We Participated

in a world of conformity — only grouped by plan, but singled out individually.

We Hesitated

a moment in the hurried pace of man-kind to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to look at a flower, to remember.

We Dedicated

ourselves in many ways
so that with each new dawn, our symbol of freedom was still there.

OUR LIFE...

Life is only a measurement of time. No day is the same. Yesterday is a lesson learned, today is a single step in time, and tomorrow is a continuous adventure.

Fudge Party, 1901

On February 28, 1976, Congress passed a law abolishing the draft board ... Joe Reed "legally" burns his draft card.

Ozark Tradition Spreads To Kansas

The well-known Ozark tradition spread to the Kansas Plains when McPherson College hosted Sadie Hawkins week on October 1, 2, and 3. The activity gave campus women the chance to 'catch a man' for three days if they wished.

Sadie Hawkins Week began with a 'Dogpatch Dinner', served by the cafeteria personnel dressed in Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae costumes. Mock shotgun weddings interrupted the dinner several times, and haystacks and other hillbilly scenery completed the atmosphere. A contest for the faculty took place on the campus lawn and Prof. Richard Zerger was awarded first prize. 'Pigskin Capers' and 'The Adventures of Bullwhip Griffin' were shown in Brown Auditorium. The week culminated with a Lakeside Park picnic and hayrack ride.

1. Overalls are a common apparel during Sadie Hawkins week.
2. The Dogpatch-character of "General Bullmouse" is portrayed by Dr. Leland Lengel.
3. A shotgun is often found to be quite effective at the altar.
4. Acting under the influence of an angry father, Mike Wooley, Steve Vincent is forced to marry Sheree Holman.
5. During the Dogpatch Dinner, Jane Albright and Denise Lewallen "grub-up" on the food.
6. Portraying the character of "Marryin' Sam" is Prof. Zerger.
7. The notorious character of "Evil-Eye Fleagle" is portrayed by Gerald Holman.

1. In her spare time, Patti Bowman plays a tune on the harmonica.
2. Students listen and take notes from Dr. Gilford Ikenberry's lecture in Microbiology class.
3. Robin Hoch finds the T.V. lounge in Dotzour Hall a relaxing place during the afternoon.
4. Doug Wood takes advantage of the snack bar in the S.U.
5. Prof. Gene Hill explains to Shawn Sharkey the technique of drawing a house plan to scale.
6. During an Ice Cream Social in the S.U., Lynn Willoughby, Celia Stover, Anthony Boyer, Randy Porter and Paula Evans pile on the dips.
7. Barb Swank gets prepared for class in her room in Dotzour Hall.

During The Week ...

There Are Things To Do ...
... cramming for a 9:00 test at 8:45 ... waking up at 8:15 when your class was at 8:00 ... watching "The Young and the Restless" ... just doing nothing, because that's the 'thing' to do.

... And People To See;
On Campus And Off ...

1. During Black Awareness Week, February 22-28, Marc Minnis speaks on "Living For Today."
2. On October 19, 1975, many Mac College students travel to Salina to see the Ozark Mountain Daredevils in concert.
3. During the Regional Youth Conference, on March 13, Rich Hendry and Cliff Walker play and sing gospel music.
4. On April 18, 1976, Dr. John E. Valusek, Psychologist, speaks on "People are not for Hitting."
5. Students act out a melodrama for a fast action movie.

5 New System For Convos

A new system for the scheduling of the 1976 Convocation Series was developed this year. No longer could students miss a favorite (?) class because of a convo. Classes were shortened to 45 minutes and all convos were scheduled at 9:30 A.M.

Student Council President Steve Burkholder was interested in getting more involvement from the college community. This included faculty lectures and student-faculty debate.

1. Second prize winning float is the Black Student Union's.
2. Many students and their families come to watch the Bulldogs play the Southwestern Moundbuilders.
3. A steak dinner is enjoyed by students, alumni and parents.
4. The 1975 Homecoming Queen, Jan Shrock, is crowned by President Snell.
5. Playing the leading roll, Dolly, in "The Matchmaker", is Gayle Broberg.
6. Kline Hall shows its support for the Bulldogs in the Homecoming Parade.
7. The theme of "Let The Good Times Roll", is represented by Alan Vancil.
8. Alumni and parents socialize after the game.
9. Candidates for the 1975 Homecoming Queen.

