Queen Will Begin Reign As Mac Grooms Grads

Homecoming activities next weekend will range from Fairyland to the gridiron. Queen Sara Ann Coffman will reign over the festivities after being crowned at the banquet of Fairyland Dreams Friday night.

Many Maccollege graduates will return to the campus, which will be gaily decorated Saturday morning by various Maccollege organizations. The football game Saturday night against Kansas Wesleyan will highlight the homecoming activities.

Sara Ann Coffman, a junior from South English, Iowa, was elected queen from four candidates from the junior class by the student body.

Her attendants will be Ann Schnallhman, sophomore, and Judy Brammell, freshman.

Sara Ann, a Home Economics major, has participated in many activities here on campus. Among

Quad Takes Group Shots

Additional group pictures for the 1957 Quadrangle will be taken Monday, Oct. 15, Anne Keim, yearbook editor, has announced.

Nine campus groups will be taken on Monday morning.

At 9:35 the WAA picture will be posed in the gym.

At 9:45 Women's Council picture will be taken on third floor of Sharp Hall.

Spectator staff members including reporters and special writers will be snapped at 9:55 on the front steps of Sharp.

Rec Council members will meet at 10:10 in the gym for their picture.

At 10:30 a shot will be taken of the Design class.

The Fahnestock Hall lounge will be taken at 10:40 to show some of the Fanny fellows at home.

The babies of Kline Hall couples will pose for their picture at 10:50 in the Kline Hall parlor.

Pictures taken yesterday included Future Teachers of America, Debate, Pi Kappa Delta, Alpha Delta, and the McPherson Christian Association cabinet.

The cover design for the yearbook has been completed by Jeanne Shively, yearbook artist.

Jeanne had a conference with the head artist of Myers and Company while she was attending the KCSA workshop at Baker last weekend.

She was given instructions for completing the original art work for the cover and the end sheets.

Coleman Donates Tape Recorder

To help students who are interested in improving their speech, a new tape recorder has been given to the McPherson College by Mr. W. C. Coleman of Wichita.

When Presidents Bittinger and Sharp from McPherson College and College of Emporia were soliciting funds for the Kansas Foundation of Private Colleges and Universities, they met Mr. Coleman and learned of his interest in helping others to improve their speech.

Mr. Coleman, after talking to Presidents Bittinger and Sharp, told them that if they would send the heads of their Speech Departments down to talk to him, he would give a tape recorder to each college.

Prof. Guy Hayes, head of the Speech Dept., went to Wichita last Tuesday to visit with Mr. Coleman and get the tape recorder.

Mr. Coleman, who is 87 years old, is especially interested in improving the public reading of scriptures. He has given over 25 tape recorders to seminaries to be used by ministerial students.

As a young man, Mr. Coleman was interested in the ministry and law. He was studying to be a lawyer, but before he finished college, finances made it necessary for him to quit college to work.

It was then that he invented the Coleman lamp, which became such a success that he decided to expand the business.

The Coleman Company provided lights for many midwestern towns long before electricity was introduced. Coleman lamps were soon marketed on a world-wide scale and sold in areas where electricity was not available, where they are still used.

Camp stoves and lamps made by the Coleman Co. have been used extensively by mountain climbers, and these products have gone to both the North and South poles.

The Coleman Co. is now expanding to include the manufacturing of air conditioning systems, as well as heaters, different types of portable and stationary stoves, and the original lamps.

The tape recorder given to McPherson College by Mr. Coleman is an Eko Tape, one of the most modern tape recorders.

Dramatics Will Begin Following Conference

Prof. Dology Rothrock and Miss Doris Coppock have been chosen to sponsor Maccollege dramatics this year. Plans are to start work on three one-act plays soon after Regional Conference.

The plays will be directed by student directors, with Prof. Rothrock and Miss Coppock supervising their work.

Prof. Rothrock is now directing the play, "They Came to the City," which several Maccollege Faculty members are giving for Regional Conference. Miss Coppock is in the cast of "They Came to the City."

Spec Misspells; Frosh Collects

Ila Gauby, freshman, collected on the Spectator's offer for misspelled names last week.

Her name had been spelled Goby when the editors noticed it in the proof. The correction came out Ganby.

The Spec's offer was a coke or cup of coffee to anyone who found his name misspelled in the paper.

'Christ Calls Us' Theme Of Meet

The Christian Education Training Conference theme of Regional Conference is "Christ Calls Us to Teach."

This particular conference will be held three days during Regional Conference, from 2 - 4 p.m.

The first day, C. Ernest Davis will give a talk, "Teachers Wanted," and Mary Spessard will present and discuss the film, "The Call Hits the Local Church."

The other two days the following general program is to be used. Stressed will be the implications of the Call as related to children, youth, adults and administration.

Mary Spessard, national director of children's work, will lead the children session. The youth session is to be led by Paul Weaver, national director of Junior high and camping.

Rufus B. King, national director of adult education, and C. Ernest Davis, executive secretary of Christian education, will lead the adult and administration sessions, respectively.

This particular conference should be of interest to all Maccollege students in religious education.

Kaufman Will Direct Conference Bible Hour

Stewart Kaufman, Director of Ministry and Evangelism from Elgin, Ill., will speak three days at the Bible Hour of Regional Conference, Oct. 27-Nov. 1. This hour is to be from 8:40 - 9:30 a.m.

