HOMECOMING THANKSGIVING

WORLD SERVICE CONDUCTING CAMPAIGN FOR MEDICINE CHESTS TO BE USED IN MEXICO

Asking That Each Student Give Fifty Cents To Help In The Purchase Of Six Chests

TO COMBAT DISEASES

Boys' Club, High Schools, and Central College Conducting Similar Campaign

The World Service Group of the college is starting a campaign this morning to purchase six medicine chests to be used in the rural districts of Mexico.

It will be recalled that during Dr. Lincoln Witt's visit, secretary of the western section of the National Council for the Prevention of War, at the McPherson campus October 23, an urgent need was stressed for medicine chests in the rural districts of Mexico. A committee of Mexican and American students and teachers has been organized and help was promised.

The closing appeal of Dr. Witt's address will be remembered distinctly: "Oh, you children of the Church of the Brethren, if you want to follow in the steps of your parents and your father help to blind up the wounds of Mexico. What will your gift be—that of Diven or of the Good Samaritan?"

It is the purpose of the World Service Group to solicit fifty cents from each member of the student body which will be sufficient to purchase six medicine chests at twenty-five dollars each.

The campaign is being conducted along with the present interest in world peace and international good-will and friendliness and it is hoped that the student body will react favorably in response to this worthy call.

HONOR ROLL CONSISTS OF FOUR WOMEN

The honor roll has been announced and for the first time no members of the male species appeared and only four women received the distinction as honor students.

The honor roll consists of students receiving forty honor points for scholarship work. Those securing the distinction were Ethel Sherry, Mildred Swanson, and Ruth Hickenstaff.

SPORT REVUE FEATURES W. A. A. PROGRAM

Nov. 15.—The W. A. A. meeting this evening was a very classy affair with a very classy modern sport clothes for the college. Ethel Sherry gave a short talk about sport styles, stressing such points as the essentials of a good sport costume, comfort, and becomingness of costume.

After the talk, girls representing each sport style appeared in proper dress. In some instances a contrast was given of proper and improper costume therefore clearly showing to each girl the correct form of dress for each sport.

SOUTHWESTERN ORATORICAL CONTEST WON BY SENIOR

Winfield, Kan., Nov. 21.—John Patten, a senior at Southwestern and first was awarded the medal given by Dr. J. BIGGEST RALLY IN YEARS

Over Hundred Members Of Alumni Association Are Expected To Be Present

Nov. 21.—The latest definite report from the members of the alumni association working on the annual Thanksgiving Homecoming is that this one will be the biggest and best Homecoming yet seen in many years. The committee have been working diligently to complete every detail and in 1929 they make the best yet.

COLONIAL TEA GIVEN BY THE EXPRESSION CLASS

Several hundred people were the guests of the advanced expression students at a colonial tea given this afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. room.

After a program consisting of a play, a reading, a pastime, and a vocal solo, the tea served tea, coffee and opera stinks.

Each member of the dramatic art and interpretation classes was asked by the expression students to bring a guest to the tea. Students were present.

Following a vocal solo "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" by Ida Langel, Beth Hess, Sylvia Edgerly, and Marlin Hoover, piano accompaniment of "The Captain" as it was sung by Miss Della Lehman, Martha Hoover they gave the reading "The Love of the King" after which Helen Louise Houston, Velma Elaine Witt, presented a colonial play "All of Sultana's Day".

John Lewis was then selected and the group departed expressing their appreciation and enjoyment of a pleasant hour.

CHAPEL ORCHESTRA, RAY-BURN LEADERS ENTERTAIN

Nov. 22.—A musical program was given in chapel this morning by the chapel orchestra and the male quartet with the Rayburn quartet party. The orchestra played Handel's "Largo" No. 5. Mr. G. W. Peterson and Mrs. Della Stover were the Rayburn quartet members. Mrs. Stover, the woman's singer, played a concert solo "My Heart As The Stars" by Samson and Bethel, and sang "I'm Free" from Madam Butterfly. The program closed "I'll Serve Him Today".

BEAT THE SWEDES

What! What? What's what? What's what? Think what they all say! What do they all say? BEAT THE SWEDES! Yeah, think just the sentiment of the whole state and all other expressions of such and which.

