PROF. J. HUGH HECKMAN UNABLE TO TAKE ANY OF HIS CLASSES THIS SEMESTER

Condition Of Health Does Not Allow Exertion Of Teaching Duties As Yet

BACK SECOND SEMESTER

Dr. Melvalem And Dean Replogle Take Classes

Prof. J. Hugh Heckman, professor of Bible and Philosophy, is unable because of ill health to take any of his classes this semester. Prof. Heckman spent some time this summer at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota, and since then has been at his home in McPherson. His condition is caused by an abscess of the bone.

Prof. Heckman has stated that he fully intends to be able to teach at least part time next semester. At present he is able to do very little work excepting a considerable amount of writing and study.

President V. F. Schwalm and Dean F. A. Replogle are teaching the classes in the department of Bible and Philosophy at present.

Prof. Heckman has won the friendship and respect of all of his pupils and fellow-teachers on the campus, and all are hoping for his speedy recovery.

DEAN MOHLER SPEAKS IN CHAPEL FRIDAY

Challenges Us To Use Our Opportunities

Mon., Sept. 14—Chapel devotions this morning were led by Dean R. E. Mohler. In his brief talk he pointed out the idea that all students should be challenged to make use of their opportunity of attending college. He stated that the finest insurance in the world which can be obtained is the training of one's mind or the opportunity of getting a college education, especially in a period of depression as this. The talk was followed by a vocal duet—"One Fleeting Hour", sung by Mrs. Helen Holloway and Ethel Sherry and accompanied by Pauline Dell.

Ralph Keedy, president of the student council announced that the students should vote for two student representatives who are to work with Prof. Della Lehman and Dean R. E. Mohler in studying and arranging a balanced college program and calendar for the school year. Eight candidates were chosen by the student council from which Adelyn Taylor and Kermit Hayes were elected.

HARVEST HOME DAY AT THE BRETHREN CHURCH

B. Y. P. D. Conference Has Charge Of Two Programs

Sun., Sept. 13—Harvest Home day was fittingly observed today at the Church of the Brethren by a full day's service.

Following the regular morning church service a basket dinner was served by ladies of the church, and all college students who were present were guests at this meal.

The afternoon service was in charge of the B. Y. P. D. conference, in which young people from eight churches of the district took part. Short talks were given by representatives of several churches, and Dean F. A. Replogle gave an address. Following the program the young people enjoyed a period of games and recreation on the College campus.

In the evening a play, "And There Was Light," was presented by the local high school Christian Endeavor society. A number of excellent special musical numbers were given in both afternoon and evening.

Every Man In College To Be Visited By Y. M. Leader In Next Three Days

CONDUCT SWIMMING CLASSES

Swimming will be the chief activity of the girls' physical education classes for the coming four weeks. Mr. George Bryan, manager of the city Y. M. C. A., has kindly given the girls permission to swim in the Y. M. C. A. pool one hour each day on four days a week.

A large majority of the girls evinced interest in the sport and there will be approximately forty pupils. Two classes are to be conducted, one for beginners and one for intermediate or advanced swimmers.

MOHLER URGES ECONOMY, HARD WORK IN LECTURE

Outlines Three Steps in an Efficient Program.

Thurs., Sept. 10—Prof. R. E. Mohler, Dean of men at McPherson college, gave a talk to all college men today in the chapel, outlining some of the things that are necessary for a successful school year. The large group of men present received an appeal for work and economy and were challenged to make this year a successful one.

Three worthwhile programs were outlined by Dean Mohler. The first, a study program, stressed the idea of the student budgeting his time so as to avoid waste. Dean Mohler stated that a waste of time meant a double cost. He urged each man to make out his own study program, post it where he could see it, try to follow it, and then improve it by revision. He also said that there are two pitfalls to a study program—too much company, and lack of ability to concentrate despite outside attractions.

The second was a program of finance. Each student should adopt a bookkeeping system and keep a ledger. He should have an income list and then keep account of all his expenditures, such as tuition and fees; books and stationery; board and room; clothing and living expenses; recreation and amusement; and miscellaneous expenses. Dean Mohler stated that there are three purposes of a ledger: it helps one to save; it establishes confidence in one's self; and it aids others.

The third program, a program for life, consisted of establishing great loyalties, the building of fine social contacts, and the making of habits that you know will win. He stated that a college man should sell himself to something worthwhile, and that he should gain habits of economy, work, and of things that are constructive.