Stewart Kaufman He is a graduate of Elizabethtown College and Bethany Biblical Seminary. Rev. Kaufman has been active in ministerial work in Pennsylvania.

Choir Will Cook Out

Chapel Choir will hold a cook-out picnic in Lakeside Park, Monday, Oct. 15, 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Committees for food, recreation, and steering have been appointed by Charles Ebbert, president.

Guild Includes Several Maccollege Organists

American Guild of Organists met in Salina, Sept. 25. A progressive party started at the Presbyterian Church and continued to the Christ Cathedral, an Episcopal Church, and then to the First Methodist Church.

The organist of each church gave the registration and the reason for all of the numbers they played. Two students of Maccollege became subscribing members at the meeting. They were Jeanine Corn and Ann Taylor.

About seven of the organ students from Mac will be members of the guild this year. Mrs. San Roman, associate professor of piano and organ at Maccollege, is Vice Dean of the guild.

Other members from Mac are Mrs. Don Frederick, Ruth Honagan, Dean Reynolds, Richard Ferris, and Jo Eva Jones. The guild consists of representatives from Lindsborg, Salina, McPherson and surrounding towns. The name of this guild is the Lindsborg Organ Guild.

Home Ec Initiates

The Home Ec Club initiated new members Tuesday evening at 6:30.

Those initiated were Ruth Barcelo, Donna Berry, Joyce Barry, Judy Brammell, Doris Davidson, Zoann Ewing, JoAnn Negley, Debra Pook, Judy Pigott, Gwendene Reiff, Jeanne Shively, Wanda Soden, Mary Alice Smith, Shirley Stafford, Vernona Thralls, and Betty Ann Wise.

Other new members are Lila Cook, Bernice Mathis, Pat Schachter, Phyllis Williams, Ellen Williams, and Helen Williams.

Marri Mac Club Formed

Marri Mac Club is a new organization for all married couples, of which either one or both are attending Maccollege.

A study revealed there were approximately 60 married couples with one of the couples enrolled at Maccollege. Sunday, Sept. 20, 45 of these couples and their children met at Lakeside Park.

They had a potluck lunch and elected the following officers: Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Richard, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Orval Eshelman, co-chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder, secretary-treasurers.

The original Marri Macs was a Sunday school class at the Church of the Brethren for about five or six years.

The new Marri Macs was organized to include all denominations of married couples on campus.

They organized to promote social life for the married couples at Maccollege. They are planning to use the local YMCA building for some of their socials.

Four Choirs At Church

This year the college church has four choirs, Junior Choir, Youth Choir, College Church Choir, and McPherson Church Choir. All are under the direction of Prof. Donald R. Frederick.

The choirs will alternate with two choirs singing each Sunday. This Sunday the Youth Choir and the Adult Choir will sing.

Junior Choir has its practice Wednesday at 5:15 p.m. It is made up of boys and girls from grades four through seven. This choir sings the same Sunday as the College Church Choir.

Youth Choir is composed of students from grades eight through twelve. They practice on Thursdays at 6:45 p.m. Youth Choir sings on the same Sunday as the McPherson Church Choir.

The College Church Choir is made up of college students. They practice on Wednesday at 4:15 p.m.

McPherson Church Choir is for adult members of the church. Practice for this choir is Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Speakers To Tell Of World Trips

Mr. Dale Miller, head of the Sax-Ore Construction Company whose offices are just east of Maccollege, and Mr. John D. Montgomery, publisher of the "Junction City Daily Union," will be guest speakers at the Oct. 16 and Oct. 19 chapel meetings respectively.

Mr. Miller will speak on his recent trip to Russia while Mr. Montgomery will relate his experiences of his trips to Latin America.

With a U. S. Steel Corporation representative, Mr. Miller visited Russia during the past summer to try to sell steel from the U. S. to the Russian industries and to let the U. S. build some of their bridges, roads, and dams.

John D. Montgomery Mr. Montgomery, who owns and publishes the only English language newspaper in Brazil - "The Brazil Herald," has made many trips through Latin America in the past thirty years.

Spec Cited As Example Of Professional Paper

"The Spectator is an example of professional journalism," stated Roger Davidson, student editor of the University of Colorado school paper in the newspaper reporting workshop at the Kansas Conference Student Association conference and the Journalism workshop on Oct. 6. This conference was held at Baker University, Baldwin, Kas.

The highlight of the conference was the keynote speech on the importance of publications on the small college campus to both newspaper and annual staff members by Mr. Emil Telle of the Journalism school of Kansas University.

Mr. Lee Padgett of Myers & Company of Topeka and who has worked on the Maccollege yearbook gave tips on selling advertisements and working on a yearbook in the Yearbook and Advertisements workshop.

Maccollege representatives were Anne Keim, Jeanne Shively, Donna Davidson, Norris Harms for the Quadrangle; Duane Filke, Carl Harris, Glenna Hawbaker, Dale Sheffell, Ruth Hanagan, and Bill Gripe represented the Spectator.

Mrs. Homer Brunk, the advisor, assisted in giving criticisms of the different school papers.

English Requirements Completed This Term

Only a few students have not completed the required conference on their English Proficiency Test. Mrs. Homer Brunk stated Wednesday.

Since Dr. Maurice A. Hess plans to move his household effects to Missouri during the second semester, he is helping students this semester to complete the English requirement instead of letting them wait until after the test is given at the beginning of the second semester.