'Good Times Roll' As Queen Jan Reigns

"Let the Good Times Roll" was the 1975 Homecoming theme while Jan Shrock, a junior, majoring in Special Education, reigned as Queen.

The weekend included excitement and many surprises, beginning with the announcement of President Galen Snell's resignation. The traditional parade down Main and Euclid was highlighted when the Publication float began to really smoke the cigar that was attached to the front of Cathy Hamm's car. Immediately following the parade, the Battling Bulldogs took on the Southwestern Moundbuilders and lost by a score of 9-17.

An unexpected appearance during the Trivia Bowl heightened the excitement of the weekend, along with the presence of Miss Jana Salmans, the reigning Miss Kansas.

"The Matchmaker," presented by the Players Club, and the Homecoming dance, featuring the "Out Back Band," provided entertainment. Also a steak-fry and "Casino" night was enjoyed.

Drama Productions Depict Bicentennial Theme

Drama productions this year included plays honoring the Bicentennial. "The Matchmaker," played by Gayle Broberg, jr., as Dolly Levi, and Ken Frantz, sr., as Horace Vandergelder, was presented during Homecoming. "I thought it would be good to use an American author since this is a Bicentennial year," said Mrs. Karlene Tyler, drama assistant.

"Hangs Over Thy Head," played by Les Dell, sr., as a playwright, and Philip Gardner, jr., Brad Snyder, sr., Debbie Stong, jr., Cheryl Freed, soph., and Galen Royer, jr., as "ordinary" people, was one of three one-act plays presented in February.

"Where Have All the Lightning Bugs Gone?" played by Mary Beth Snyder and Mike Roberts, and "For Distinguished Service," played by Sheree Holman, Sherry Lockwood and Ann Mason were the other two one-act plays. Anne Erisman, Gayle Broberg, and Debbie Stong were the student directors.

"See How They Run," a comedy played by Anne Erisman, Kent Wagoner, Donna Miller, Lori Nelson, and Mike Roberts was presented in March during the Regional Youth Conference.

Site For Shack Changes Twice

Shortly after the completion of the new Mac Shack during the summer of 1975, it was discovered that the Shack was in violation of a new city ordinance. It was built four feet too close to the street.

Appeals by administrators to the City Commission to waive the ordinance were refused. The Shack was then moved back to comply with the standards. However, the Shack had to be moved again to allow room for the new Industrial Arts building. The final resting place was on the lot north of Frantz Hall and east of the greenhouse.

Bruce Clary, junior, and Larry Brubaker, junior, co-managers of the Shack held several fund raising projects in which interested students participated throughout the year.

76 Graduate in '76

Seventy-six seniors graduated during the eighty-eighth commencement exercises on May 23.

The commencement address was given by Congressman Garner E. Shriver. He told the seniors that graduating was a beginning not an end. Just as America is beginning a new century this year, the graduates are beginning into a new aspect of their life.

4. Gale Lambert, Billy Lewis and Stan Pennington gaze at their degrees they have just received.

5. Anticipation builds as Dean Mason and James Marinovich wait to walk into Brown Auditorium.

ADMINISTRATORS... OUR

Regardless of the century, man has always looked to able leaders for knowledge. The accomplishments of McPherson College students during their college career and lifetime will reflect on the knowledge given to them by their administrators.

President Galen Snell Resigns After Four Years Of Service

President Galen R. Snell, who has been the president since 1972 announced his intention to resign as of Sept. 1, 1976, to the trustees during their fall meeting.

"I came as president with two primary goals," Dr. Snell stated in his letter of resignation. "The first was to achieve financial stability in order to give McPherson College strength to face the future.

"Second, I came to establish a value base on which the college could be continued. I have spoken of and attempted to live that type of life which I think a Christian college should be."

On the day his resignation was made public and after seven years of serving McPherson College, Dr. Snell said, "my work is done. I've accomplished what I came to do."

In the latter 1960's Dr. Snell was employed by the college as psychology professor and Dean of Students. Prior to that he was teaching and counseling at Scottsdale Community in Arizona.

"I came as president against all the emotion inside me for the administrative tasks. I came because I understood the situation, had those qualities needed to establish confidence, and felt it a call of God," Snell stated.