Think of me think at all about the Swedes. The name. The name will end up in 12 to 15 better in favor of the Swedes. It might be even better if the name were 21-0 but of course we all believe in Santa Claus so it's a good thing that you can all zip up your pants and also your pep and treat out to the bleachers and see a game that will be a walk away for the Swedes. The marvelous the magnificent, unbeatable Bulldogs or Panthers of what have you.

FORMER LECTURER AND Y. M. WORKER ADDRESSES C. E.

Nov. 24.—Mr. Fred E. Gates, for twelve years a chaplain lecturer at Y. M. C. A. worker in the World War, and at present a business man of this city, gave an illustrated lecture on the horrors of war this evening in the chapel before the Christian Endeavor assembly.

You've heard how Sherman defiled war? Mr. Gates began "I'll try to show you in this group of pictures that that definition isn't far wrong."

From the picture of the ship on which he sailed to France in the war of the years which he returned the speaker showed the horrors of the war which involved millions of the world over eleven years ago. He showed pictures of hospitals, and railroads, and fields in ruins, and terrible fields laid waste with shell holes and trenches were more evidence of the incomparable devastation and suffering resulting from war.

Showing the last picture of the war, a soldier's cemetery in France, Mr. Gates declared, "Seven hundred soldiers lie buried on this one hillside. The crosses silently testify to the horrors of war."

GIRLS GUESTS OF MEN'S S. S. CLASS

Nov. 22.—The freshmen-sophomore girls Sunday School class as guests of the freshmen-sophomore men's class were entertained at 1:20 this evening in the parlors of the Church of the Brethren.

The evening was spent in playing games of a general group nature. Milton Early led the two classes in the games after which a light lunch was served.

DEBATERS EXPERIENCED

Will Make First Appearance At The Southwestern Forensic Tournament On December Fifth

Tues. Nov. 27.—One freshman, Ward Williams, one sophomore, Otto Whitbeck, one junior, John Lehman, and one senior, Melvin B. Lawrence, will represent McPherson College at the men's varsity debate team as a result of reports held this evening. Competition was "strong" and those making the varsity and well worth of their rank and the judges had great difficulty in coming to a decision.

Guy Hays and Milton Miller were chosen as alternates to the first team and therefore members of the second team along with William Grant and Hans Harty. Alternates for the second team are Kermit Hays and Talbot Gutman.

The judges for the trials consisted of the members of the faculty including debate coach Marlin A. Hess. The other four judges were Prof. Roy D. Peery, Prof. Edith McCaffrey, Prof. Hugh Dickinson and Prof. J. A. Hildt. It was noted in the judges' decisions that in one instance out of five for all four of the second team of the varsity team.

Ward Williams, Melvin B. Lawrence, has experienced this year of high school debating and in 1928 (Continued on Page 10)

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS FOR GROUP DISCUSSION

A discussion group to be known as the International Relation group, and to be composed of students under the leadership of Prof. Roy D. Peery, whose purpose will be to study international relations in regards to world peace, is under consideration.

A meeting of all those interested will be held soon after the Thanksgiving vacation. There will be no formal organization and it has been suggested that members of the program class and all history majors might be interested in the formation of such a group.

PARTY FRIDAY EVE FOR ONES REMAINING THANKSGIVING

Tues. Nov. 26.—For those who cannot go home over the Thanksgiving recess, there will be some entertainment provided. A big social will be held in the Y. W. room Friday evening beginning at 7:30 which under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and a hearty welcome is being extended to all students living in the dormitories and on college hill who cannot spend Thanksgiving at home. The program for this will be under the general guidance of "Berrie" Pratt, which means there will be fun for 27.

CATSHALL TO BE THE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Nov. 22.—The senior class met this morning to decide upon a commencement speaker. President E. Guy Catshall of the High School of Theology of Denver will deliver the address for the class of '30. Dr. Catshall visited our campus last year and spoke in chapel. He brought a timely message on many comments lastly.

