FORWORD

*Defiant, we face our destiny without fears!
We hear the future's reverberant challenge;
Its strident mockery rings in our ears.
Cursing the future's hardness,
We laugh and play,
Reveling in the moment's pleasure.
Forgetting the sorrows of yesterday and today,
We mould our ultimate destiny
And look with fearless eyes into eternity.*

MACOLLEGE IN NORTH CENTRAL

Students in Outlying States May Take Their Credits Home and Have Them Accepted by School Boards and Other Colleges

On April 7th McPherson College was admitted to the North Central Accrediting Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools after a number of years of strenuous campaign on the part of the entire administrative staff notable among whom were Dr. Schwalm and business manager J. H. Fries.

One among the bigger contributions that membership in the association will make will be that of institutional self-respect and faith in its own ability. Perhaps it would be wise to say that intrinsically a college is much the same when it becomes a member of the association as it was before it was admitted, as a bank is much the same bank after inspection and approval by a federal bank inspector. But after it has been approved there is added faith and confidence on the part of the public besides increased self-respect and self-confidence on the part of those working within.

One of the marked benefits resulting from membership is out-of-state recognitions. All will realize the importance of this for since the college lost its membership in the association in 1927 the out-of-state students have been faced with the problem of getting their credits recognized by the departments of education of their home states. To obtain teaching positions most of them have had to take additional steps in schools in the west in which they proposed to teach. This has been especially true in Idaho and Iowa. In other states McPherson college graduate have been discriminated against by high schools that were members of the North Central Association. Maccollege graduates have long been discriminated against when seeking entrance into graduate schools where the college was not so well known. Some capable students have been refused consideration for scholarships and fellowships on the sole and insignificant basis that they did not hold a diploma from an accredited school. Many have had to take entrance examinations for graduate work that they would not have if their alma mater had been a member of the powerful North Central Association. These problems exist no longer by virtue of the College's new membership in the North Central Association.

At the present time many agencies such as the American Council on Education and the United States Bureau of Education print lists of accredited colleges. In many of these lists McPherson College does not appear because it has not in the past been recognized. McPherson College will henceforth appear on the lists of accredited colleges.

Throughout the campaign for Maccollege's good fortune there has been emphasized the fact that this is not an ultimate goal but merely a step in helping McPherson aims to greater heights of educational service and Christian character training. Dr. Schwalm has warned that the college and its constituents must not rest on past achievements. He tells the following anecdote about how who fell out of bed and when asked why responded, "I guess I was trying to find where I am."

Maccollege is greatly indebted to the splendid work of all the faculty, trustees, old men's aid body, and especially the constituency. Dr. Schwalm in his statement to the press said, "The fine cooperative support of the city of McPherson for the last decade, through the Booster Banquet in particular, has been of inestimable value in assisting those at the college."

The Quadrangle salutes its Alma Mater.

MACCOLLEGE PRESIDENT

Those who have had some glimpse of the many things the president does in one day marvel continually at his calm and apparent unruffledness. Troubled students, board conferences, committee meetings, consultations with other educators—all these things make their demands upon his time. But throughout all he always has time for the problems of the students and faculty. He takes the time for the personal touch that is so essential for the smooth and harmonious working of any small, well-knit organization like our McPherson College.

Dr. Schwalm has been intimately associated with collegiate folk, and, axiomatically, with collegiate problems since 1911 when he began teaching history in Manchester College. He was then made dean of the college in Manchester in 1918 in which position he served until he was made President of our Maccollege in 1927. He was awarded the Ph. D. of the University of Chicago in 1926 and has since studied omnivorously and traveled widely.

His career as president of McPherson College has been fraught with depression and the consequential depopularization of classicism. Couple with this young people nourished on gasoline and reared in the feverish heat of industrial and class strife and the chaos of national vandalism, and one has delineated the problems of the modern educator. But, in spite of the impingement of these forces, Dr. Schwalm has consistently stood for the highest ideals of democracy and Christianity.

VITALITY, INSPIRATION

Dean of Women

Vitality and aliveness are the qualities in Dean Shockley with which the people she contacts are the most impressed. The reason is that it is probably the most characteristic thing about her. In committee meetings, in classes, and in society everyone feels the force of her aliveness. Her classes are informal and witty, yet one feels an undercurrent of force, of aggressiveness, of vigor.

Couple with this breadth of interest, depth of personality, humor, and real sympathy, and you have the reason for the continued popularity of our Dean of Women.

Dean of Men

Summed up in brief form it can be said that Professor Dell's attitude toward his job is that it should be inspirational, not corrective. He feels that he should be a guide, not a reformer. Any one at any time can talk over his problems with Professor Dell. The only requisite is that the problem seem important to the student, and Professor Dell will listen. If you need to get something off your chest, you will find a genuinely sympathetic audience in Professor Dell. His occasional efforts in unearthing anti-social activities merely prove that it is mandatory that a reasonable degree of order be maintained.