"I have worked hard with all at the college to bring new life here. That life has come. I do not have the emotional desire to carry the college through the next steps necessary for intended growth."

Dr. Snell explained that he had informed the trustees upon his selection that he wished only to be a 'short term' president. "I knew I could not be president more than four or five years," he said. His final decision to resign was made in the summer of 1975.

During his term as McPherson's tenth president, Dr. Snell attempted to strengthen the primary reason for its existence — relating the intellectual part of human beings to the spiritual.

Dr. Paul W. Hoffman, Dean of students and Professor of Psychology at Manchester College, North Manchester, Indiana will succeed Dr. Snell as the eleventh president of McPherson College.

Minority Counselor Works To Unify

In order to meet the needs and unify the minority students on campus, Roy Harden worked part-time as the first minority counselor. He saw needs in the area of tutorial programs and financial assistance, and felt that tension on campus was caused by a lack of social outlets.

Though he made some progress in the area of financial assistance, providing scholarships, he felt his work was hindered by the fact that people didn't realize he was part of the administration. There were also limitations in working part-time.

"I have not by any stretch of the imagination accomplished all that I wanted to," Roy said. "There is still some dissatisfaction and dissention among the minorities, and both the college and the students must adjust."

Activities Director Promotes Social Life

As first Activities Director, Mr. Oscar Morgan attempted to select a variety of activities to meet the various needs of the student body. To find out students interests, Oscar talked to students, and also served the function of advisor to Social Committee. To fit the mood of the students, activities were dances, or low-key entertainment such as films or pizza night.

During the year, Oscar attempted to establish more harmony among the different social groups.

5. College Nurse — Kay Bachus
6. Reverend Paul Miller — Campus Minister
7. Director of Admissions — Joe Johnston
8. During Pizza Night, a new activity established by Oscar Morgan, Gary Vancil and Marie and Charles Moffitt take advantage of the free food.

New Program Trains Students In Early Childhood Education

Early Childhood Education, a two-four year program, was launched this year. This program would qualify students to become trained aides, teachers, directors or assistant directors in day care centers. Students observe at Hope School, and the McPherson Community Day Care Center. Students may also be placed with Experience Based Education during their Senior year.

"We're sort of developing a second campus," said Dr. Eugene Carper, Vice President of Continuing Education, speaking of an adult evening degree program now being developed in Hutchison. Majors include Business and Industrial Arts. The courses are offered only to students with an Associate of Arts Certificate and supplement the Hutchison Community College.

Courses in Continuing Education lead to credit for re-certification.

Rare Gift Adds New Building, Program To Campus

Made possible by a gift from Mr. "Smokey" Billue of antique cars valued at $236,226 a $1.5 million trust, a new building was added to the campus this year and a new program, Restoration Technology, was begun. Restoration Technology is part of the Industrial Arts Department, and the skills acquired there have a wide range of application.

"Restoration Technology will be parallel to, and will use the same technology that is already available in the total Industrial Arts program," explained Dr. Alvin Willems, professor of Industrial Arts. "The program was one part of the larger department of Industrial Education."

Restoration Technology is a two-year program leading to an Associate of Arts Certificate. Four-year degree programs are also available in Industrial Education.

Writing Course Brings Students 'Close To Nature'

Combining in-nature experiences with the keeping of a journal, Professor Bob Green introduced a new composition course that would fulfill general academic requirements. The class included lectures, discussion periods and field trips to various areas. Among the numerous field trips were excursions to the Wildlife Game Reserve and the Kanopolis Lake area. While on the nature-outings, students were encouraged to be aware of their surroundings and to write about their experiences, only after objective, comprehensive reflection.

"Much of this course has to do with description, and to describe, one must observe very carefully," Professor Green explained.

Home Economics, Art Merge; Change Major Under New Program

Interior Design, a new course offering this year, is an interdisciplinary major combining Art and Home Economics. Supporting courses were from the Economics and Industrial Arts Departments.

Students were given studios in Arnold Hall and were allowed to redecorate them as they pleased. Art majors were given first choice of rooms, and Interior Design majors received the remainder of the rooms.

"This course leads to a number of facets in Interior Decorating," said Mrs. Connie Nichols, Instructor in Home Economics. Although Interior Design majors do not have professional status they would be qualified for business.

Memorial Fund Establishes Improved Animal Lab

In order to improve Laboratory facilities for students, a memorial fund was established in honor of Dr. Donna Sooby.