LIBRARY TOTAL 11,006

Increase of 1500 Volumes in Eighteen Months

Friday, Sept. 11—The college library has now 1500 more books than it did one and one half years ago, which raises the total number of indexed volumes to 11,006. This remarkable increase in the number of volumes is due largely to the activities of the College Library Committee, which has conducted a special campaign to enlarge our library.

One way to make the punishment fit the crime would be to have every man who criticizes the modern apparel of women sentenced to spend one hour a day looking through the old family album.—Louisville Times.

BENEFITS MEN DIRECTLY

Activities Include Social Affairs, Great Speakers

Wed., Sept. 16—The annual membership and finance campaign of the Y. M. C. A. will begin this afternoon and will be completed by Friday night. Every man of the College will be given an opportunity to become a member of this organization and to support it in a financial way for the many services it renders the campus.

This membership and finance campaign will be conducted the same as those of former years. Within the next three days every man of the College will be interviewed by some leader in the "Y." In becoming a member of this association he will become a part of one of the most active and vital organizations on the campus. Everything contributed to the Y. M. C. A. goes directly to the benefit of the men of the College.

Elsewhere in this issue the activities of the association are given. Among those described are the sponsoring of social affairs, bringing great speakers to the campus, sponsoring motion picture shows, and conducting a weekly meeting on some vital problem of college men.

LARGEST CLASS OF FRESHMEN IN YEARS

104 Enrolled At Present

Tues., Sept. 15—Figures checked over today revealed that the largest freshman class in the recent years had enrolled for the coming term. At present there are 104 in the freshman class, and registrations are still coming in.

This fact is looked upon as very encouraging in the face of financial conditions throughout the McPherson college territory which might be expected to cause a decided drop in registration.

The complete enrollment in all classes is at present very near what it was last year, a number of late registrations not yet finished are certain to bring the total to fully that of 1930-1931. The senior class will probably be increased by several members over that of the preceding term.

DR. SCHWALM ADDRESSES FIRST CHAPEL OF YEAR

Says There Should be Definite Purpose in Attending School this Year

Wed., Sept. 9—Dr. V. F. Schwalm stated today, in the opening chapel address of the school year, that greater weight attended the decisions of students to return to school this fall than in any year since the World War.

After briefly reviewing the situation students must face, Dr. Schwalm expressed the necessity for four things: first, a definite purpose in coming to college; second, cooperation between students and faculty; third, strict economy of time and money; and fourth, a social point of view, with special emphasis on the problem of World Peace and the Geneva Conference of February, 1922.

Chapel was opened with the hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal," followed by two violin solos by Miss Margaret Shelley. Dr. H. J. Hamby, senior member of the faculty, conducted devotions, and Mrs. Anna C. Tate sang two solos.

Dr. Schwalm introduced the members of the faculty to the student body before dismissal.

We are not sent into this world to do anything into which we can not put our hearts.—Ruskin.

Y. W. PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Tues., Sept. 15—Alberta Yoder, president of the Y. W. C. A., spoke in this morning's meeting on the opportunities which the Y. W. C. A. affords for growing a radiant life.

Miss Vera Flora sang a vocal solo, "This Is My Task." She was accompanied by Evelyn Taylor, who also played a processional and a recessional.

M. C. FACULTY GIVES A STUDENT RECEPTION

Held In Parlors Of Brethren Church

Mon., Sept. 14—The McPherson college faculty was host to the student body this evening at a reception held in the parlors of the Church of the Brethren. Nearly all students and faculty members were present to enjoy the evening.

After passing along the reception line and each shaking hands with every other person present, the guests were entertained by a program given by the faculty members. Prof. Earl Bohling acting as chairman.

Dr. V. F. Schwalm gave a short speech of greeting. Two violin numbers were played by Miss Margaret Shelley, and Mrs. Anna C. Tate sang two solos. Short talks were given by Dean F. A. Replogle and by Prof. J. A. Blair, who spoke on the subject of "Mosquitoes." Miss Della Lehman entertained with a humorous reading.

Following the program the guests were served with light refreshments of ice cream and wafers.

DEAN REPLOGLE GIVES CHAPEL TALK FRIDAY

On Value of Having Great Life Purposes

Fri., Sept. 11—The value of having great and noble purposes in life was the general subject used by Prof. Fred A. Replogle, Dean of McPherson College, in chapel this morning. He gave inhibitions and fears as two retarding forces in making and holding to our high purposes.