Usually remedial work is given during the second semester to students who do not show English proficiency on their second test.

Women To View Fashions At Style Show Here Tonight

A style show which will feature fall and winter fashions is to be presented in the chapel tonight at 7:30. The Home Ec Club is sponsoring it.

Models are Judy Brammell, June McDaniel, Anita Wise, Judy Pigott, Marian Thiesen, and Ann Schnallhman.

The downtown stores which are to present their fashions are Calvert's, Morris and Son, Penney's, Jarold's, Stanley's and Linn's.

Sports wear, skirts and sweater sets, dresses, suits and coats, and evening wear are to be modeled.

Marlene Jamison will read a description of each garment.

All women on college hill are invited to attend. Guests from the Central College and McPherson High School home economics departments are expected.

A tea will follow the style show.

Those on the program committee are Ruth Davidson, chairman, Ann Schnallhman, and Ruth Hanagan.

Irene Shull is chairman of the social and telers committee. Other committee members are Shirley Rhoades, Anne Keim, and Carilyn Krehbiel.

The stage committee includes Marlene Jamison, chairman, Jeanne Shively, and Bernice Mathis.

Refreshment committee members are Sara Ann Coffman, chairman, Betty Ann Wise, Lila Cook, Gwendene Reiff, and Donna Berry.

Ushers for this occasion are Ana Rosa Rodriguez and Zoann Ewing.

Vernona Thralls and Ruth Hanagan will provide piano music during the show.

Kolstad Resumes School

Ole Kolstad, Maccollege junior, who recently spent several weeks in the hospital, returned to some of his classes this week.

Ole states that he is quite weak from his illness but that he hopes to be able to attend all of his classes soon.

Banquet Tickets Can Be Purchased

Banquet tickets can be purchased until Oct. 17 from Billy Joe Hildreth, Mary Beth Toile, Joyce Emawiler, Deibert Hayes, Dewayne Jeffries, Maika Tinsley, and Paul Freyner.

The banquet will be prepared by the ladies of the Church of the Brethren. It will be served in the church parlors at 6:30 p.m.

Sara Ann will be crowned Homecoming queen by the retiring queen, Anita McSpadden Wise, formerly from Wiley, Colo.

Many activities are planned for Saturday, Oct. 20. At 10 a.m. a coffee hour and teacher discussion conference for beginning and second year alumni teachers which is sponsored by members of the Education Dept. will be held in the Student Union Room.

Judging of the campus decorations will start at 11 a.m. Prizes will be announced during the football game. First prize consists of $30; second, $20; third, $10, and five honorable mention prizes of $5 each will be given.

The M Club luncheon will be served at the Warren Hotel at 12 noon. At 3 p.m., the Alumni Tea will take place in the Student Union Room. The Pep Club will serve a Chili Supper at 5 p.m. in the Church parlors.

The McPherson College Bulldogs will play Kansas Wesleyan University at 7:30 p.m. Half time guest band show will be given by the Hill City High School Band. Ronald Moyer, who graduated from McPherson College in 1949, is director of the band.

After the game in the College Cafeteria and the Dog House a coffee hour is planned for both alumni and students.

Many friends and relatives of McPherson College students will be on campus for the weekend festivities.

Tough Tussle Ahead For Bulldogs Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., the Bulldogs will play possibly the toughest game of the season against League leading College of Emporia. The game will be held at the C. of E. stadium.

College of Emporia is the defending KCAC champion this year. So far in the season they have won all three of the conference games which they have played.

Last weekend they won their third conference game when they defeated Bethany 40-13. The starting C. of E. lineup only played little more than a quarter and the rest of the game was played by reserves.

Last year C. of E. was the winner in the contest with the Bulldogs in a score of 26-0. The Bulldogs had trouble stopping the aggressive offense in the first half, but in the second half they tightened their defense somewhat and held the opposition's scoring down. This year the C. of E. "Presbies" are not considered to have quite as powerful a team as in the previous season but they will still be plenty tough on their home field tomorrow afternoon.

They will also be seeking their fourth consecutive conference championship this year. In the previous meetings, C. of E. has had 11 wins, 5 losses and 3 ties.

Students Work Off Macampus

Money to finance their college education is earned by a large percentage of MacCollege students who work part time during the school year.

Students serve as assistants, typists, and janitors on campus, while others work at numerous jobs off campus.

Clerks

Bernice Mathis, freshman from Oklahoma City, began training Monday for a position in Ren Berger Jewelers.

Wanda Soden, a freshman from Rocky Ford, Colo., is employed part time at J. C. Penney Co. doing office work and clerking.

Frances Straka, a local freshman, has a typing position at Crabbs Town and Country where Dave Frazier, junior from Charles City, Ia., and Danny Crouse, Hutchinson freshman, do various phases of delivery work.

Joe Reeves, senior from Nampa, Idaho, works as attendant at Stratton Service Station. Loren Zook, McPherson, freshman, holds a similar position at Skelly Oil Station.

Phyllis Bernbeck, freshman from Quinton, Kas., is employed as a sales girl at Calverts. Beverly Hall, a senior from Twin Falls, Idaho, works at Hubbell's Drug Store.

