees are A. M., B. D., D. D., and LL. D. He has traveled widely over the world, to Japan, Palestine, Syria, Egypt, and many times to Europe. His pastoral work and lecturing have brought him an acquaintance with the Church of the Brethren all over the United States and a wide acquaintance with church leaders of all denominations. Dr. Kurtz is the present moderator of the Annual Conference which he has served repeatedly in important ways. He has had teaching and administrative responsibilities in Juniata, McPherson, and La Verne colleges. His presidency at McPherson was marked with a vigorous policy for increased enrollment and endowment, and for higher educational and spiritual attainments. In view of his many qualifications and his devotion to his church, it seems particularly fitting that Dr. Kurtz should assume the presidency of the seminary. He takes up his duties on July 1, 1932.

Hershey Achieves New Honors

Dr. J. W. Hershey of the chemistry department has achieved new honors. Two year ago the scientific world was thrilled when he announced the making of a synthetic diamond. Both the diamond and its maker received considerable publicity. More recently Dr. Hershey has been working in another field, that of synthetic atmosphere, and in the last year this work has attracted wide-spread attention. During the year Dr. Hershey has presented papers on this research before three large scientific conventions. In March he appeared before the American Chemical Society in Indianapolis. A few weeks later he read papers before the Kansas Academy of Science. The crowning event of the year was his Christmas holiday trip to New Orleans, for the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, where he presented a paper, slides, and a film made in the McPherson College laboratories. The December issue of the Scientific American, carried an article written by Dr. Hershey which discussed many of his experiments and discoveries concerning the effect of different atmospheres on animal life. Increasing the percentages of the rare gases was found to increase the length of the life. It is believed that these discoveries will affect deep-sea diving, mining, submarines, aeronautics, and the ventilation of buildings. Sir George Herbert Wilkins used Dr. Hershey's discoveries in fitting out his submarine, Defender, for his proposed Arctic expedition under the ice fields.

Herbert Mowbray has been president of the "M" Club during this school year.

Finds Canada Interesting

Lela Hultqvist Booth, '29, finds life in Dolbeau, Quebec, Canada, different from that of Kansas plains. She and her minister husband must travel one hundred miles if they care to visit their nearest Protestant minister. She calls it a "little trip" through that country of "one river and lake after another." The method of travel during the winter is chiefly by dog sleigh, a method which is not so slow as it might seem. She says the Laurentian mountains separate their paper mill town of 1,500 inhabitants from the rest of the world, and to the north the next point of interest is the Pole.

McPherson College Loyalty Fund

The Board of Trustees, while in session February 2 and 3, established the McPherson College Loyalty Fund as a method of meeting the crisis of the economic depression. This movement was made necessary by the fact that all sources of income upon which the College normally depends have been reduced. Income from investments, income from college farms, income from gifts from individuals and churches, and income from students all have been reduced. Many colleges are facing possible closure due to the economic depression and enormous debts they are accumulating during these difficult days. In order not to handicap and cripple McPherson College permanently in this period of crisis, the trustees are determined to secure funds wherever available to make up any deficit in the budget which may appear during the year. The faculty have already contributed liberally by giving three or four thousand dollars in a refund from their salaries. Some alumni have given individual gifts. Churches sent in offerings on McPherson College day. The Booster Banquet to be held on April 1 and further gifts from individuals will increase the amount. The trustees felt the need so keenly that they raised in a few minutes six hundred fifty dollars in cash to add to this fund. Alumni of the College who have received benefits here and who love their Alma Mater will be asked to give ten to twenty-five dollars or more to aid in this cause. Daniel Webster said of Dartmouth, "The college may be small but there are those who love it." If alumni love their Alma Mater and are loyal to her, that love and loyalty will be measured by their willingness to give for her in this time of need. Teachers who have good teaching positions on regular salaries should be able to give amounts which would help out materially during the winter. Watch the McPherson College Loyalty Fund grow.

Nearly 600 Attend Banquet

McPherson's first Booster Banquet, March 27, 1931, brought an attendance of nearly six hundred, and a most substantial addition to the maintenance funds of the College. Governor Harry M. Woodring was the chief speaker of the evening. Dr. A. C. Wieand of Chicago, Supt. R. W. Potwin of the McPherson schools, Miss Louise Leslie of the state board of education, Dr. George Gemmell of Manhattan, and Mayor D. R. Malthy of McPherson were guests who spoke briefly during the banquet. Senator W. J. Krehbiel of McPherson was toastmaster of the evening. Many factors contributed to the success of the evening: the delicious dinner served by the women of the Brethren Church, the enthusiasm of the college students, the hearty support of townspeople, the alumni who drove a great distance to be present, and not the least, the blizzard which made necessary the chartering of a special train to bring the governor here.