I will lift up mine eyes to the Dean whence cometh my help. He will not suffer me to have conflicts, nor will he suffer me to take subjects for which I am unprepared. Yea, though I walk through the valley and shadow of registration, I will fear no evil for his decrees and his notations are with me. All of which, is the added psalmist's way of saying the best way of getting a knotty curriculum problem solved is to go see the Dean. His sympathy, sense of humor, and unhurried efficiency, coupled with his grasp of the administrative problems of education are the things that most peculiarly fit him for the position of Dean.

In his classes he is superb. No one is ever refused the opportunity of airing his views, but they are never allowed to rule. His wit at all times makes the classes most interesting. Although the students may rave at high speed about the injustices of the teaching profession, he is the picture of calmness and amiability. Many students will remember Dr. Boitnott's long legs wrapped around the little stand from which he taught long after they have forgotten the most points of reading didactic, school administration or curriculum plans and project methods.

DISCIPLES OF APOLLO

Under the capable direction of Phil Myers, its president, the "M" Club promoted athletics on the McPherson College campus this year. One of the first enactments of the legislative body was a rule concerning the holding of the traditional belt-lines. The "M" Club decreed the belt-lines were to be held on the noon of the day on which any athletic event was to be held. This rule was enforced in a peaceable manner and eliminated the former haphazard methods of determining when belt-lines were to be held.

Ten new initiates were brought into the club in the proper manner this spring when the annual "M" Club Initiation was held. Sam Elrod of the chain gang had quite a heavy "ball and chain." Harold Young, with his entire fishing outfit, failed in his attempt to catch someone "hook, line, and sinker," as was shown later. Calvin Jones, one of the Jones girls, flirted with some and squelched other would-be admirers.

Robert Cook, impeded by a heavy mattress, was the slowest curvy on Macampus. Robert Seidel, shoe-shine sambo, went about his task with cheerfulness. Rumpelstiltskin Dohn Miller finally learned how to negotiate the many stairways on Macampus.

Husky Jim Lambert couldn't seem to get used to his former toys, the skates and an old tire. Disguised as a garbage man, Art Schubert, the only freshman initiate, carried his business with him. S. G. Hoover and Richard Burger were quite ladylike in their wiles during the initiation.

Another by-law passed by the "M" clubbers, many of whom were later to rue the deed, was that a penalty of 25 cents or fifteen swats was to be paid by any member missing a regular meeting without sufficient reason.

BULLDOG BOOSTERS

Exuberance, enthusiasm, pep, and hilarity were at a zenith during the annual snake dance led by the Pep club in the fall of the year. Everyone was dressed in their loudest pajamas, and excitement ran so high that in comparison a New Year's celebration would have seemed as dull as "you-know-whose" classes. The human snake wound through the entire business section, stopping at the intersections to cheer and stop traffic. Large crowds were drawn to some of these. After yelling themselves hoarse, yanking their arms almost from their sockets, and parading single file through hotels and restaurants, the entire student group finally ended the evening's sport as guest of one of the local theaters.

It has been the task of the Pep club to provide for the weekly pep chapels during football and basketball season. As all remember these were all good, and some were downright ingenious. All will remember Ferdinand's command appearance, and other celebrities such as August San Romani who conducted a quiz using the basketball squad as his participants.

Poor old "Olie, the Swede" really had a hot time at his funeral and cremation when the Pep club took on the role of undertaker the night before the Swede game. A giant pep rally and assembly watched the sparks ascend and the soul of "Olie" wing its way to the Valhalla of vanquished gladiators.

Another manifestation of the Pep club's enthusiasm was the colossal production staged in the gymnasium. A carnival, at which everything imaginable was present from bingo to throwing at milk bottles and having your fortune told by a mysterious gypsy.

Identified by their white sweaters with red bulldogs, and by their pep, the Pep club gave the teams a big boost throughout the year.

EXONENTS OF SPORT

W. A. A. on Macampus means a great deal to the fifty girls that make up its organization.

The club's purpose is to help girls to find a sport in which they are interested and thereby make their leisure time more enjoyable. Surely there is no better place to discover the true qualities of a girl than in sports which develop leadership, sportsmanship, and physical fitness, but more than that—character.

The organization is composed of six clubs—Basketball, Volleyball, Recreational Sports, Orchesis, Outing, Softball—to enable the girls to select the club or clubs in which they are most interested.

The year of '39-40 will be remembered as a year of many interesting events.

Six delegates attended the State W. A. A. Convention held at Ottawa at which time McPherson was voted a member of the Kansas State W. A. A.

A "Mexican Fiesta" was sponsored in the fall for girls from near-by high schools. The value of learning to play together rather than against each other was clearly shown throughout the day.

December 9, '39, will be remembered by each Co-ed as the date for our annual Volleyball Play Day. Representatives of seven colleges and universities participated and helped to form a closer bond of friendship between the schools. Later in the year a Volleyball team was sent to a Play Day at Southwestern at which time McPherson placed first in the tournament.

And last, but surely not least, will be the memory of our annual W. A. A. banquet held at the Country Club in the spring.

The girls of today are not only interested in the score of the game. They are interested in a well rounded personality and they find that the W. A. A. plays a vital part in its development.