This involves new equipment and the remodeling of a room in Harnley. This project should be completed by next year.

The lab will be used by various disciplines, and will include a soil and forage testing lab, and an animal room. It will also include a biology lab.

The lab will be used by both students and community members.

Professor John Krehbiel was on his sabbatical this year. Math courses were taken at Central College.

1. The layout for the remodeling of the animal laboratory

American Politics Class Tours Washington D.C.

Eight students from the American Politics class, taught by Dr. Raymond Flory, toured our nation's capitol in April. The students toured other American heritage cities such as Philadelphia and New York.

"It was one of the more productive times we've had there," said Dr. Flory. "We got to see all the animals in one place."

Students saw politicians such as Kennedy, Humphrey, Elliot, Richardson, Kissinger, and others.

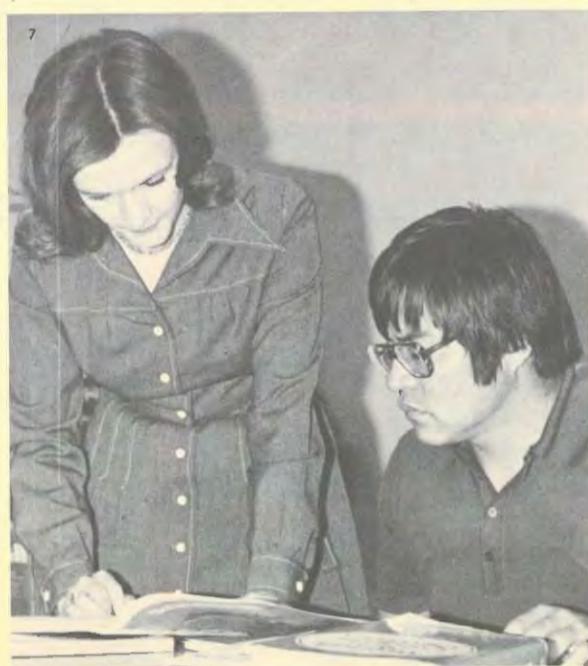

First Year For Audio-Visual Major

An interdisciplinary major that presented various aspects of visual communications was added to the curriculum this year. "We feel that one benefit of the program is that we're not limited to one professor," said Mr. Herb Johnson, Director of the Media Center.

The new program was an outstanding success this year, and enrollment is expected to double next year for Audio-visual majors.

Although A.V. majors may go into educational or professional television, they are not limited to just that. Related courses in photography, journalism, speech, and other areas support the major.

1. Jim Jones watches the monitor and the Homecoming game.

7. Sandy Alexander, Director of Learning Skills Center, helps Billy Lewis with his studies.

Saga Food Service: A Definite Improvement

Saga Food Service this year replaced Slater's in preparing food for McPherson College students. The new director, Mr. Lou Kelly, attempted to "make meals more enjoyable." Lou provided special services known as "monotony breakers" which included do-it-yourself sundaes and tacos, and "Drive-Inn Nite."

Students were allowed unlimited seconds except on steak night. Steak was served twice monthly.

The majority of the students liked the new food service, and most thought it was an excellent improvement over last year.

The McPherson Museum: A Place To Learn Of Past In '76

During our nation's Bicentennial year, the McPherson Museum provided an excellent way for students to learn of McPherson Colleges' heritage.

The museum began in 1890 in a room in Sharp Hall. Stuffed animals were donated by the Taxidermy class. As more items were collected, it was moved into the fourth floor of Harnley Hall.

Contributions were made by Dr. Mohler, Dr. Nightinger, and the Strause family in Moundridge, Kansas. Because the collection was becoming so large, the college moved the museum to the Vaniman Home.

The Vaniman Home was officially named the McPherson Museum in 1968 and is jointly owned by the city and the college.

Convo credit was offered by the museum this year, so that students could learn of McPherson Colleges' past.

Students Discuss Problems With Trustees

For as many years as anyone can remember students, faculty, and trustees have debated problems concerning Mepherson College. This year was no exception. Students and faculty met with the college trustees to discuss problems such as open dorms, the Audio-visual program, New and old majors, and many other items of importance to students.

These sessions are set up especially for facing these problems as well as just making the trustees aware that these problems are a concern. The trustees generally show a understanding that the problems are important to the students and then the problems are discussed and the students given an answer.