The New Dean

Prof. Fred A. Replege assumed at the beginning of the school year the administrative position of dean-registrar of the College. Mr. Replege came to McPherson from the University of Chicago where he was completing his work for the doctor's degree. He holds a master's degree from Northwestern University. He has had a wide experience in teaching and administrative work in public schools, as director of young people's work, and as research director for the Methodist Educational Board. Mr. Replege is a man of pleasing personality and sterling character. He is highly respected on the campus as a teacher, as an administrator, and as a counselor. His training in psychology and his honest understanding of student problems has made possible work that is proving to be very effective. The Alumni Magazine is glad to recognize the valuable contribution Dean Replege makes to the college life and to welcome him to the larger McPherson family.

Dean Fred A. Replege

Former Professors

Miss Mildred Thuzow is studying in Cornell University.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Williams of Chicago are parents of a son born in October.

Miss Laurene Steven is studying in the University of California at Los Angeles.

Celesta Wine is continuing her work for the doctor's degree in English from the University of Chicago.

Miss Mayme Welker, former teacher of home economics, was married January 27 to Lewis Letholt of Bremer, Missouri.

Miss Florence Teager is teaching in the Illinois Teachers College at Normal. Miss Teager received the doctor's degree from the University of Iowa last August.

"Dutch" Lomborg, director of athletics at McPherson College, 1921-1923, now basketball coach at Northwestern University, Chicago, secured the Big Ten basketball championship for 1931.

Dr. D. W. Kurtz conducted revival services for the Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, Church of the Brethren, beginning January 31. Dr. Kurtz is an alumnus of Juniata College, Huntingdon, having received his A. B. degree in 1905.

Dr. A. J. Culler now of Cleveland, Ohio, former pastor of the college church and professor of theology in the College, is the author of a delightful book, "Creative Religious Literature," published by the Macmillan Company.

A few months before the death of the late Dr. Sharp, first president of the College, his picture appeared in the "Believe It or Not" column of Ripley, the famous cartoonist, with the statement that he heard Abraham Lincoln deliver the famous Gettysburg address, November 19, 1863.

George Gardner, now coach of basketball at Washburn College, was asked to train the Henrys, independent team from Wichita, for the national basketball tournament in Kansas City last March. With Mr. Gardner in charge of the team at the tournament, and Melvin Miller one of the star players, McPherson people rejoiced particularly in the Henrys' championship.

The Class of '32 has invited Dr. I. N. McCash, president of Phillips University, Enid, Oklahoma, to give the commencement address, on May 27. Dr. McCash is a speaker of national repute.

Former Students

Janette Hoover has been transferred from the offices of the United Telephone Company of McPherson, to the main office at Abilene.

Irene Stover is taking training in the technical department of Research Hospital, Kansas City.

Dwight Newberg has received a number of honors at the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia. Some recent ones are editor of the Bulletin, the school paper, president of the junior class, and president of the non-fraternity men.

Stewart Bailey successfully passed the Oklahoma state bar examination recently and was admitted to the Oklahoma Bar Association as a full-fledged lawyer. Mr. Bailey studied at the University of Oklahoma after leaving McPherson College.

Marion Krehbiel took charge of the Lenora, Kansas, News about a year ago. Previous to that time he had been associated with the Ellis Review.

D. D. Harner and wife, now in pastoral work at Plattsburg, Missouri, attended the Regional Conference at McPherson, February 1 to 5.

Mrs. Alfred Means (Louise Muck) of Valentine, Texas, delights in her two children, a son two years old and a baby daughter born at Christmas time.

William Riddlesbarger and family have recently located in McPherson.

Charles Collins teaches in a rural school near Larned.

Lillian Horning is teaching in the grades at Jetmore, Kansas.

H. D. Michael is pastor of the Larned, Kansas, Church of the Brethren.

Charles Bish is a senior in the dental college of Leland Stanford University.

E. B. Engle who was in McPherson College two years, 1916-18, is assistant professor in the department of agronomy, University of Nebraska. He has charge of undergraduate teaching in soils.

Essie Kimball of Nickerson decided to stay at home and secure her second year of college work at Hutchinson.

Sue Ganson, since graduation from the University of Kansas, has secured an important position in the psychology department of the College of Physical Research, University of Cleveland.