GIRLS' INTRAMURALS

Women as well as men participated in a varied program of intramural athletics this year. Miss Lilyan Warner, head of women's athletics at McPherson College, was in charge of the program.

The most significant part of the women's intramural program was the round-robin basketball tournament. The tourney attracted about forty entrants and was won by the basketball team captained by Juanita Weaver.

Four teams were in the field. The top team, led by its star forward Genevieve Wyckoff, went through the tournament unbeaten and untied. Wyckoff and Weaver were both forwards on the first-place team.

The other teams in the tournament were the Town team, Nickey team, and the Arnold F team. The teams were composed of women divided according to their lodging places.

Two teams were from Arnold Hall.

Softball and badminton were other features of the women's intramurals. Both softball and badminton were played late in the spring.

A women's ping-pong tournament occupied the lime-light for a time during the winter. Twenty-four students participated in the ping-pong tourney. Doris Voshell, sophomore cheerleader, won the ping-pong tourney after a stiff final match with June Carlson.

Madelyn Carlson reached the semi-finals of the tourney, where she lost to her sister, June. Ruby Peterson was defeated in the semi-finals by Doris Voshell, who was on her way to the top. Other phases of women's athletics took place in the physical education classes under Miss Warner.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

A widespread, varied program of intramural athletics was sponsored this year by Coach W. Pierce Astle and Miss Lilyan Warner. Probably more students have participated in the intramural program than in any other single extra-curricular activity this year.

Perhaps the most spectacular part of the intramural program was the double round-robin basketball tourney for boys. Eight teams were formed, captained by various students not on the varsity basketball squad.

The team captained by the towering Harold Hoover won the tourney. At no time during the tourney was the Hoover team out of first place. On Hoover's team were Jack Oliver, Ernest Reed, Sam Elrod, Eugene Lichten, Eugene Eisenbise, Harold Duncanson, and Merrill Blackman, besides its captain.

A poll of the team captains was taken by the Spectator at the conclusion of the tourney. From this poll was determined the all-star team. Chosen captain on the mythical team was Bernard Nordling, who also set the tourney record of scoring 35 points in a single game. Russell Reinecker, another member of the mythical five, scored 34 points in another game. The other all-stars were Harold Hoover, Jack Oliver, and Carroll Crouse.

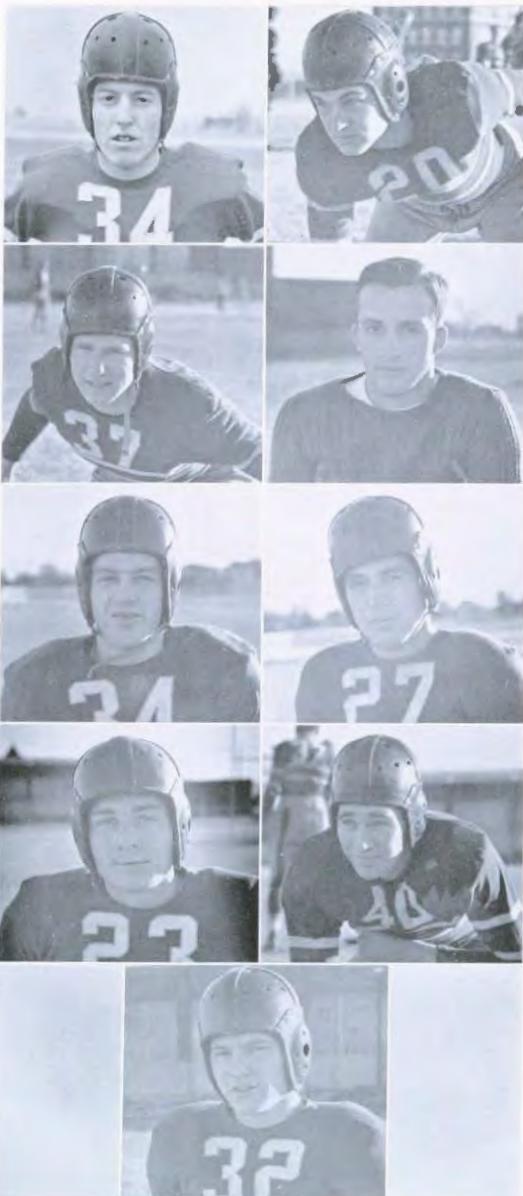

The intramural program also included tournaments in wrestling, ping-pong, and badminton. Wes De Coursey won the college title in both ping-pong and badminton.

SCRAPPY BULLDOGS

Starting and ending strong, but slumping in mid-season, the McPherson College Bulldogs ended up their football season in sixth place in the Kansas Conference.

In the opening game of the season, the Bulldogs put on a show by scoring four touchdowns to blank the Bacone Indians of Muskogee, Oklahoma, 25 to 0. From the result of this pre-season game McPherson was considered one of the contenders for the Kansas Conference crown. In its second game McPherson held another seeded team, College of Emporia, to a scoreless tie.

The Bulldogs journeyed to Ottawa on October 6 to play the Ottawa University Braves. The game turned into a track meet with the Braves outdistancing the Bulldogs and blanking them 33 to 0. The Braves were to become the Kansas Conference football champions for the third straight year.