ATHLETES . . . OUR

Throughout the history of mankind, sports has been the great harmonizer of the human faculties. Man has found that competition is the conservator of moral, mental, and physical health.

Jackson, Team 1st In KCAC

The McPherson Cross Country team ended the season with a first place finish in the KCAC conference meet. Dewayne Jackson, junior, placed 1st. Freddy Wilson, freshman, was second, Albert Zavala, freshman, finished in fifth position, and Dave Burgess, sophomore, was sixth.

Coach Art Ray was very pleased with his team's performance this year. He felt that at the beginning of the season Mac was one of the weaker teams in the conference, but that their determination and dedication made them conference Champions.

Two runners placed at the District 10 meet, with Jackson coming in ninth, and Zavala placing 40th. The team also took fourth place honors at the Missouri Valley Amateur Athletic Union meet, and from there, Dewayne represented McPherson College at the National Meet where he turned in an outstanding 32nd place finish.

2. Dave's face shows the pain of cross country racing.

3. The race over, Zavala and Eason congratulate each other.

4. Fred crosses the line with a 2nd place finish.

5. 1975 Cross Country Team: L TO R; Dave Burgess, Albert Zavala, Jim Stevens, Dewayne Jackson, Tim Flaming, Fred Wilson, Dale Eason.

Women 1st In ACCK

This year's women's tennis season ended with a 7-1 total meet record with the team placing 1st in the ACCK, and second in the KCAC. All individuals had winning records, with Ann Lobban going undefeated in singles conference play. Coach Doris Coppock was pleased with her team's season record and anticipates a even better team next year with all team members returning.

Volleyball Eludes Women

Inexperience plagued the young Bulldog Volleyballers this past season as they were able to record only four matches on the plus side of their scorebooks. Although the books won't show it, the girls played with a great determination and poise throughout each contest and gained what will be very valuable experience for next year.

Volleyball is a new varsity sport at McPherson College and the girls appeared to face more experienced teams during their matches.

Bulldogs Show Vast Improvement

The Mepherson Bulldogs, playing with a lot of young talent, came through the season with high expectations for next year. The Dogs gained valuable experience, but finished the season with a 2-7-1 record. The McPherson offense showed the most improvement this year, finishing 5th in the conference in passing and 6th in running.

Sophomore fullback Monte Spangler rushed for 504 yards, and Dennis Colon ended up with 309 yards, to top the Bulldog rushers. Junior Scott Robinson had 410 yards worth of receptions, with many of them coming from Freshman Quarterback Mike Ewing, who led the team in passing. Steve Cameron was 2nd in the conference in punting, averaging 36.1 yards per kick.

Sophomore Eric Herman earned Honorable Mention All Conference for the Bulldog offense.

The Defense finished 2nd in the Conference in Total defense for the second year in a row. Swarming techniques and aggressive play helped to earn the Bulldogs this honor.

Steve Burkholder, Senior Safety, earned unanimous All Conference status, along with Junior cornerback Jack Rader. Gerry Aligo, tackle, earned Honorable Mention.

Junior end Steve Jackson led the team in Quarterback sacks with 12, Senior Mark Goodhart, linebacker, had 5 fumble recoveries, Junior Casey Jaworski blocked 3 kicks, and Junior Steve Herman, and Glenn Stucky, both intercepted 2 passes.

Offense Shows Promise

1. Eric Herman, Offensive guard, received Honorable-Mention All Conference despite being injured much of the season.
2. Al Hurt, quarterback, hands off to Dennis Colon, who follows the blocking of Daniel Jones, guard, and Monte Spangler, fullback.
3. Steve Herman attempts a field goal, as Mark Goodhart steadies the ball.
4. Al Hurt fakes to Monte Spangler, then drops back to pass as the offensive line sets up to block.

Coaches And Players Work Together

Coaches who are able to communicate with their players are necessities of the game of football. The coaches' wisdom as well as their personalities, determine whether the team wins or loses, just as much as the players' skills and talents. The season record, however, doesn't always determine how successful a team has been. The growth, development and maturity of the young men playing the sport is just as important in determining the success of a team.