Dean Replogle stated that the purpose should be centered in the individuals of the group, and not in something abstract and remote. Religion was given as the best means of bringing forth the best there is in us.

He also suggested that perhaps, in the unsettled condition of the world at present, the universe is still running smoothly, but we are out of adjustment.

"SECRET OF FELLOWSHIP" DISCUSSED IN C. E. PROGRAM

Sept. 13—"The Secret of Fellowship" was the topic of discussion in the College Christian Endeavor which met at 6:30 Sunday night in the chapel. More than ninety young people were present, among them visitors from eight churches of the Southwest Kansas District, who met here Sunday for a B. Y. P. D. conference. Lihurn Gottman, president of the C. E. organization, led the discussion.

Mary Weddle spoke on "The Joy of Fellowship". In the first talk of the program, Vernon Rhoades spoke on "Opportunities for Fellowship", stressing the importance of and need for fellowship among the students. Edith Richards talked on "The Great Helper in Fellowship". Misses Vera Flora and Lois Edwards sang a special duet during the program.

DR. V. F. SCHWALM

PRESIDENT SENDS A GREETING TO ALUMNI

McPherson College through this medium sends greeting to the alumni scattered far and wide. We hope that these difficult days have not come upon you unprepared for them. They are the days that test the metal of men and institutions. We believe that the ideals which the Alma Mater has upheld are adequate ever for days like these.

The College has opened for the year 1931-2 with a very satisfactory enrollment despite conditions. Our Freshman class will be somewhat larger than the last two years. The Senior class will be larger than last year by several. Prospects in music, forensics and athletics look better than at any time for some time.

The endowment campaign is somewhat slowed up by the present economic condition, but it has not been cancelled. We shall pursue our forward movement policy as rapidly as conditions warrant. Several alumni have recently said they were ready to make their contribution whenever we called on them. Such a spirit of cooperation makes a difficult task possible.

We wish for every alumnus a good year during 1931-2 and express the hope that you will be no interested that you will return your order for the Spectator.—V. F. Schwalm.

ATTENDANCE OF 300 AT WATERMELON FEED

"The Pot Boiler" is Leading Feature of Program

Fri., Sept. 11—At 7:00 tonight college students, faculty and visitors met on the campus for an All-School Social and Melon Feed. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. sponsored the program.

Couch Melvin Binford, assisted by Posey Jamison and Adelyn Taylor, was in charge of the games and group contests. Following the outdoor games, the group went in the chapel. Here those present were entertained by several mixed quartet numbers. The quartet was composed of Vera Flora, Gulah Hoover, Vernon Rhoades, and Posey Jamison. A play, "The Pot Boiler," was the leading feature of the program. Those in the cast were Ethel Sherry, Velma Amos, Ward Williams, Blanch Harris, Charles Austin, John Kindy and Ralph Keedy.

The watermelons were served cafeteria style, after the program in the chapel. About 300 persons were present.

PURPOSE OF Y. W. C. A. EXPLAINED BY PRESIDENT

Brings New Realms of Thought and Ideals to Students

The Young Women's Christian Association of McPherson College is a fellowship of college girls searching for joyous, creative life for themselves and for all people.

An students in college we realize that now "we are in the process of becoming" the kind of people we desire to be. Many experiences go into that process during any given year of a student's life.

The Y. W. C. A. is planning a program of activities which it is hoped will include the interest of every girl in McPherson College.

Each Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the Association has a discussion program in the Y. W. C. A. room on topics of particular interest to the college girl.

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet consists of eleven girls including the officers and chairman of committees. This Cabinet meets twice each week in preparation for a new week of living and working.

The Y. W. C. A. seeks to find Christian attitudes about ordinary incidents on the campus, in our home communities, and throughout the world.

QUAD. STAFF WILL PUT OUT SCHOOL DIRECTORY

Will Contain Data On All Students—Sponsored By Business Men

A new student publication, the school directory, is soon to make its appearance on the McPherson college campus. It is to be sponsored by the McPherson business men whose advertisements appear in the Quadrangle.

The directory is being compiled at the present time by the Quadrangle staff under the supervision of Verle Ohmart, business manager. The names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all students will be listed down the center of each page, with advertisements appearing on either side of the columns.