McPherson's next game was a home contest with the Baker University Wildcats. This game ended in the largest total score of any game played by McPherson this season. Baker came from behind in the last quarter to win the game with the score 28 to 21.

The next Friday the disheartened Bulldogs could never seem to get started and lost to the cellar team of the conference, their nemesis, the Bethel College Gravmarts. The score was 16 to 6.

The next game the Bulldogs, playing to a home crowd and a host of visitors, took life and held the Bethany College Swedes to a scoreless tie. Bethany had the ball several times within McPherson's ten-yard line and once on the four-inch line but failed to cross into pay-dirt. Bethany, although not particularly a strong team, had previously scratched out on Kansas Wesleyan 7 to 6 and on Baker 6 to 0.

Two weeks after the Swede game, the Bulldogs journeyed to Winfield to play Southwestern College. With about a minute left to play, the Bulldogs had the ball on their own twenty-yard line and were behind 7 to 6. In three plays McPherson made a touchdown with two passes and a blocked kick recovered by Dohn Miller to pull the game out of the fire, winning by a 12 to 7 score.

The Bulldogs won their last conference game, defeating the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes 14 to 13. This not only kept McPherson's football 7-game jinx over Wesleyan but also was praiseworthy in defeating Wesleyan, the only school to tie the conference champions and hold them scoreless. Jake Cramer, all-Conference halfback of the Bulldogs, broke his right leg badly in scoring his second touchdown.

Denver, Colorado, was the scene of the Bulldog's last football entanglement. There McPherson triumphed over Regis College, 17 to 16. The Bulldogs won four games, lost three, and tied two.

Monogram winners in football were Robert Brust, Jake Cramer, Andy Collett, Robert Cook, Sam Elrod, Glenford Funk, Raymond Goering, Calvin Jones, Irvin Keck, Jim Lambert, Raymond Meyer, Harold Mueller, Phil Myers, David McGill, Dohn Miller, Roy Robertson, Robert Seidel, Tony Voshell, Rollin Wanamaker, and Harold Young. The seniors of the group are Sam Elrod, David McGill, Dohn Miller, Phil Myers, Roy Robertson, Robert Seidel, and Tony Voshell.

The McPherson College varsity basketball team won its struggle to stay out of the Kansas Conference cellar in the 1940 season. For the third successive season the Ottawa University Braves were the conference basketball champions.

At the first of the season Kansas Wesleyan was considered a shoo-in for first place, and the Coyotes did win ten conference victories. But they folded up and dropped their last two conference games to Baker and Ottawa to nose-dive into second place. Ottawa went on to win her three remaining conference games and hold the title alone.

The only conference game lost by Ottawa was an early season defeat at the hands of Wesleyan, led by the towering Robert Hunt. By scoring 209 points in the conference season, Hunt, six-foot-seven center, set a new scoring record. He averaged over seventeen points a game in this phenomenal achievement.

The McPherson College Bulldogs played many fine games, but were beaten several times in close games. The Bulldogs ended their race in sixth place, two whole games out of the cellar, without winning a single conference game. College of Emporia ended its race in the seventh position.

None of the Bulldogs rated positions on the all-conference teams chosen, but there seemed to be little dispute that Hunt, Junior Shaw of Wesleyan, and Omer Breton of Ottawa, would gain places on any man's team.

The Bulldog monogram winners were David McGill, Roy Robertson, Raymond Meyer, Tony Voshell, Robert Brust, Art Schubert, Rollin Wanamaker, Calvin Jones, Harold Young.

The only seniors of the group are McGill, Voshell and Robertson.

In dual meets near the early part of the season, the Bulldogs looked like the new track "find" of the year. Bethel, Kansas Wesleyan, Bethany, Hutchinson J. C., and Sterling were defeated in various meets. But in the Kansas Conference meet, which was won by Ottawa, the Bulldogs ranked a measly sixth.

Two records were broken last year by MacCollege tracksters. Rollin Wanamaker leaped the high hurdles in 15.7 seconds, for his second school record. The year before he had set the high jump record at 5' 11". Then Jake Cramer, Bob Brust, Elmer Ratzlaff, and Burtis Weible, members of the 880-yard relay team, set a new mark of 1:35.2.

Captain of the track team last year was Tony Voshell. Other letter winners were Glenford Funk, Rollin Wanamaker, Jake Cramer, Herbert Stauffer, Stephen Stover, Elmer Ratzlaff, Vance Sanger, Richard Van Vleet, Robert Brust, Keith Reinecker, Leslie Rogers, Burtis Weible, and David McGill.

1939 NET AND LIME

Out of nine dual meets last year, the McPherson College tennis squad won five, tied one, and lost three. Two of the losses were to Bethany, a conference opponent, and one was to Colorado State, a non-conference opponent. The Bulldog netsters trounced Kansas Wesleyan and Sterling twice and College of Emporia once.

Last year Raymond Johnson, star of the Maccollege racquet men, went to the semi-finals of the Kansas Conference Tennis Tournament. There he lost to Trump of Ottawa, who lost to Self of Baker. It was the second straight Kansas Conference tennis title for Spenser Self, a sophomore.