Nurserymen

Two junior fellows, Ed Butler, from Eldorado, Ia., and Ed Switzer, from Haxton, Colo., are working at Nelson Nursery for the third year. Their work includes seeding lawns and planting shrubs. Vernon Reinecker, Quinter, freshman, and Dean Stump, sophomore from Cushing, Okla., are among the MacCollege students employed irregularly by Nelsons.

Mary Beth Vane and Joan Ford, McPherson sophomore and junior, are regular employees at the Dairy Dip.

Don Glahn, senior from Gypsum, Kas., works part time at Select Dairy as a delivery truck driver.

Odd Jobs

Lee Dadiamag, MacCollege junior from Nevada, Ia., works for Mrs. Aubrey Hale doing yard work. Chuck Vance, senior from Twin Falls, Idaho, and Bob Nelson, junior from Boise, Idaho, are among the MacCollege students employed at Casebeer Junk and Supply.

Bob Pittman, junior from Astoria, Ill., has a Saturday job working for Earl Maths teaching such work as tearing down barracks at Salina.

Richard Smith, junior, Akron, Ohio, does a variety of jobs at Mountain Iron and Supply, where he is employed part time. He repairs pumps, stocks shelves, and makes up orders.

Home Ec Meet At K-State

The Home Economics Workshop will be held tomorrow at Kansas State College in Manhattan.

Group discussions will be held in the morning. At noon, a luncheon is being planned with Dean Doretta Hoffman speaking on "The Home Economics Role in Making a Better World."

A main feature of the afternoon will be a tour of the Home Economics Department at Kansas State.

Roesch, Scott In BVS

Royce Roesch and Vernon Scott, ex-Mac students, are members of the September unit for Brethren Service at New Windsor, Md.

Royce has written that the unit of 54 is the largest in the history of volunteer service.

The unit has been divided into two groups, half working in the morning while the other group is attending classes and then attending classes in the afternoon while the other group takes its turn working in the relief center processing goods to be sent to Europe and other needy places.

Obstacles are those frightful things you see when you take your eyes off the goal you're trying to reach.

Football Dates

The remaining conference games are as follows:

- Oct. 13 — College of Emporia at Emporia. 2:30 p.m.
- Oct. 20 — Kansas Wesleyan at McPherson (Homecoming). 7:30 p.m.
- Oct. 27 — Friends at Wichita. 3 p.m.
- Nov. 2 — Ottawa at Ottawa. 8 p.m.
- Nov. 9 — Bethany at McPherson. 7:30 p.m.

Students Assist Science Profs

Science Department of MacCollege has 12 assistants. Four are in the Physics Department working with Prof. J. L. Bowman; five are with Dr. Wesley DeCoursey in the Chemistry Department; the remaining three are assistants to Dr. John Burkholder in the Biology Department.

Physics Department

George Eisele, Joe Reeves, Richard Carney, and Glenn Morland are in the Physics Department.

George Eisele, a senior from McPherson, plans to be a teacher. Mission work is the line of interest of Joe Reeves. Joe is a junior from Nampa, Idaho.

Richard Carney is interested in teaching. He is a senior from Nickerson, Kas.

Glenn Morland, Glenn is a sophomore interested in science.

Chemistry Department

In the Chemistry Department are Galen Stucky, Ed Wolf, Gene Myers, Ed Emmert, and Richard Carney. Richard is an assistant in two fields.

Galen Stucky is a senior from McPherson. He plans to be a nuclear physicist.

Ed Wolf, from Quinter, Kas., is a senior. He, too, plans to be a nuclear physicist.

Gene Myers is interested in teaching. He is a senior from Essex, Mo.

Ed Emmert has the right job because he is interested in chemistry. He is a junior from Redfield, Iowa.

Biology Department

The three assistants in the Biology Department are Nancy Keim, Pat Schechter, and Larry Hayes.

Nancy Keim is a senior from Peru, Ind. She plans to be a science teacher.

Pat Schechter, a junior, is from Worthington, Minn. She plans to be a nurse.

Larry Hayes is a sophomore from McPherson. He plans to study to be an M.D.

C Of E Reaches For KCAC Berth

All of the teams in the Kansas Conference played last weekend. Game results show that there are several powerful teams in the conference this year and the race for first place could be a close one.

College of Emporia, considered to be the most powerful team in the conference this year, and who is also defending last year's title, defeated Bethany College 40-13. Bethany's two touchdowns were scored against the C. of E. reserves, who played almost three quarters of the game.

The Bethel Graysmores recovered from their previous defeat by McPherson to beat Ottawa 13-12.

McPherson on the other hand, won their second straight conference victory when they defeated Baker University 27-13. Baker was previously rated higher than the Bulldogs.

Friends College, who was considered to have a fairly strong team this year, fell apart last weekend when they were smothered by Kansas Wesleyan 63-6.

Some of the teams are showing up somewhat differently than had been previously expected by many of the coaches, and the strong College of Emporia team may have some serious competition.

Attendance Unnecessary

Optional class attendance has been granted 251 juniors at Kansas State College this semester. To qualify for the privilege, the juniors had to maintain a B average or better during the previous semester in college.

Quiet, Please!

"Please observe quiet hours," the proctor requests.

Selected McPherson College students, who are upper classmen, act as floor proctors in the dormitories on MacCollege Campus. The duties of floor proctors are to keep order, keep things running harmoniously, see that lights are out after quiet hours at night and during the daytime, and help sense and help to solve personal problems of the students on their floors.