WHAT IS A "HERO"

In answer to a query, submitted to the public by Crane & Company of Topeka, as to what was the best definition of the word "hero", 15,000 replies were received. Final prizes were offered to the first and second best definitions. The one receiving first honor read as follows:

"A hero is one who can live in the present age of social crisis and law breaking and maintain an honorable upright American character."
The one chosen as second best is thus:
"My analysis of a hero is a man who can stay on the job while everyone else is chasing rainbows in unpaid-for autos."

THANKSGIVING

As winter settles down and Thanksgiving day is drawing near we lift our faces to the heavens and give thanks to Him for all our worldly goods and achievements of the past.

We are thankful for Him and all his glorious words of inspiration and thought—for his sympathy and kindness during illness and death—for his watchful guidance and ruling hand in molding characters of men. We lift a hand to Him on high and praise Him for nature's justing beauty until death.

As a college we have much to be thankful for. We are thankful that we have the Church of the Brethren behind us in our every move; for without the church, our medium through which we receive the grace of God, our successes in life's wide field of worldly good would not be the will of the spirit.

For the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. we express our gratitude. The religious organizations on the campus are the branches of the church that extend to each and every one that seeks His truth. We are thankful for their leadership in creating a lasting impression upon the minds of those who seek the way of God.

We are thankful for our President. He is a man of highly graduated mind and soul who is trying to settle our problems in the light of the student's situation. It is in him that the Brethren Church has entrusted the development and assistance of McPherson College. We are thankful to have him as our president.

We are thankful for our faculty. Men and women who have through years of toil and sacrifice mastered their respective branches of cultured knowledge of the world and are now transmitting to us the fruits of their harvest so that we might know and do.

We are thankful for our clean, unadulterated athletics which have been stimulated and upheld by our coach. Last spring we won the conference championship in basketball—we were victorious on the field and track—we went high up in the national basketball tournament at Kansas City. Some of our noble athletes will be playing their last game of football Thursday when they play their strength against our friendly rivals of the north. This closing grid season has been a success in light of the fact that our victories were more numerous than of last year.

In forenoon we are thankful for our wonderful successes. By winning the national peace oratorical contest, the state peace contest, the anti-foreign contest and triumph in the field of debate place an honor upon not only our college but also upon our coach with the distinction and admiration of the state and nation.

We are thankful that we are going to have our alumni back with us again during the Thanksgiving season. It is through them that we see the results of the high standards that are constantly set forth in the "Quality School". We are thankful for their loyalty and may their influence be the medium through which McPherson College may grow.

We are thankful for the achievements of the faculty in the past year—both in the world of creative science and the international relationships that are due in time to create a world purpose for the brotherhood of mankind.

We are thankful for our parents and a home to which we might go to give thanks to Him. We are thankful for the sacrifices our parents are making in our behalf. It is through their efforts that we realize the advantageous necessity for knowledge—the better things life affords. It is our fathers and mothers who are telling at home so that we might receive the fruits of their past worries. We will not disappoint them for it says the very blood from their souls when they go fall short of our coming. To them we give homage.

We are thankful for the coming school year and its present successes. May the intellectual atmosphere continue to be dominant upon our campus and may we continue to oppose the plague of mob spirit. Let us lift ourselves in united groups for the sake of the life of the college. May our minds be free from the antagonistic group who are forever depicting the faults and misfortunes of others.

We are thankful that we are alive that we might scan the beauty of our surrounding environment upon which our future lives may rest. May each one of us find ourselves and preserve it for the sake of another.

We offer a prayer for our Thanksgiving to Him: Dear Father, we thank thee for the past year and its wonders. In our own humble manner we thank thee that we are alive and can live in a world of peace with a brotherhood of man. Amen.

Bulldogmas

OLD TIME STORY

Once there were two giants. One of these giants was called Swede and the other was called Bulldog.

New children, ain't Swede an awful name for a giant? Well, this Swede giant had a stout hair. He had his feet. In fact his feet were so big that he stepped on another giant called Bechel and just squashed the top out of him.

The Swede giant felt as big as a pomp prof. who has just flunked a guy.

"Gee—er—er—", says the Swede giant. "Gee—er—er—", says he. Then he gr—er—er—s again and says:

"Guess I'll have Bulldog giant for Thanksgiving instead of turkey."