Charles Mattox, an art student in Kansas City, tried an experiment last summer in free lance work. He "hitch hiked" to Taos, New Mexico, late in the summer, sketched, painted, sold enough of his work to make his expense, and came back to Kansas City for the winter. He now has a studio of his own, has sold many pictures in the city, and has, apparently, a bright future.

Robert Sohlberg, Jr., has been selected by the faculty of the school of medicine at Northwestern University as an assistant gross anatomy. Mr. Sohlberg took up his duties at the opening of the fall term. At the same time he continues his work on research problems in neurological anatomy.

The Denver Post relates the story of Mrs. Elsie M. Corwin, formerly Miss Elsie M. Stevens, a student in 1917-18, who has been achieving recognition for her work as a writer. It will be remembered that Mrs. Corwin is blind and that in McPherson College she had to make use of a reader.

Lena Caudle has inaugurated a high type of employment service for Tulsa, Oklahoma, known as the Caudle Personnel Service.

Rachel Stratton Dunlap is now living at Fargo, North Dakota, where she is completing a course in business training. A year ago at Christmas time, Mrs. Dunlap's husband died after a year's illness. Mrs. Dunlap has an eight-year-old daughter, Patricia Louise.

Dr. S. Z. Sharp Passes Away

Dr. S. Z. Sharp, founder of McPherson College and its president from 1888 to 1894, died in a hospital at Fruita, Colorado, on August 8, 1931, from injuries received in an automobile accident two weeks previously. His obituary as printed in the McPherson Daily Republican last August is as follows:

Solomon Z. Sharp, the founder and first president of McPherson College, was born December 21, 1895, near Allentown, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania. He was educated at the State Teachers' College at Millersville, Pennsylvania, in 1860. He united with the Church of the Brethren the same year and also taught Kishacoquillas Seminary of which he was principal six years. In 1862 he was married to Miss Salome Zook. This union was blessed with six children. The same year he was called to the ministry and began the four years correspondence course of the Boston School of the Bible. In 1863 he heard Lincoln deliver his memorable Gettysburg address. In 1866 he sold his seminary and went to the State Teachers' College to study for his master's degree. In 1868 he went to Maryville, Tennessee, and within a year organized the Oakland Church of the Brethren. In this year he was also ordained to the eldership. While in Maryville he taught in Maryville College and spent his summer vacation at the school of geology of Harvard University. In 1867 at the recommendation of Professor Shaler of Harvard he was elected to The American Association of the Advancement of Science. In 1878 he was elected president of Ashland College, Ohio, which he helped to establish. In 1879 he began to publish a Sunday school paper entitled, Our Sunday School, being the first Sunday school literature published for the Church of the Brethren. In 1881 he resigned his presidency of Ashland College to become acting president of Mt. Morris College, Illinois. In 1887 that college conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws. In 1888 he was elected president of McPherson College, Kansas, of which he is the founder. In 1894 he was elected president of Plattsburg College, Missouri. In 1907 his wife's health required that he bring her to a dry climate hence he came to Fruita, Colorado, where he organized a church of the Brethren of which he had charge twelve years. In August, 1928, he attended the fiftieth anniversary of Ashland College, Ohio, when that institution conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Annie Davis of Washington, D. C., nine grandchildren, and eleven great grandchildren. He died at the Fruits hospital, Fruita, Colorado, August 8, 1931, following injuries received in an automobile accident two weeks previously. He was 95 years, 7 months, and 18 days old. Funeral services were conducted by Dr. J. J. Yoder, assisted by Rev. H. F. Richards and Dr. V. F. Schwalm. Services were held in the Brethren Church.

Writes History of County

Edna Nyquist, '31, has been occupied throughout the summer and winter in the task of gathering material and writing a history of McPherson County, for the County Historical Association. Miss Nyquist has visited old settlers in every township, has interviewed many early citizens, has checked and rechecked her material, until it is as nearly accurate as she can make it. The book, "Pioneer Life and Lore of McPherson County," is to be published by Warren Knaus of the Democrat-Opinion. There are tales of heroism and adventure, as well as records of long, prosaic struggles in these pages.