Business men who advertise in the Quadrangle have had almost no chance to put their products and professions before the students because the yearbook is not published until the last week of school. This method of publishing a student directory has been adopted as a means of introducing McPherson's business men to the college student early in the year.

OUTLINE PROGRAM FOR YEAR

Y. W. C. A.

Program Committee

Every Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock a larger or smaller per cent of the girls will be found in the Y. W. room expecting a program which will touch some need in their lives. The size of the audience will depend largely upon the value each girl feels she receives from the time spent there. If talking to her friends, reading letters, or studying is more interesting than the programs, the Y. W. has lost one of its largest avenues for service. It is the work of the program committee to see that each week a program is started to growing which will blossom on Tuesday morning into a thing of inspiration and help.

It is the plan of this committee to cooperate with other committees in giving programs to get their work before the girls; to deal with personal problems of adjustment in college and in life; and to present the problems of a suffering, torn world to this privileged class of citizens. The success of this committee's work will not be measured in money or membership rolls, but in vital convictions so instilled into the girls' lives that years later they will stand courageously for the principles of truth, beauty, and justice.

We plan to have speakers from other campuses as well as our own faculty friends. Often we will use the girls in discussions and dramatic sending girls to conferences and to buy treats for the poor children at Christmas time.

We will appreciate suggestions or help from any of the girls.

ETHEL SHERFY
Program Chairman

Membership Committee

A part of this committee's work has been manifested on the campus during the last few days through the Big and Little Sister Movement. An informal party was given at which the girls made an effort to get acquainted.

The major work of the vice-president's committee consists of the membership drive which will begin Sept. 22 and continue throughout the year. We are going to try to have 100 per cent of the girls of the college active and enthusiastic members of the organization before the year closes. Presentations of truth. It is only as we express the truth that has impressed us that we make it a part of ourselves.

Later in the year the membership committee will sponsor what is known as "Heart Sister Week." All of the girls will look forward to this phase of the Y. W. work.

HELEN HOLLOWAY
Vice-President

Finance Committee

The finance committee of the Y. W. C. A. will endeavor to provide funds necessary for the activities of our organization. During the year we will sell candy bars and sandwiches, have waffle suppers, and linen sales. In order that each girl may help, we will have the girls sign personal pledges for any amount which they wish to give to the Y. W. C. A.

The money will be used for various purposes, such as keeping the Y. W. room well equipped, for flowers to send to girls who are ill, for been advised by Y. W. C. A. leaders and used on other campuses. It is called the White Stocking Movement; and by buying hosiery bearing the label of the United Textile Workers of America, we may help to better the working conditions of the girls working in their factories.

ELIZABETH RICHARDS
Treasurer

Social Committee

The work of the Social Committee of the Y. W. C. A. is to promote and keep up an interest in social activities, in cooperation with the Y. M. C. A. at the beginning of the school year, this committee helps with various entertainments. The providing of watermelons for the all school watermelon feed is no small duty of the Y. W. and Y. M. Social Committees. Throughout the year there are various opportunities for this committee to function.

CONSTANCE RANNEY
Social Chairman

Social Service Committee

The social service committee of the Y. W. C. A. affords one of the best opportunities of service and making others happy. It is this committee that keeps the Y. W. room clean and makes it homelike for the girls. We send flowers to the girls who are ill. This year we plan to take baskets and give a program at the county home; also sponsor a Christmas party for the poor children in town.

Miss Maude Gwinn, Regional Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., suggested that the Social Committee make an inventory of personal qualities which make a girl outstanding, successful, and help her live a full creative life. This plan has been carried out by some of the larger schools and the results have been very satisfactory.

GRACE HECKMAN
Social Service Chairman

World Fellowship Committee

People are meant to be a means of grace to us. According to George McDonald, "A man must not choose his neighbor; he must take his neighbor that God sends him. In him, who ever he be, he's hidden or revealed a beautiful brother. The neighbor is just the man who is next to you at the moment. This love of our neighbor is the only door out of the dungeon of self."

The World Fellowship unit will endeavor to bring the girls into a closer relationship with Christ. Only when a life is in close fellowship with Christ can it see the beautiful fellowship of a brother.

The few minutes spent in worship and meditation together, each week. It is trusted will help give an appreciation for a neighbor. "Each man can learn something from his neighbor, at least, he can learn this—to have patience with his neighbor."

From fellowship with Christ and neighbors it is hoped that a feeling of brotherliness and World Fellowship will grow which will promote peace and good will.