The floor proctors in Duntour Hall, girls' dorm, are Joanat Pike, first floor; Adele Bernstein, second floor; and Donna Berry, third floor.

Two boys' dormitories are Arnold Hall and Farnestock Hall. In Arnold Hall the floor proctors are Dean Schrock, third floor, and Kenny Singleton, fourth floor. Floor proctors in Farnestock Hall are Bill Gripe, first floor; Dwight Olman, second floor; and Dwayne Jeffrey, third floor.

I hope that everyone knows that Mickey Mantle was the triple crown in batting. What people don't know is that Ted Williams came in a close second to the "Mick" in batting average, and that Al Kaline was close behind in RBI's.

Mickey has hit 8 home runs in his World Series career. This puts him only 7 behind the Bambino. Mickey is quite young and may have a few more World Series to play in thus helping him to catch up with the Babe.

Don Larsen pitched a sensational no hit, no run, "no nothing" game Monday, thus overshadowing Sal Maglie's brilliant five hitter. I am sure those who missed the phenomenal game will hear about it for a long time.

The game was teased up by a brilliant fielding play by Mickey Maglie, which overshadowed Duke Snider's unbelievable diving catch.

Larsen threw only 97 pitches in retiring 27 batters in a 7-0. He was ahead of the batters most of the time.

Olympics Near

As the time for the Olympic Games nears, the tension mounts to an almost unbearable stage for the competitors and fans. The favorite is the United States, but bitter competition is expected from the Soviet Union.

Although no scoring system is authorized by the Olympians, the unofficial scoring system is 10 points for first place, 5 points for second, four for third, etc.

Actually, there is no winning country recognized by anyone but the newspapers.

Many stars are on our team this year. Short Charles Dumas (6' 1 1/2") with his sensational performances has acquired the honor of holding the World Record by jumping 7 feet, 1/2 inch during the Olympic trials.

This feat overshadowed the performance by Midget Phil Reaves (5' 8 1/2") with a spectacular leap of 8 feet, 8 1/2 inches. These two may be the shortest high jumpers in the Olympics.

Many people think of tennis as a "sissy" game, but those that have played it think otherwise. Great training and practice leads to the best performances. One feels quite "zapped out" after one or two matches in this sport.

It is as colorful and tense as any other sport.

The Bulldogs showed their fans that they can have a powerful football organization when they defeated Baker University last Friday night by a score of 27-13. The Canine conference record now stands at 2-0.

The Baker Wildcats, who were sporting some 20 returning lettermen, were simply no match for the ground attack displayed by McPherson. Touchdowns for Mac were made in each of the four quarters.

The first score was made in a 78 yard run by quarterback Kenny Stucky. The Bulldogs had been precariously holding Baker on the one-yard line before the score was made.

In the second quarter, after a quick kick by Baker, McPherson took over on its own 20 yard line. A thrilling run around end by George Casebeer put the ball on the Baker 43. Then Baker recovered a fumble on the 25 yard line.

McPherson gained possession soon afterwards when Dick Keltin intercepted a pass and returned the ball to the Baker 25. After a couple of plays, Earl Guioi smashed 12 yards and then two more to put the ball on the one yard line. Richard Heidebrecht went over for the TD and this time Relf's extra point attempt was good.

Baker scored its first touchdown early in the third period when they recovered a fumble on their own 25 yard line. They drove to the McPherson 31 and then a 15 yard holding penalty against Mac put them in close enough for Tom Kolaczek to plunge over for the TD. Extra point attempt was good.

With a score of 13-7, McPherson was forced to punt on their fourth down. However, after going 35 yards, the ball touched a Baker player, and McPherson end, Ed Dolk, fell on it to gain possession for the Bulldogs.

After one play, Widrig went around left end for 17 yards and Mac's third touchdown. Relfs put the ball between the goalposts for the extra point.

McPherson's passing attack did not succeed once in 5 attempts, but their ground game was good. Baker completed seven passes in 18 attempts to McPherson's 6-5. However in net yards gained rushing, McPherson had 338 to the opposition's 200.

Baker's second TD was made against McPherson's reserve players in the final minutes of the game.

Cheerleaders To Get Jackets From Pep Club

Mac's cheerleaders will have new jackets. Pep Club is helping to buy them.

These will be reversible red and white orion jackets.

Pep Club To Serve Chili

Pep Club has a new yell. They are yelling that there is to be a Chili Supper in the church basement on next Saturday, Oct. 20. It will start at 5 p.m. The chili will cost 65 cents with second helpings for 20 cents.

Food, Weather Different For Puerto Rican Student

Seventeen-year-old Ruth Barcelo, daughter of Puerto Rican House of Representatives member, Jose Barcelo, is enrolled as a freshman at Macollege this year.

Ruth, whose friendly nature is frequently emphasized by her winking one dark eye, is majoring in home economics and plans a teaching career.

Ruth, one of six Puerto Ricans on the McPherson College campus this year arrived in the United States by plane on Aug. 8.

Kansas weather and American food are two things which seem most different to this slender, dark-haired teenager.

"I don't really miss any food," Ruth states, as she explains that she likes to eat American food better than Puerto Rican.

"We use quite a bit of American food in my home. My mother, Luz Maria Lopez, made the American dishes; I never did. She made mostly casserole dishes and salads, learning from the American diplomats, exchange teachers and students whom my father would bring to our home."