Of the six squad members who lettered last year, only Gordon Yoder was a senior. Carroll Crouse, junior netster, won his third tennis letter, while Burns Stauffer and Ernest Reed, sophomores, and Yoder, senior, earned their second letters. Calvin Jones, a freshman, and Raymond Johnson, a sophomore, won their first tennis letters last year.

THE LEGISLATIVE BODY

Entering the homestretch of a busy year, the Student Council of 1939-40 can look back over twelve months of varied activity. Publications—Handbook, Spectator, and Quadrangle—have provided substantial contributions to the "order of business". With the Board of Publications, a sub-committee of the Council, completing its first year of service the Official Governing Power has been able to much more efficiently deal with the individual problems of each publication.

The Student Union Room has been administered by the Council, and with the assistance of the National Youth Administration a program of full-time supervision has been in operation. This popular social center is a repeated source of pride and satisfaction to everyone. Its use for informal and organized gatherings has added an undefinable spark to student life.

In accordance with the 1939 constitutional revision the Dean of the College, as well as the Dean of Men and of Women, has found a place in the membership of the Student Council. This arrangement has made possible a more direct channel for conveying opinions and ideas to and from the administration. Within the Council itself co-operation and spirit have been very commendable, particular interest being taken in the occasionally posted roll of honor.

Conducting student elections, greeting visitors, budgeting the activity fee, and in general keeping its finger on the Student Body pulse, the Council has maintained its prestige and played a vital part in this year's campus activities.

A CAPPPELLA CHOIR

Humming the beautiful strains of their ever-popular theme song "Dedication", by Franz, arranged by Noble Cain, the A Cappella Choir opened and closed another successful concert on March 13, 1940, in the auditorium of the McPherson community building.

Dressed in black suits and black and white formals the 58 members of this year's choir sang a program varying from religious choruses to novelty numbers on this their eighth annual concert. Special favorites were the negro spirituals, "Round de Glory Manger", featuring Miss Margaret Fry as soloist, "Nobody Knows The Trouble I See", and "Roll, Chariot". "Triumph Song" from Tchaikowsky's Third Symphony met with great approval. Several folk songs added a lighter touch to the concert.

The first A Cappella Choir in Kansas—The McPherson College A Cappella Choir—was organized in 1932 by Alvin C. Voran, former head of the Vocal Music Department. Since then A Cappella Choir concerts have been the most outstanding musical events of the college through the years.

The choir carried out some short trips, concertizing in the vicinity of McPherson.

The officers of this year's choir were Keith Pierce, president; Mary Ellen Slead, secretary; Raymond Flory, treasurer; Evelyn Amos, social chairman; and Wesley De Coursey, publicity manager.

From the A Cappella Choir were selected 17 voices; this group pleased the concert-goers with a "Russian Fantasy" performed with Violin obbligato by Prof. Bengtson and Vera Flory. This group of 17 singers took a 10-day trip into Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas, appearing in churches, advertising the college widely in these states.

The Varsity Male Quartet, composed of Wesley De Coursey, Harold Hoover, Ronald Orr, and Keith Pierce, was quite outstanding this year. They rolled those "Wagon Wheels" to a victory at the local concert, and sang on every concert while on tour with the vocal ensemble. All the members are soloists.

OPUS OPPORTUNISTS

Coolly, methodically, and in an undisturbed manner the library staff goes about its duties. At the desk perplexing questions are answered and hundreds of reserve and non-reserve books are checked in and out. Sometimes it takes more than method to soothe the irate student who does not receive the book he wants and surely it takes a great deal of business sagacity to keep record of the times which students persistently acquire. The cacophonous lift, which carries books to and from the basement, connects the two parts of the library together. Downstairs book ordering, cataloging, shelving, binding, and mending takes place; magazines are checked and shelved; and non-reserve books are circulated. The new arrangement of having the stacks in the basement has received much favorable comment. Sometimes the librarians hidden away in the basement become as secluded as the forgotten man but they continue to send up the needed Bacon and Darwin.

Many interesting exhibits of books and pictures stimulate the student to do creative and leisure reading. President V. F. Schwalm loaned a collection of his books to the library for several months for student use. The "New Book" rack is of prime interest to readers. The bulletin board exhibits are changed often and show book covers of newly acquired books and other items of similar interest.

A daily record is kept of the use that is made of the library. A count of the students present is taken each hour. All books, magazines, and pamphlets are counted also. A survey of the use made of the library was taken during February to aid the staff in dealing more intelligently with problems that might arise. The motto and aim of the staff permeates its work: "The right book for the right student at the right time."

UNIFY AND STABILIZE

The Student Christian Movement, the only religious organization on the campus, played a vital part in the student life of McPherson College. A guiding purpose was to unify and stabilize the social life of the students by creating and promoting a friendly, helpful, Christian attitude among them.