MARY WEDDLE
World Fellowship Chairman

SIXTY GUESTS PRESENT AT SAT. AFTERNOON TEA

Four College Girls Act As Hostesses

Sat., Sept. 12—About sixty guests were entertained this afternoon by a tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Anderson, 622 East Kansas Avenue, with Attilia Anderson, Mary Swain, Viola DeVillias, and Rosalind Almen as hostesses.

The guests came in three groups, at two, three and four o'clock respectively. Radio music furnished the entertainment for the afternoon. At the close of each hour, refreshments of punch, wafers, sandwiches, and candies were served. A color scheme of pink and yellow was carried out both in decorations and refreshments.

Miss Mary Swain was unable to be present on account of the death of her grandfather. The other hostesses were assisted by Mrs. C. M. Anderson and Mrs. C. G. Swain.

The invited list included both the girls of the College and the ladies of the faculty.

"Y" OUTLINES PROGRAM

COACH BINFORD HAS AN EVENLY MATCHED SQUAD

No Player Has Place in Lineup Cincbed—16 Conted For Backfield

An unusually evenly matched squad is the most prominent fact disclosed by the past week's practice. Monday evening Coach Binford picked three squads and played the first squad against the third, and then the second against the third, and the second squad made a better showing than the one he had temporarily placed first.

This is one year when there is no player who has his place in the lineup clinched. Last year there were a number of men who stood out above the rest so that there was not a great deal of doubt as to who would comprise the team. This very fact led to lack of interest and a resultant lessening in the contest for positions.

This year there are sixteen men competing for the backfield positions alone. The fact that two to three are fighting for their chance at each position means that every player will of necessity keep at his best or forfeit his chance to remain in the lineup.

Coach Binford says that this is the most evenly matched squad as to the ability of the individuals that he as yet worked with. He further states that because of the large number of new players he should be cautious in our opinions, but that our largest hopes lie in this very equality of the members of the squad.

— DRIPPINGS — from THE DOPE BUCKET

Both the sturdy old Dope Bucket and the Cause of Artistic Expression were quite startled last week to find that they had been made bed fellows. The editor in his effort to provide us with a Spectator the first week, labored until the wee hours of the morn. As a result the feature on Poetry was denied a headline of its own and found itself keeping company with the Bucket. From now on, we pledge our cooperation to keep those equally worthy but non-connatal departments separated by at least a couple of lead slugs in the column.

If sand and grit in the abstract are held to be good for the sportsman, they ought to be even better for him in the concrete. The sand and grit that the Kansas winds have been serving to the football squad this past week is far from being abstract, and if it is sand that makes a team, Hutchinson Junior College will have a sad time of it.

Already the cry is lifted aloft by some fervent but misguided McPhersonite that it looks as if we had a splendid chance to do something to the Swedes this year. Ye poor boob! The Swedes can take care of themselves. Before we meet the invaders on Thanksgiving Day we have eight other elevens to deal with. If we can back the team through the coming two months, Thanksgiving Day can be forgotten—like the Swedes, it will take care of itself.

Leslie Edmonds, sports editor of the Topeka Daily Capital, recently paid a fine tribute to Coach Binford and the spirit which McPherson teams and boosters have displayed in the face of both victory and defeat. He ended by saying, "Here's a prayer for Binford and McPherson. The coach and the school are a sporting lot and one can't help but hope that right living and a splendid spirit have something like a suitable reward."

scrap books and this is a little different. We keep clippings from the Spectator which deal with our members and our activities. There are several snap shots and accounts from several years back, so we don't soon forget the former members.

Sometime in the near future I intend to get in touch with some foreign students either in American or in foreign schools. I think a correspondence with such people would be very interesting, not only for myself but for the other girls as well.

Conference Committee

It is the aim of the Conference Committee of the Y. W. C. A. to create a vital interest in the Estes Park Conference which will be held in June, 1932.

It is our goal to have twenty delegates at Estes next summer. In order to do this, we will have an Estes program, make Estes posters, and put up pictures that were taken this year at Conference.

It is also our plan to bring speakers to the campus who can help us with our problems and whom the students will enjoy most.

Conference Chairman

Music Committee

The purpose of the music committee is to make all meetings of the Y. W. C. A. more interesting and more enjoyable to all its members. Through its music the committee attempts to instill a spirit of reverence into its worship services. In the more informal meetings of the organization, the committee strives to impart a peppler spirit to the gathering through the music. The committee works hand in hand with the program committee in endeavoring to secure unity throughout the meetings.