Then the Swede giant starts over again and don't work out and things so thin he can't have that Bulldog meat.

Thinking over the matter and the Swede giant got so hungry for that Bulldog meat that he acts all hostile. "Bring on your bulldog meat", he yells. "Bring on your bulldog meat", yells he.

Came the Dawn! The Swede giant put on his seven league boots (the Ford) and took three steps into the Bulldog giant's country.

Bulldog giant saw him coming and he got hostile too.

"I want Bulldog meat! I want Bulldog meat! I want Bulldog meat!" bellowed the Swede giant.

"You go to ———", the Bulldog giant said as he put on his armor (football suit).

"How's your Aunt Lizzy? And how's your old man?", the Bulldog giant growled while he put on his helmet.

Boy, oh! Boy! That Bulldog giant socked the Swede giant between the eyes with a foot ball and then Jim wallowed the very ground out of him.

When that Bulldog giant got done with that Swede giant they picked up the Swede giant with brothers and swung him out in a tank, threw him on a wheelbarrow, and took him back to Swedenburg.

And the Swede giant didn't have Bulldog meat for Thanksgiving dinner.

THE SPIANS TO PRESENT PLAY JANUARY THIRTEENTH

Mon., Nov. 25—January 13th has definitely been set as the date for the presentation of the Thespian play "The Queen's Husband", in convention hall.

The play is under the personal direction of Mrs. Lawrence Gates, instructor in dramatic art, who has received her dramatic training from the American Academy of Dramatic Art in New York City.

Rehearsals have been in progress for the last three weeks. Elaborate scenery is now being constructed especially for "The Queen's Husband".

"M" CLUB GIVES INTERESTING PROGRAM

Tues., Nov. 19—The "M" Club had charge of the Y. M. meeting. They gave the attitude of the athlete toward his game.

Eber Tise spoke from the frontman's attitude. He stressed particularly the fellowship and social benefits to be derived from participation in athletics.

Buch Holloway spoke as a veteran player and high school coach. He says it helps to keep one physically fit, especially does it show up the ill effects of the use of tobacco. The athlete may enjoy the experience of winning, along with it however comes the bitter taste of defeat. Self-reliance, sacrifice for others, playing the game fair but hitting hard, and gambling are all taught by athletics.

WORLD SERVICE GROUP DISCUSS MEXICAN PROBLEM

Thurs., Nov. 21—The evening at 8:30 the World Service Group met in the Y. W. C. A. room to discuss the Mexican Medicine Chest project. It is hoped to equip six chests with medical necessities.

Dean Mohler, who made a study of Mexican conditions this summer, will secure the blue prints which will be used in making the chests here in the Industrial Arts Department. All the materials which will go into the chests will be secured at cost. The transportation on this project will be paid to Mexico. Then the chests will be distributed to the needed areas by the Mexican government.

INTERESTING HAPPENINGS REVEALED IN NINE YEARS OF GRID CONFLICTS WITH SWEDES

Special Editor Digs Deep Into The History of Bulldog-Swede Relations And Brings Many Interesting Facts To Light

That "It takes only three words to change history—Beat the Swedes," the famous colloquy of Captain Medias Kakes, of the Bulldogs football team in 1925, a few weeks prior to the Swede game that year, in a certain magazine article that appeared recently recently someone tried to say that it takes more real history and time to make the annual grudge battle mean anything to the schools involved. If history, grudge, and old grudge teams are what is taken to make a good Thanksgiving football game then the one between the Bethany Swedes and the McPherson Bulldogs, that comes the day after tomorrow, will fill the bill in fine shape.

Thursday's clash on the local grid field will be the ninth annual of its kind and as for "hope" there is perfect this year, as it is every year. Each team was defeated at the same point by Sterling and each team fell before Kansas Wesleyan by two touchdowns while each defeated Illinois and St. Mary's of Kansas. The Swedes beat Baker and Baker got us which has made it possible for the Scandinavians to be awarded the Kansas conference title if they are successful in beating the Bulldogs Thursday.