1. Head coach Don Rominger discusses a pass pattern with Junior split end Scott Robinson.

2. Coach Salmans explains a blocking assignment to Freshman Mike Drew during a practice session, as Willard Stapleton and Larry Gilbert look on.

Bulldog Defense Tough

1. Defensive end Steve Jackson, tackle Gerry Aligo, cornerback Jack Radar, and defensive end Kent McDowell swarm in for the kill as the opposing ballcarrier has nowhere to go.
2. All conference cornerback Jack Radar shows concentration as he awaits the snap of the ball.
3. Casey Jaworski shows his quickness as he nails the quarterback and fullback almost before the play gets started. Bulldog Gerry Aligo moves to help Casey and to plug the hole.
4. All Conference selection Gerry Aligo and unanimous All Conference Safety Steve Burkholder prepare to meet the foe.

Bulldogs Win Early, But Lose Late

The 1975 Basketball season started with high hopes for the Mcpherson Bulldogs. Coach Bauersfield's troops had a lot of good talent and were expected to do well. Thd Dogs won their first outing of the season, handling the Bartlesville, Okla. roundballers by a one point margin. The Bulldogs continued to play good ball, carrying about a 500 average. Then came the game with the Tabor Bluejays. It has been said that when it rains it pours, and this is exactly what happened to the Mcpherson Bulldogs. The Dogs were severely trounced by Tabor and Coach Bauersfield was forced to suspend Starter James Groves, and sixth man Carl Hill. These two players were both very important cogs in the Bulldogs wheel, and they were sorely missed. The Dogs rebounded from the apparent setback with a great victory over St Marys of the Plains, scoring more than a hundred points in the effort. This success was not enjoyed long. The Bulldogs just could not get on the winning track and were hurt badly by lack of experience and depth. Even the outstanding play of Youngblood and Durham couldn't put Mac back on the winning track. Then roundballers Wes Padgett and Jerry Outley decided to call it quits for personal reasons and Coach Bauersfield was forced to draw even deeper into his reserves. However, with each game the young and inexperienced players were improving and they ended the season with a convincing victory over Tabor. McPherson College then received still another blow with Coach Bauersfield announcing his resignation as Head Basketball Coach.

Durham All Conference

1. A good look at the Bulldogs zone defense against Friends, as Wes Padgett points the ball, Bob Durham covers the man coming across the lane, and Matt Duerksen and Wallace Youngblood cover up underneath.
2. Bob Durham, All KCAC pick, warms up before a game. Bob shot a hot 50% from the field this season and averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds per contest.
3. Freshman Andrew Beavers leaps for the jumpball as Wallace Youngblood moves in for the carom.
4. During Junior Varsity action, Jim Stevens is whistled for a foul, as Andrew Beavers and Jerry Sink look at the ref in disbelief.

Women Tie For 2nd In Conference Play

The Womens basketball team ended up with a second place finish in the KCAC for the second year in a row. The roundballers were extremely competitive throughout the entire season and only after a loss in the final game of the season did Mac have to settle for a share of second place.