The cabinet carried out a very successful program under the leadership of Elmer Dadisman and Mary Elizabeth Hoover who were the co-presidents. The four commissions, World Service, Peace, Personal and Family Relations, and A Creative Leisure, met each Tuesday morning, and a general meeting was held each Thursday evening in the Student Union Room. Each student was invited to these meetings as well as to the quiet hour sponsored by the World Service Commission.

More activities sponsored by the Student Christian Movement included a watermelon feed, Halloween party, box social, the picture "Golgatha", a used book exchange, a drive for Chinese student relief, deputation teams for nearby churches, and an exchange program with Bethel College's Student Christian Movement. Also, the Movement brought to the campus such outstanding speakers as Dr. Popenoe, who is an authority on family relations, Dr. Martin Harvey, who has attended youth conferences in Europe, and Dr. Kirby Page, who is a great contender for peace.

In addition to its weekly Friday morning meeting, the cabinet of the Movement had several retreats during the year for the purpose of gaining spiritual enrichment and planning more programs.

Six of the cabinet went to the State Training Conference at Pittsburg, Kansas, and several are planning to go to Estes in June.

THE MEN'S COUNCIL

Created several years back to foster student relationships, improve standards of scholarship, further discussion on worthwhile topics, conduct research in campus problems, and recommend steps for college improvement, the Men's Council has functioned admirably under the sponsorship of Professor Dell.

THE WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Women's Council is an organization for the purpose of promoting good fellowship and cooperation among women students on the campus.

Some of the efforts which succeeded in forwarding this purpose were a tea in the fall, Campus Sister Week, Heart Sister Week and a Valentine Party, and most important of all the Formal Dinner given with the Men's Council for all Students.

R E C R E A T I O N A L C O U N C I L

Several years ago, a group of students, realizing the vital role placed by recreation, organized themselves into the Recreational Council. They felt that a religious atmosphere could be infused into recreation and have since devoted themselves to research that would disclose the best techniques of doing this. Notable among their productions have been a book of handicrafts, and a book of Church parties.

B. Y. P. D. C A B I N E T

Aware of the necessity of a sound religious program to bind the unrest of collegiate youth with the stability the church, the B. Y. P. D. cabinet has supplied programs satisfying the worship needs of the student, yet at all times maintaining the scientific approach that is characteristic of the best thought of the day.

TOPICS OF INTEREST

"The Mouthpiece of the Student Body" is the slogan of the Forensic Club of McPherson College. In living up to its slogan the Forensic Club often devotes entire meetings to questions of campus interest only. The impromptu speeches used by the Forensic Club are another opportunity for students to express their opinions on various questions.

The interclass debate tournament, an annual feature of the Forensic Club, was held at the first of the year to stimulate interest and give some experience before the varsity tryouts. In the first round of this tournament the seniors, Jack Oliver and Edwin Diehl, lost to the Juniors, Dale Stucky and Donald Newkirk. The freshmen, Jack Bowker and Ernest Peterson, won their debate from the sophomores, Joy Smith and Wilbur Bullinger.

In the finals the highly touted Stucky-Newkirk combination gained a close decision over the strong freshmen debaters, Bowker and Peterson. All four of the debaters in the finals of this tourney gained places on McPherson College's famed debate teams.

The officers of the club are the persons solely responsible for its success. This year Ernest Reed was president of the club, after his service as vice-president and program chairman last year. The secretary, Joy Smith, held the same office this year as last year. Donald Newkirk was the new vice-president of the club.

Probably the people doing the most work for the Forensic Club are its program committee. This year Galen Stern was program chairman, with Evelyn Saathoff and Ernest Peterson serving under him on the program committee.

DEBATE SQUAD

McPherson College's famed debate teams gained many achievements during this year's debate season. The varsity women debaters gained the top ranking in the league meet at Bethany for the first time in the history of the league.

The varsity men, after ranking high in tourneys at Winfield and Hutchinson, failed to please the league judges at the Bethany meet and were shoved into a second place ranking, two wins out of an undisputed title to the league meet.

The underclass varsity men's debate team, consisting of Ernest Peterson and Phil Myers, went to the semifinals of a Winfield invitational meet in which they met the stiffest competition of the year. At a statewide tourney at Hutchinson, Ernest Peterson was ranked the strongest debater in the meet.

A hissing villain, a gallant hero, a martyred octoroon, negro slaves, and all that goes to make up a "melo drayma" were not lacking when the Thespian Club presented Dion Boucicault's famous play of the old south, "The Octoroon, or Life in Louisiana."

On December 8, during the week of the eightieth anniversary of its opening on Broadway, "The Octoroon" was acted in the spirit of the old-time melodramas. The audience, between mouthfuls of peanuts which were sold during the intermissions (and all good melodramas have many intermissions) by negro slaves, lustily booted the mustachioed villain, cheered the handsome hero, and wept for the beautiful octoroon. The play was directed by the club sponsor, Professor Ralph Stutzman, and coached by Elma Minnick.

High light of the year was the presentation of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," an idle fancy by Jerome K. Jerome. It was the story of the change brought into the lives of the people in a boarding house by the coming of a kindly stranger. The P. of the T. F. B., as it was called by members of the cast, was coached and directed by Raymond Flory.