Ruth is one of the middle members of a family of eight and is the first member of her family to study in the States. Her older sister did live for a time in New York.

In order to finish her high school course in two years instead of the customary three, Ruth took summer sessions at Ponce, Puerto Rico. She received her degree on Aug. 3, just one month before she enrolled at McPherson College.

She is now a member of the McPherson College Home Economics Club.

During high school Ruth was active in Future Homemakers of America, serving as club treasurer and vice president, earning her junior homemaker degree, and attending state FFA convention in San Juan as a delegate.

Ruth, whose hobbies include collecting photos of all her friends and playing ping pong, likes both cooking and sewing.

One of her home tasks was helping her mother operate the telephone switchboard which was located in the Barcelo home. In Ruth's hometown of 10,000 population there were 75 telephones.

Although she has studied English for 11 years and it is spoken in her home when Americans are guests, she still has some difficulty with the language. Ruth enjoys a rapid session of Spanish now and then with the other Spanish-speaking students on McPherson College.

Ruth's plans for studying in the United States took definite form a year ago this past summer when Dr. D. W. Bittinger, president of McPherson College, visited in the Barcelo home in Atajuntas, Puerto Rico.

Initial plans for Ruth's education in the states had been started prior to that through her father's meeting in the States with Dr. Harold Rowe, of the Brethren Service Commission sponsored by the Church of the Brethren. However, Ruth's first impres-

White, Snyder

Mr. and Mrs. Don White of Des Moines, Ia., announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Eugene Snyder of York N. D.

Janet, who is now working in McPherson, was a Mac student last year. Gene is a junior this year.

The couple will be married Nov. 3 in Des Moines, Ia.

Youth Cabinet To Iowa

Three deputations groups sent by the Western Youth Cabinet will travel to different parts of Iowa this weekend.

Irvin Wagner, Donna Davidson, Bill Gripe, and Leon Nohar will visit the Greene Church which covers the Northern Iowa and Minnesota district.

Those going to the Panther Creek Church at Adel in Middle Iowa are Gene Myers, Sonya Kaufman, and Carl Harris.

Representatives to the Monroe County Church in Southern Iowa are Dwight Oltman, Al Nyce, and Marlon Landhuis.

A general program will be used by the three groups to stimulate more interest in CBYF.

Dinner Is Served!

Home Economics Club is planning to serve two dinners this year.

Monday, Oct. 29, a college fellowship supper for Regional Conference guests will be served. The meal, which will consist of chili, is sponsored by the college.

Marlene Jamison and Irene Shull, senior home economics majors, are sharing responsibilities in planning the supper.

The Nurses Club of the city is to be served a dinner in the Home Economics Department Dec. 8.

Ruth Davidson and Anita Wise, senior home economics majors, are in charge of making the arrangements.

Smith Speaks At MCA

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, a non-denominational organization for sports-minded Christians, was the subject of Coach Sid Smith's talk at MCA Thursday night.

Both Coach Smith and his assistant coach, Bob Wise, attended the first annual conference of the organization, which was held this year at Estes Park, Colo., August 19-21.

Some of the leaders at the conference were Don Walker, Otto Graham, Branch Rickey, Don Moomaw, Biggie Munn, Phogg Allen, and Dean Cromwell, as well as other famous athletes and coaches.

The conference and these leaders combined athletics with religious and inspirational discussions. Those attending were encouraged to use their prestige among youth for Christian purposes. Emphasis was placed on individual witnessing, rather than organized group activity.

Portraits For Nothing

Do you like to sit around doing nothing? Would you like to be an art model? The art department is using students as models for advanced classes who are studying figure drawing and painting.

Students who model for the adult class of town people from the newly formed McPherson Art Association are paid 75 cents an hour. This class meets from 8:30 to 9:30 on Wednesday evenings.

No provision has been made for paying wages to those who model for Macollege art students. Therefore those models will be given the portraits painted of them as payment.

The portraits will remain in the department until the end of the school year, and they will become the property of the model.

International Students

Attend PTA Meeting

Four international students from McPherson College were on the program for the Nickerson Grade School PTA at Nickerson, Kas., Tuesday, Oct. 9. Paul Wagoner sponsored this group.

Mrs. Chan Jo, senior, from Korea; Manfred Grote, freshman from Sulingen, Germany; and Ana Rosa Rodriguez, junior, from Puerto Rico, spoke.

Mary Gatewood, junior, majoring in biology, sang, "One World" and "He Holds the Whole World in His Hand." Mary is from Pine Woods, Miss., and has toured with the Piny Woods Singers.

Workshop At Quinter

Those going to Quinter, Kas., last weekend for a recreation work shop were Dr. John Burkholder, Associate Professor of Biology, Paul Wagoner, Alumni Secretary, and Ruth Davidson, senior from McCune, Kas.

While there, Ruth visited with ex-Mac students, Nancy Ruth Erisman and Carol Hintz. Nancy Ruth is teaching the second grade in Quinter, and Carol is teaching the fourth grade in Wakecney.

Class Takes Field Trip

Farm Crops Class visited the Canton Experimental Station Canton, Kas., Monday morning, Oct. 8.

Members of the class who are Dick Bittinger, Ronald Bowman, Thelma Clouse, Chuck Ebbert, Kenneth Harris, LeRoy Hayes, Fred Kroons, Dwight Royer, Dale Sheneffelt, Dean Stump, Delbert Thiessen, Johnny Ikhite, and Carl Williams.