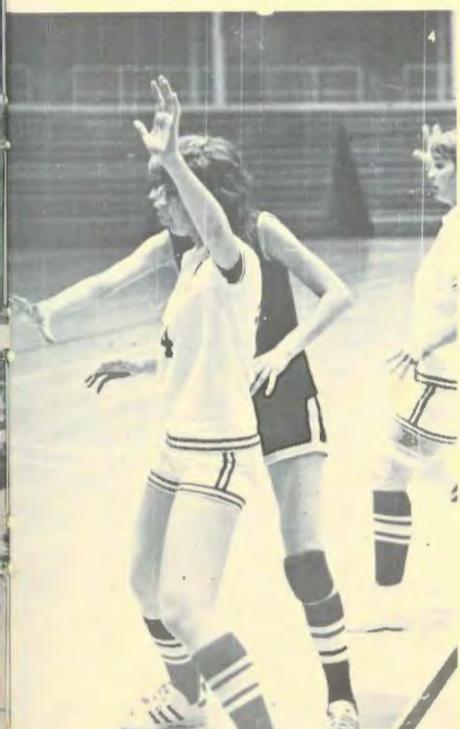

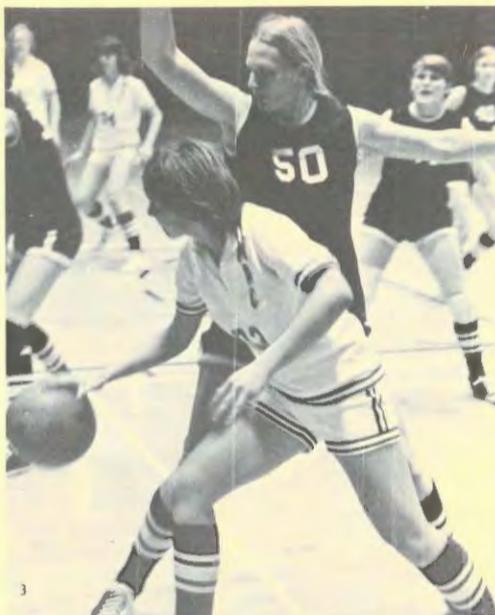

Jeanne Sullentrop and Cindy Andsager were both selected for the honor of representing Mac on the All-Conference team. Jeanne had 82 steals for the season and averaged 13.1 points per game. Cindy averaged 15.3 points per contest for the Dogs, and was intimidating on defense.

1. Cindy Ansager won All-Conference honors this year for the McPherson Bulldogs. Cindy played at the center position and dominated play at the position. Cindy was very accurate from the field and her defense and rebounding made her a valuable asset to the team.

2. Jeanne Sullentrop was selected to the All-Conference squad this year at forward. Jeanne, a natural athlete, could be counted on to give 100% at all times.

3. Janis Cordell, guard for the women's team, was the floor leader. Here she looks inside to her big people in hopes of working the ball in closer to the basket.

4. Denise Creevans and Cindy Ansager come to meet the ball. With both women playing inside around the basket area, the Bulldogs controlled the rebounding on both ends of the court.

Men Finish Strong In Conference Meet

This year's track team finished a strong second in the conference meet as well as in the ACCK meet held at McPherson. It was a team of veterans with people like Eric Herman, and Fred Wilson leading the way for the Bulldogs.

Herman won the Discus for the second year in a row with a toss of 156'. Dave Cantwell finished second right behind Eric with a toss of 143'. Cantwell also finished second in the shotput in the league with Herman coming in fourth in the same event. Freddy Wilson broke his own record in the 440 yd. dash with a time of 48.0. Fred also won the 440 yard at the conference. Dan Saulsberry set a new highjump record with a leap of 6'6". The team excelled in the field events and long distance races this year.

Fred Wilson, Eric Herman, and Dewayne Jackson all qualified for the national meet.

Women Tracksters Place 1st In KCAC

Women's track this year in the KCAC was all McPherson. The women's team dominated the entire conference. This year's team included many outstanding individual performances, as well as a great team effort. Jeanne Sullentrop set a new record in the 220 yd. dash with a time of 26.5 seconds. Janell Baldner set a new 440 yd. dash record in a time of 61.3 seconds. The relay team of Sullentrop, Baldner, Sheila Thompson, and Corina Dean set a new 440 yd. relay record in 50.6 seconds.

The same group also broke the Medley relay time in 1:54. In the field events for the women's team this year, Sullentrop broke the long jump record with a leap of 17'8 $\frac{1}{2}$ ". Stacy Miles broke the old shot put record with a toss of 48'1 $\frac{1}{2}$ ". Deb Stephens set new records in both the discus and javelin with throws of 148'6", and 127'7". Based on these outstanding performances during the year, Sullentrop, Miles and Stephens qualified for the Nationals. Sullentrop placed eighth and Stephens placed fourth in the nation.

1. Stacy Miles shows excellent form as she heaves the shot put.

2. Corina Dean and Sheila Thompson burst from the blocks in the 100 yd. dash.

3. Janell Baldner stretches for a little more as she comes around the last turn in the 440 yd. dash.

Golf Team Places 1st At Conference Meet

At the beginning of the season, Coach Paul Miller stated that the Bulldog Golfers were just starting to play up to their potential. That prediction became very true as the Bulldogs won the conference this year. The linkmen shot strong all season, and were usually in the top four.

Soccer Team Enjoys Successful Year

Soccer at McPherson College is a little known sport. The team doesn't receive much recognition or support from the school despite having a very good year. Seven people on this year's squad had never played organized soccer before, and they still finished 4-3 for the season including a 10-1 victory over their cross town rivals, Central College.