In addition to presenting for the first time two major productions in the same year, the club has been successful in securing entrance into the national honorary dramatic society, the Alpha Psi Omega. Toward this goal, the club has worked for many years.

Under the leadership of Elma Minnick, President, and Professor Stutzman, Sponsor, the Thespian Club has been exceptionally active during this year. Additional officers have been: Margaret Davis, Vice-president; Virginia Kerlin, Secretary; and Raymond Flory, Treasurer.

PROGRAMS OF SCIENCE

The Chemistry Club is an organization open to all students that have an interest in chemistry without regard as to whether they are enrolled in a chemistry course. Dr. Hershey is the permanent president.

At the first meeting officers were elected. Wesley De Coursey was elected vice-president; Glennys Doll, secretary; La Rue W. Owen, program committee chairman; Sara Jane Olwin, social committee chairman; and Jonathan Hamersley as Spectator reporter.

For the second meeting, the members of the beginning chemistry class reviewed outstanding scientific accomplishments of the year.

Dr. Hershey lectured on synthetic diamonds, synthetic atmospheres, and radium. Several sound pictures were shown, as well as lectures presented by prominent local people.

The annual social given by Dr. and Mrs. Hershey in the Student Union room was an outstanding social event of the year, exceeding the attendance of some all-school functions.

The initiation of the club members consists of a trip to Hutchinson, where Dr. Hershey and the older members of the club march the initiates miles through the salt mine, salt plants, flour mill, reformatory, candy factory, etc. The new members are duly initiated if they survive the Hutchinson trip.

WUXTRY! SPECTATOR!

The hour of the day when, according to Boitnott, more great events happen than at any other time is eleven a. m., and one of the contributing factors is that The Spectator comes out then. Students may be seen jamming around the box to secure their copy. One peek into its pages tells why it is a great event.

The Spectator is the problem-child of a number of students, chief among whom is Dale Stucky, the editor. His role is mainly one of cajolery, threatening, beseeching, storming, persuasion, and finally doing it himself. His heads are always of interest, and his editorials have been so noteworthy as to be mentioned in an Associated Collegiate Press release. His able assistant has been Ernest Reed, who has functioned in the role of handy man. A versatile writer, he has contributed to sports, heads, features, and spot stories. Raymond Goering, and his assistant, Sylvan Hoover, have conducted an able sales campaign. Esther Sherfy, Lois Florman, Winton Sheffer, Donna Jean Johnson, Margaret Davis, and others have done much to make this year's Spectator the best the college has seen.

MIRROR CAMPUS HISTORY

Beset by the usual troubles, haunted by the usual ghosts, and handicapped by having to raise someone's else brain child, the Quad staff has throughout this year labored with the tenacity of our Bulldog mascot, J. Scraption Macollege, to give you the nineteen-forty Quadrangle. It has been the task of the Quad staff to mirror accurately Macampus activities and to delineate such college and student history as could be made pictorial. If the staff has emphasized any item too much or left out any important event you must bear in mind their human fallability and be charitable.

A few days before school started the editor first appointed by the Student Council decided to go elsewhere to school, and early last fall the Student Council selected James Crill to assume the Quadrangle helm. S. G. Hoover, the business manager, has functioned very capably in that capacity this year. The larger share of the snapshots that are in the Quad are the work of Jack Bowker. Others who served regularly on the staff were Mary Ellen Slead, staff typist; Marjory Kinzie, and Gladys Wiggins, circulation managers; and Margaret Davis and Lyle Albright, assistant business managers.

All will remember as a part of this year the pleasant old man that took the portraits, "Bowk's" flashlight exploding at unexpected places during parties, and other signs of activity in the Quad office.

WHO'S WHO

WHO'S WHO" is a collection of biographies of the outstanding students in America. Only juniors and seniors are eligible for selection, and the number of individuals nominated from each school is limited. McPherson College's quota is seven.

RAYMOND FLORY

His leadership, scholastic ability, breadth of interest, and rare humor have qualified him for his second year as a candidate for "Who's Who."

AUDREY HAMMANN

Chairman of the Student Christian Movement for two years, a class officer, Audrey has always figured prominently in campus activities.

PHILLIP MYERS

Massive, capable, and smart are adjectives that have always characterized Phil's football playing. Besides his athletic ability, he has been outstanding in student government.

WHO'S WHO

THE characteristics considered for inclusion in "Who's Who" are character, leadership in extra-curricular activities, scholarship, and potentialities for future usefulness to business and society.

STEPHEN STOVER

Stephen has culminated an active career in student government this year as president of the Student Body. He has also been an outstanding scholar, and athlete.

MARY E. HOOVER

Conscientious effort, consistent scholarship, and congenial personality have made Mary Elizabeth co-chairman of the Student Christian Movement as a Junior.

DONALD NEWKIRK

Don has been a leading debater for three years and president of his class for two years. He has also been prominent in student politics and social life.

DALE M. STUCKY

Being editor of The Spectator for two years, athlete, debater, and president elect of the Student Body have well qualified him for membership in the "Who's Who."