John Ward is instructor for the class.

Fellows' Treat Girls

After the football game Friday evening, Billy Joe Hildreth and Herb Johnson were hosts to a group of Mac students in Bittinger's basement. An oyster feed was served by candlelight.

Those present for the occasion were Vivian Oliver, Alma Goodfellow, Barb King, Joyce Flory, Joan Ford, JoAnn Negley, Lynn Sherrard, Duane Fike, Bill Gripe, Delbert Hayes, and the hosts Billy Joe Hildreth and Herb Johnson.

After eating, the following procedure was followed: the fellows washed and dried the dishes while the girls sang songs.

Meet The Profs . . . Alcohol, Soil Tests Run In DeCoursey's Chem Lab

Alcoholic tests for the McPherson and Rice County sheriffs and the McPherson City Police are run by Dr. Wesley DeCoursey in Macollege's Chemistry Department.

Dr. DeCoursey has served the college and the public in a number of ways during the four years he has been on the faculty.

Wesley DeCoursey

Dr. DeCoursey has set up a special soil lab in his own private laboratory at the college. In this lab he tests soils for the County Agricultural Extension Council.

In making intoxication tests Dr. DeCoursey uses either blood or breath samples. The blood samples are analyzed directly for alcohol by chemical tests.

The intoximeter which measures the alcoholic content in the breath enables the tester to find the alcoholic content in the breath. Analysis is made on a chemical through which the breath passes. Breath samples are collected in a balloon and are allowed to pass through tubes which contain carbon dioxide and alcohol.

Part of the intoximeter must be weighed on a very sensitive balance which will weigh it accurately to the fourth decimal place. The alcohol content must be above .15 to be considered intoxicating.

Approximately 25 to 30 such alcoholic tests are made each year by Dr. DeCoursey.

He has tested over 1150 samples of soil taken from fields and garden-plots in McPherson County.

A record of Dr. DeCoursey's soil tests is kept on a record in the county agents office.

The cost of the equipment in this soils laboratory is approximately $1,300 of which $700 was for a Coleman Spectrophotometer, used to determine the content of various chemicals in the soil.

A soil line meter which indicates accurately how much lime a soil sample needs cost $300. This laboratory was set up through a cooperative arrangement between the County Agricultural Council and Dr. DeCoursey.

Dr. DeCoursey is taking over the duties of the college museum during the absence of Dr. R. E. Mohler, who has been serving as curator. Dr. Mohler has gone to Denver, Colo., to serve as interim pastor of the Prince of Peace Church of the Brethren for one year.

Dr. DeCoursey will receive articles which are donated to the museum and will classify and add them to the permanent record.

Since the museum is open to the public and visitors tour it often, Dr. DeCoursey schedules these visits and acts as a guide or provides one.

Journalist Sees Cousin

Unexpectedly, Donna Davidson saw her cousin, Roger Davidson, at the Baker University journalism workshop last weekend. She chanced to over-hear a conversation relating the fact that several fellows from C. U. were present. Inquiring further, she found that one of the fellows was her cousin whom she hadn't seen for about six years.

Lyle Neher Heads MCA

Lyle Neher, senior from Oswego, Kas., is president of the McPherson Christian Association, the student body religious group.

Lyle is a Rural Life major, and is the welding and lathe assistant in the Rural Life department. He is also the vice-president of the McPherson College Agriculture Club. Last year he was president of the Peace Group steering committee. He has been a member of the Rec Council, CBYP, and SCA. He was vice-president of his sophomore class.

Between Lyle's sophomore and junior years in college, he served two years in alternative service. During that time he was stationed near Istanbul, Turkey.

He and another alternative service worker managed a Bulgarian Refugee Farm for about 100 refugees there. The farm was sponsored by the World Council of Churches and the U. S. escapee program.

During Lyle's first summer in Europe, he and another worker visited the Holy Land and toured points of interest there.

During Lyle's second summer in Europe he and Glendon Button, '56, directed an international workcamp at Kallenberg, Germany.

Mac's Exchangee Writes Of Experiences In Germany

(Editor's Note: Elsie Lucore, Macollege student, is an exchangee to Germany this year. She is under the sponsorship of Peace Group and CBYP. The following letter was written to Macollege students by Elsie.)

Dear Gang,
I will try to catch you up to where I am in brief form, but even then I think it will take volumes. First of all I want to thank all of you for this wonderful opportunity.

I really have a wonderful place to represent and am trying my best to do so.

I left home on June 27 by bus headed for New Windsor, Md., for a get acquainted session with other exchangees and to attend a peace conference.

Plans Changed
However, when we arrived there our plans were upset as they had received word that because of ship trouble we would have to sail from Quebec, Canada, instead of New York.

We left for Quebec on the first of July. We left there on the Arisa Star on July 3.

We had such things on board ship as music concerts, lectures and forums on current problems, travel tips and history on the various countries, movies, and recreation.

Arrived in Bremen
We docked in Bremen at 11 p.m. July 14. Esther Mohler and one of the former exchangees met us. We drove to Bremen that night. The next morning we attended church in one of the two Protestant Cathedrals in Europe.

On July 17, I left for Bielefeld and arrived about 1 p.m. Two of the students met me at the station and conducted me to the Theologische Hochschule which will be my home for the next year.