This year's second place finish at the KCAC conference meet determined a fairly successful season for the McPherson College tennis team. Craig Holman, freshman from McPherson, won the #1 singles in conference play, and Steve Burkholder won the #3 singles title. The two then combined to win second place in #1 conference doubles action. The team as a whole combined to post a 6-7 record for the year.

1. Steve Burkholder and Craig Holman take a break during conference doubles action. The pair won this match which enabled them to play in the finals.
2. Marty Ward braces himself to return a serve during conference action.
3. Doug Brehn returns a volley against a conference opponent during the KCAC meet.
4. Al Sammis shows concentration as he prepares to serve.
5. Rick Doll reaches high in the air to serve to an opponent during conference action.

OURSELVES...

Individuality — the character of qualities that make a person himself, not someone else. There were never any people who lived in any previous time or place who were the same as we are ... WE ARE THE STUDENTS OF 1976.

Faculty Selects 12 For 'Who's Who'

Twelve seniors were selected by administrators for inclusion in the 1975 version of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

The students were chosen on the basis of their academic and extra-curricular achievements. Representing almost every department and activity on campus, the twelve awardees claim eight different majors and seven different home states.

Faculty and Administrators with two years tenure are allowed to vote. Seniors selected include: 1. Vicki Christy, 2. Steve Burkholder, 3. Dennis Lewallen, 4. Gayle and Rick Doll, 5. Rod Neher, 6. Christy Young, 7. John Wagoner and Steve Fulmer, 8. Cathy Hamm; (not pictured) Debbie Settle and Rande Shorte.

McPherson College Students and Faculty:

A yearbook is a story of one year, portraying an accurate account of the life and activities of a particular group of people on a particular campus. However, no book is complete without acknowledgements to its contributors. Many long and strenuous hours have been put into this 1976 QUADRANGLE, and I feel that certain people should be recognized.

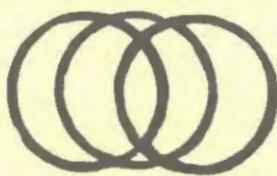

I would especially like to thank my assistant editor, Steve Jackson and Alice Scholz, Patti Bowman and Doug Wood for helping me with the small, yet necessary details of doing a yearbook. A special thanks goes to Karen Brubaker for the color photography, and to Dave Withiam for the sports photography, and to Stuco and my business manager, Ken Frantz for making this publication financially possible. I would also like to thank the ex-editor, Cindy Mines, for giving me the confidence to do this memory book. I hope you enjoy your story.

Sincerely,
Deby Dodds,
Editor

Mac College Founded On American Freedom

My country tis of thee
sweet land of liberty

1976 — the 200th birthday of the United States of America. A nation that has been richly blessed by God, for it is a country where each citizen is free; free to voice his opinion; free to own property; and mainly, free to assemble together to worship God in whatever manner he chooses. It was for these purposes that America was founded. But what does the Bicentennial mean to McPherson College?

1976 marks the 89th birthday of McPherson College. However, these 89 years of existence could not have been possible if America had not been a free country.

Land where my fathers died
Land of the pilgrims pride

In 1719, 120 Brethren migrated to America to escape religious persecution in Germany. They came in search of religious freedom and for the opportunity to own land. However, the Brethren had to struggle to survive in the new environment. But these difficulties did not extinguish their deeply rooted religious devotion, for the Brethren expanded westward and settled in the farming areas of the Great Plains.

In 1887 at the Annual Conference at Ottawa, Kansas, it was decided to establish a Brethren College in McPherson, Kansas. The contract was let for the buildings of Fahnestock Hall, the first step toward the development of what is now McPherson College.

During the last 89 years there have been many changes and reorganizations of the College. But some aspects have not changed — It is still an institution of high ideals and commitment toward its Christian values, as we the students of 1976 have learned.

From every mountainside let freedom ring!

But what about our tomorrow? Will the students of 1977 have the same privileges as we the students of 1976 have had? Would we be willing to take Patrick Henry's stand on "Give me Liberty or give me death?"

Our recorded past reveals that we must face up to our foes in order for us to remain free. But history will repeat itself. No matter how many victories we accomplish, there will always be another problem to solve. However, if we keep one thing in mind as we journey through life the future will not look so dim: The problem born ahead is the answer to the one behind.