This year it was felt that recognition should be given to the person who has contributed more in an unostentatious way toward making life flow more smoothly for his having been around. From three very good candidates the Best Private Citizen was chosen by popular franchise of the entire chapel-attending student body.

CARROLL CROUSE

BEST PRIVATE CITIZEN

This year and during years past Carroll Crouse has been quietly going his way of good sportsmanship, good fellowship, and amiability, and is acclaimed by all to be the Best Private Citizen.

We are deeply indebted to Mr. Jack Benny, long a famous actor, comedian, and violin player, for carefully selecting the most beautiful girl. Because the level of pulchritude was high, the choice was an extremely difficult one, and we thank him appreciatively for his considerate service.

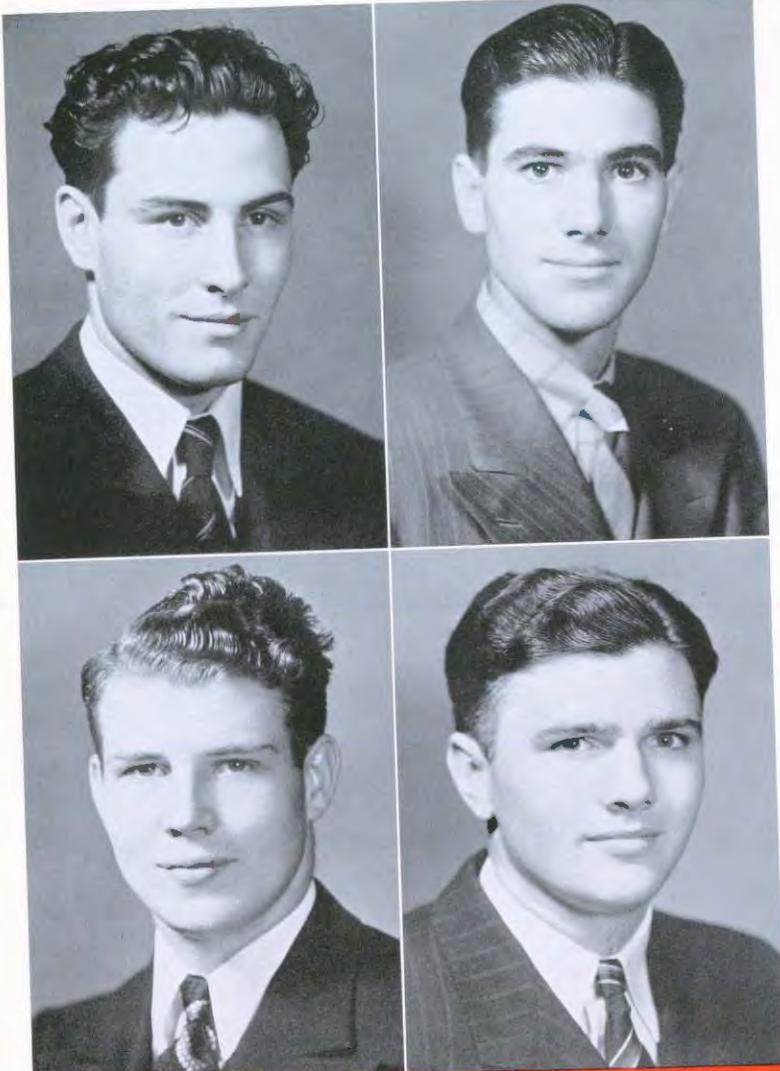

MARGARET DAVIS

MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL

Perite, personable, and pretty characterize Margaret Davis. These and other qualities have made her a distinct histrionic success here in Macollege.

(sooner than you think) you'll be buying printing plates.

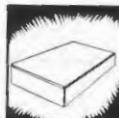

Against that day, fix in your mind the name of BURGER-BAIRD. It will then be a more important fact to you than dates (historical—not the other kind) or irregular verbs or formulae.

For while there are other good engravers, there is only one Burger-Baird.

Good plates? Yes, the best, and pride in their craftsmanship. Prompt with them, too.

But the main thing that keeps Burger-Baird the best known name among middle-west engravers seems to be—well, call it "savvy." It means interest and understanding, not merely for the engravings, but for your larger objectives as well.

People seem to like that, and so, no doubt, will you. Keep us in mind, won't you?

O SACRED TRUTH

*Altho out on broad Kansas Plains,
Here not in vain are we,
For we will strive with might and main,
That right and truth may be.
The student loves to dream his dreams
Of life that's yet to be,
Of future days and years that'll seem
The best for old M. C.*

Chorus: *We'll hope for our M. C.
We'll cheer for our M. C.
While winds do blow,
And sunflowers grow,
We'll long for thee, M. C.*

*True soldiers once with sword of might,
Worked for our freedom long,
And now to keep our pages white,
Will be our purpose strong.
Beneath the smile of sunny days,
Let truth and freedom reign.
Within our College let us praise
The deed that'll leave no stain.*

*We are an army—on the way,
Some day the world will see us larger grown,
And then they'll say,
Yet 'tis the good M. C.,
Dear truth, without thee we must fall,
O then our pillar be,
O, truth, be thou our stay for all,
And stand for our M. C.*