"It Pays To Advertise"

A harmony of beautiful colors, an unusual figure or modest lettering attracts the attention of our fellow classmates. That's our mission—attract attention and then, in a quiet way, tell just enough of an interesting Y. W. program to make other girls want to come. This committee also casts its influence by broadcasting those worth while things that might be of interest to others. Some one said, "Everything you come in contact with, everything you read has its mark on you", and our efforts are to make it better. We also work with the Social Committee which adds to the many other interesting things possible for this committee to work on.

Freshmen Work

Freshmen are often started toward a year of success or failure in the first weeks of college. It is for this reason that the Y. M. C. A. is interested in having every Freshman mentally and spiritually awake, while he is making these important first decisions.

There are practices which occur at M. C. which, if the school which we hope to build is ever to be achieved, must be eliminated. There are other customs which will prove of value to every student. In deciding which to follow, every student—under and upper classmen alike—should allow his sense of real and permanent values to govern his choice.—Ward Williams.

Coming Speakers of the Year

Kirby Page may be one of the noted speakers to come to our campus this year.

Every year the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. bring some outstanding speakers to our campus. None of us will soon forget the stirring talks of Sherwood Eddy or the highly spiritual talks of Arthur Rugh. Likewise our social attitudes have been changed and broadened by the messages of social justice which were given by Norman Thomas and Powers Haggood.

Every year we look forward to the coming of these leaders to our campus. This year we shall have another group of outstanding men, and we especially anticipate the coming of Kirby Page.—Charles Austin.

Coming Y. M. C. A. Programs

The Y. M. C. A. program chairman is endeavoring to plan worthwhile programs, those that will be interesting and of practical value to all men in McPherson College this year. The purpose of these programs will be to deal with problems that we are meeting now or will meet, when we get out of school, in the future.

An yet no definite programs have been formulated, but the following is a list of the problems that will be discussed in the near future at the regular Y. M. C. A. meetings—

- "Choosing and evaluating friendships."
 - "The use of leisure time."
 - "The value of a practical hobby."
 - "What is expected of a freshman boy."
 - "Making the most of your opportunities."
- There will also be a series of meetings dealing with such subjects as the following—
- "Should college men date steady?"
 - "What girls expect of a boy."
 - "Keeping company with a girl who goes only for a good time."
- Kermit Hayes.

The Social Program of the Y. M. C. A.

The college Y. M. C. A. should devote a large part of its time to its social program. Physically and intellectually the student may look to the college itself for development. Religiously and socially the student must look to the organizations formed primarily for the purpose of such development. The Y. M. C. A. is one such organization.

Upon our campus the Y. M. sponsors three major social events during the year. The Freshman stag helps the lonely newcomers to get acquainted with each other and the "Y". The watermelon feed, put on with the cooperation of its sister organization, is an excellent all-school get-together. Students not fortunate enough to get home for the Thanksgiving vacation, are benefitted by the Thanksgiving party, also put on in cooperation with the Y. W. C. A.—Paul Sherry.

LEHMAN SPEAKS IN Y. M.

Tues., Sept. 15—The subject of etiquette in general, and especially as applied to college men was the subject used by Miss Della Lehman this morning in a talk at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A.

Group singing was led by Blanch Harris, followed by devotionals on the subject of "Friendship," conducted by Philip Lauver.

Kermit Hayes, program committee chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

HUTCH. JUNIOR WILL BE FORMIDABLE FOE

Coaches Binford And Sesher Old Team Mates

Hutchinson Junior College, although only a two year school, will have a line averaging above 175 pounds when they come on the local gridiron September 25. They report 50 men out for practice, including some of the most promising prospects of this region from the graduating classes of last spring.

The coming fray is one of great interest for all concerned. Coach Sesher is an old teammate of Coach Binford's, having played both football and basketball with him one year at Pittsburg. Then Coach Binford's coaching at Hutchinson before coming to McPherson adds again to the interest. Above this, the first game of the season is always full of possibilities, when the new lineup is for the first time meeting a foe. So for the coming game a large number of spectators are expected from Hutchinson as well as the large local turnout for the premier game of the season.

Hutchinson has a large number of letter men back from last year, and all in all it appears that the opening game of the season may prove one of the season's most worthwhile games.