Two years ago Dean Hahler said that each team considers that it has had a successful season if it is for the season enough to annex the Turkey. This year regardless of the past season's history with other schools, each team should rather win Thursday's game than to become conference champions.

The manuscripts of the past have recently been consulted in order to be the Bulldog-Swede games, of the years gone by, speak for themselves and throw what light they may on the games of the future. As a result, the information that is to follow is the result of the investigation that has been made.

In 1921 the two teams met for the first time on the gridiron and the Bulldogs were defeated 7 to 0, as a result of failing to add the point after their touchdown. The Swedes were outplayed in every phase of the game, the Bulldogs making 16 first downs to the Swedes 4. The game was played at Lindsay.

In 1922 Bethany took advantage of McPherson's fumble in a field of mud and in eight plunges they put the ball over. It rained that day and the game was played in ten minute quarters. The score was 6 to 0 in favor of the Swedes.

The Bulldogs were champions in the Kansas conference in 1923. This was the first time they were ever able to outscore the Swedes. They did it in the Armistice Day game, the Bulldogs made 22 first downs and at no time did the Swedes make yardage. Bulldogs 7, Swedes 3. Bethany 6, Bulldogs 6, the score, and in 1924. This was the first time the thing was not settled on the gridiron.

The Swedes were Kansas conference champions in 1925, going through the entire season without their goal line being crossed and when they played us they merely led down the cellar door on the Bulldogs. The score 25 to 0 for those four friends of ours.

Ray Noskon was McPherson's hopeful young free-hunter halfback in 1926 and already the other conference teams had learned to fear him. Even the Swedes had a hard time keeping him down in the Turkey Day game which was really a hard fought battle. Score, M. C. 4, B. C. 14.

These Scandinavians made their greatest triumph in 1927 on the McPherson athletic field and the Bulldogs after holding them well the first half fell hard. It was a good day but we were snowed under, 29 to 0.

Last year we played the Swedes on their own field and thought we had them beat the first half when the score was 6-0 in our favor but they are smart and when the game was over we held the short end of a 8 to 0 score. It was a rainy day, Thanksgiving 1928.

In 1929—?—? You decide for yourself what it will be. Will the unexpected continue to happen? We have decided to Beat the Swedes on the Grid this year and have put away the good and out of date barbaric customs of medieval ramping fights between the two schools and it only remains to be seen what will happen to the flame-haired fellows after the Centra folk have conserved their energies previous to the game. Our slogan has become a by-word almost.

The First Floor bench in Arnold Hall "speaks" there is a reason for somebody doing somebody's business.

THE DOPE BUCKET

By the Sport Editor

The big thing to keep in mind these days is that we play the Swedes on Thanksgiving Day and that we don't beat them this year and also that the great day is but two days off, the game but about fifty hours away now. There is always a lot of speculating done as to the probable outcome of this annual fray and the unexpected or the impossible is just sure to happen each year. At any rate the Bulldogs have their hardest game ahead of them and they realize it too. It was a touching scene in the dining hall last Monday evening to watch the expressions change on the faces of the fellows at the football table who had played a Swede Game before and knew something of its significance, when the other students started to sing our favorite "M. C. Will Shine To Night", with the "Swedes Will Weep" application.

The latest information on the pre-season basketball game is briefly this: the University of Mexico will play here on January the ninth, McPherson willing, Gardner is trying to get in the process of getting away from home games with the following: Baylor University at Waco, Texas; Rice Institute at Houston, Texas; Texas State University at Austin and with Texas Christian College at Fort Worth. Among the teams mentioned are some of the strongest basketball squads in the Lone Star state as well as in the South. It is planned that the Bulldog camp spend the early part of the winter in the balmy southern climate in order to be in the best of shape for the stiff Kansas conference schedule that will be theirs in 1930.

Even if life is a gamble, we usually get a square deal, and are allowed to play our own hands.

Hi Costa Livin

Time and materials that are wasted must be added to the cost or production and whatever increases the cost of producing the things we eat, wear or use, will either directly or indirectly raise the cost of living. It is to the mutual and immediate advantage of all, to eliminate waste, increase production and guard against the extravagant spending of money. Is it not so?