Dr. A. C. Wieand Resigns

A. C. Wieand, '95, after twenty-seven years of service, has resigned as president of Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago. Through all these years he has carried a double load,—on the one hand of teaching, on the other of administration. For some years Dr. Wieand has had the growing feeling that there must be some relief from these too heavy responsibilities. The condition of his health and the death of E. B. Hoff brought him to the place of resignation, either from teaching or the presidency. The latter course was followed, the Trustees accepted his request, and he is now free to teach and to write and to preach, so long as his health permits. Dr. Wieand is a man of thorough training and wide experience. He was educated in Northern Ohio Normal, Juniata and McPherson Colleges, Columbia College of Expression, University of Chicago, Biblical Seminary in New York, Columbia, Yale, Harvard and Boston Universities. He also did work in the foreign universities of Jena and Leipzig, and research in religious education in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France, Denmark, Sweden, England, and Scotland. He traveled extensively in Europe, Palestine, Syria, Egypt, India, and Burma. His teaching experience includes Juniata, McPherson, New York Biblical Seminary, and Bethany Seminary. His list of degrees includes A. B., A. M., M. S. D., Ph. D., B. D., Th. D., and D. D.

Deaths

Mrs. Jessie Churchill Rump, wife of Irvin Rump, a former student and secretary in the offices of the College, died on August 8, after giving birth to a daughter on August 1. Mrs. Rump was a young woman of beautiful character and her passing was deeply lamented by her many friends.

Betty Karlina Schmidt, the little four-year-old daughter of John and Floye Rhodes Schmidt, died in McPherson on January 8, 1932, as a result of scarlet fever.

Marie Reimer, '29, died this autumn at her home, Canton, Kansas, after a lingering illness.

S. H. Wray, former superintendent of buildings and grounds, died at his home in McPherson, on December 4, after an illness of several months.

W. E. Ray, Ph. M., '06, died at his home in Houston, Texas, in February, 1931. Mr. Ray took considerable interest in his college throughout his life time. For a number of years he donated the prize money for the local peace oratorical contest. Mr. Ray was a contractor in Houston.

Frank S. Green, commercial '93, of Sacramento, California, died on February 26, 1931, of pneumonia. At the time of his death he was operating a hotel in Sacramento.

Mrs. W. T. Lockett, '25, died at Hutchinson, Kansas, on February 13, 1932, of double pneumonia.

The 1931 Quadrangle, edited by Harry Zinn, received first class honor rating from the National Scholastic Press Association. This was the second year that the McPherson yearbook has been given this recognition. The 1931 yearbook received a total score of 890 out of a possible score of 1,000.

Marriages

On December 14, 1930, at the Church of the Brethren at La Verne, California, Inez Freeburg of Whittier, California, became the bride of T. Frank Clark of Pomona, California. The ceremony was read by Rev. J. M. Mishler of La Verne, former pastor of the Brethren Church in Newton.

The marriage of Eunice Longsdorff, '29; and J. Dwight Roland took place at Navarre, Kansas, on April 2, 1931. Mr. Roland is principal of the Ellsworth high school.

On Sunday, May 24, 1931, at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. Hugh Heckman, Mabel Lee Early of Stet, Missouri, and Walter A. Fillmore, '30, of Ripley, Oklahoma, were married. Mr. and Mrs. Fillmore are teaching in the consolidated school at Ripley.

Bernice McClellan, '30, and Raymond Trostle, '28, were married on May 27, 1931, at Glasco, Kansas.

Nada Mae Ritz and Lawrence S. Barngrover, both of McPherson, were united in marriage by Rev. J. H. Anderson, pastor of the First Christian Church, on May 27, 1931.

In a double wedding ceremony solemnized in Wichita, Kansas, May 30, 1931, at the home of Probate Judge J. D. Dickerson, Viola Crippen became the bride of Orion W. High. Mr. and Mrs. High are at home in McPherson.

Opal Fannen and Stanley Bullard, both of Kansas City, Missouri, were married on June 4, 1931.

The marriage of Arnan Brigham, '29, and Russell McCoy occurred on May 25, 1931. They are at home at Vesper, Kansas.

Helen Eberly, '32, and Rush Holloway, '30, were married on May 30, 1931. Mr. Holloway is teaching in the McPherson junior high school.

The marriage of Ruth Lindholm and Lawrence Barna took place in the parlors of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in Wichita, June 11, 1931, with Dr. Frank Neff officiating. They were attended by Dorothy Lindholm and Ray Nonken. Mr. Barna is employed at the Hubbell Drug Store in McPherson.

On June 13, 1931, Marjorie Shumway of Little River and Byron H. Sjoberg of Hutchinson were united in marriage, Rev. Major W. Parker of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Sjoberg are making their home in Hutchinson, Kansas.

Alumni Meet in Chicago

A McPherson College reunion in the form of a banquet was held in the parlors of the Church of the Brethren in Chicago, February 14, 1931, with about forty alumni and friends of the College present. Ora Houston, '27, acted as toastmaster. Talks were given by Dr. Harms, '17, of the Northern Baptist Seminary, Chicago, S. C. Miller, '06, and Rufus Bowman, both of Elgin, Illinois, and by President Schwalm. Miss Bernice Peck, '25, played a piano solo. The reunion was planned and carried out chiefly through the efforts of Alvin Voran, '28.

To the Class of 1923

Only one year more till 1933 when it will have been half a score of years since the Class of '23 went out to conquer the world. How many interesting things must have happened to each of us in this span of years that sounds so long but seems so short. Wouldn't it be great to all get together and rub the tarnish off our old friendships? Next year is our special year to "reunite" and dig up old memories again. Not only those that lie buried in an ancient glass bottle behind Harnly Hall but those less tangible ones that have never been written on paper. When you find yourself saying you can't possibly manage to get here,—remember our old motto, "The impossible is un-American," and come!

Rowena Vanman Sargent

Conducts Research Tests

Alice N. Vogt, '17, has been given deserved recognition for her outstanding work with hearing tests. She is now a part-time teacher at the University of Ohio, Columbus, where she is conducting some research in psychological testing. Miss Vogt recently published an article on the technique of testing the hearing ability of children. In December she read a paper, "The Relation Between Speech Difficulties and Hearing Ability," before the American Society for the Study of Disorders of Speech, at its meeting in Detroit, Michigan. Miss Vogt's work with the audiometer is outstanding in America. Her chief task is to find the difficulty, and, if medical treatment is needed, to send the child to specialists. Miss Vogt plans to do supervisory work in special education.

Warren Becomes Co-Pastor

Paul Warten, '20, has been, since 1923, associated with the West End Presbyterian Church of New York City. For several years he was assistant pastor, then acting associate pastor, and now is installed as co-pastor. He is the third minister in the history of the church, the senior minister now being in the twenty-eighth year of his pastorate. His church is an active one and is doing much to meet the challenge of New York which demands an aggressive ministry. There are twenty-five hundred members scattered all over the city and its suburbs. The morning services have been broadcast for nine years. In addition to pastoral duties, Mr. Warren teaches six hours in the Biblical Seminary of New York.

Class of '22 To Hold Meeting

The Class of 1922 will gather on the campus during commencement week, May 22 to 27, for its tenth anniversary celebration. There will be many reminiscences of active days in college halls, much news of dreams realized, and more of events not thought of in 1922. The class will come from far and near. While twenty-four call Kansas their home after ten years, the rest are scattered in twenty different states of the Union. California claims five; Nebraska, four; Washington, Missouri, and Iowa, three each; Colorado, Ohio, and Oklahoma, two, each; and other states one each. There are teachers, housewives, ministers, business men, farmers, and doctors. While it is too early yet to know just who will be here, many are expected. Harold Beam of McPherson is in charge of local arrangements. Mr. Beam states that the entire week will be one of much interest and inspiration. Thursday, May 26, is to be the big reunion day with a luncheon at noon and the alumni banquet in the evening. Many of the class remember the delightful reunion in 1927 and hope this one will be even better.

Keeps Up Interest in Meteors

H. H. Nininger, '14, is still collecting and studying meteorites. He now has the largest private collection in America. During the past year he has collected more meteorites than all other American collectors combined. But collecting and lecturing that Mr. Nininger engages in do not take all his time. He has written twelve scientific papers during the past year and a 350-page book. Mr. Nininger finds an able assistant his wife, Mrs. Addie Delp Nininger. The Niningers live in Denver where Mr. Nininger is associated with the city museum. In a pamphlet published by the Colorado Museum of Natural History, two previously undescribed meteorites are discussed by Professor Nininger. The description covers the two meteorites that he examined and classified for the Mexico City Museum last year when he visited that country in search of meteorites. Professor Nininger is fast gaining recognition as one of the best versed authorities on meteorites in this country.

Miss Lora Trastle, house mother at Arnold Hall from 1915 to 1930, is spending the winter with relatives and friends in California. She and her sister, Mrs. L. T. Shirk, left McPherson early in November.

Your Opportunity To Help

In other columns is mentioned the idea paramount at the College in these days of financial stress—the determination to carry on the finances without accumulating debts that will permanently cripple the organization. The Loyalty Fund, an outgrowth of this determination, is growing constantly. Here is a copy of the card. Some alumni who receive salaries regularly will want to sign this card, indicating the amount, and send it to the College. You are earnestly solicited to give this matter your most earnest consideration.

Would You Leave your family without money?

Then make plans to have an income continue for their lives.