Belongs to College
I have no family, but will belong only to the college. Perhaps I should say that I have an extra large family. The students really gave me a hearty welcome and I felt right at home from the first.

Since school is out for vacation, I am at Bethel, a sort of suburb of Bielefeld in the northwestern part of Germany. It is an epileptic colony and almost a city of its own, because the patients make almost all of the materials which are used.

Bethel covers 1500 acres and cares for approximately 7000 patients. Approximately 3000 of these are epileptics and the others are mental cases, neurotics, and other organic nervous diseases.

Patients Trained
Bethel was founded on the idea that the patients should have something to do so that their minds would not dwell on their illnesses. Epileptics are not allowed to attend a normal school, so here they are given an education and trained in various trades.

First I was in the house Bethsaida, which is for girls from 18-18.

For the first several days I went to school with them to learn more German. This greatly amused them that someone as big as I should go to school with them.

Annual Conference was Aug. 25-26 and was really a spiritual uplift. Almost all the volunteers and the exchange students were there.

The conference theme was "Toward a Transformed Tomorrow" and was concerned with the future of Brethren Service and with our futures.

I returned home on Monday, and I have just begun my work here in Mara. Mara is the first house to which the patients come for examination and observation, before they are transferred to the proper house.

As the school year begins, may I wish each of you a successful and happy year. I think often of McPherson College and of you. I eagerly look forward to the time when I will return to you and share with you my many experiences here.

May I again say a very heartfelt thanks, and God Bless you all.
Sincerely,
Elsie

Don't Read! . . . Habits For Happy Eating

By Norris and Carl

The Queen's Banquet is next Friday night, and everyone will want to use his best manners. Therefore, as another public service of Norris and Carl, we present to you the Harms and Harris Etiquette Guide, or Happy Eating Habits for Hungry Heathers.

Incidentally, another spoke in the wheel of education is eating. Without this spoke the wheel will starve.

Follow, about the first thing you need to know about the banquet is how to seat your date. When pulling the chair out from the table for her to sit, you must resist the urge to pull it out from under her when she sits down.

When reaching for something across the table, always remember to keep one foot on the floor. If something that you want is out of reach, don't ask for it, since that will disturb the others at the table. Simply grab hold of the tablecloth and pull until the desired object is within reach.

When you sit down, you will probably find an array of four or more forks staring blankly at you. Of course you cannot imagine what to do with all of them.

The simplest way out of this dilemma is to slip three of the forks in your vest pocket, and use the remaining one for everything. (Except scraping gravy off your tie and eating peas, for which you may use your knife.)

Should you inadvertently spill water on the girl sitting next to you, don't get shook. The waitress will soon bring you more.

Society is divided into two classes: those in the swim, and those in the soup.

Church Publishes Paper

All student members of the church should have received the October copy of "Church News." This paper is sent to all members of the church, resident and non resident.

"Church News" is published monthly to let the people know what is happening. The editor is Mrs. Homer Brunk. Other members of the editorial staff are Mrs. Harold Beam, Mrs. Ernest Wall, Mrs. Melvin Christy, and Dr. Wesley DeCoursey.

Ministers Visit Campus

Two Evangelical United Brethren ministers and their wives were on Macampus last Saturday.

Those here were Rev. and Mrs. Harry Richer of Peru, Ind., and Rev. and Mrs. V. Glen McGill of Hutchinson, Kas.

They had attended a meeting at the Central E. U. B. Church in Hutchinson and decided to visit Mac's Campus.

While here, they ate dinner in the cafeteria and visited with several of the Mac students.

Ponder With The President What About Those Study Hours?

This year a renewed effort is being made to keep the many necessary meetings connected with college life from cutting too deeply into our evenings, thus making it hard for us to find time to study.

The pressure to establish more clearly certain hours which may be called study hours, comes not from faculty alone, but also from students.

We are pleased with the cooperative way in which the students have entered into the undertaking to schedule their meetings before the hour of eight o'clock so that after eight o'clock on Monday through Thursday, there might be more time definitely set aside for study.

Of course, faculty and students, alike, realize that setting aside hours for study does not mean that study will be done. It does however, clear the trackage and make it easier for study to be done.

If we all cooperate, I believe we can get our many meetings finished before eight o'clock on most evenings. If there are times when it is necessary to break over and have meetings carry beyond that, a committee has been established which can give the necessary permission.

It is our sincere hope that all students and all faculty will cooperate in trying to keep these evening hours open.

We all want to make good grades. There are even mercenary reasons for good grades. It is important to have a good transcript when you apply for a job.

It is also important to have a good transcript when you go on toward graduate school or professional school. If such a transcript is to be acquired, we must find time for study.

Moreover, if we have our lessons reasonably well taken care of so that we feel we are doing a creditable piece of work, somewhere near what we are able to do, then we can enjoy our leisure hours more.

Let us make this the best year

Dr. D. W. Bittinger
we have ever had. Let us play and have fun, but let us also study.

Brunk Is Late!

Freshmen, do you feel squeamish when you walk into Mrs. Brunk's English 3 class fifteen minutes late?

Do you feel embarrassed when she stops the discussion until you have taken your seat? We have news for you.

Last Saturday at the journalism workshop at Baker University, the whole group was in a general session listening to a guest speaker. The meeting had been going on for a half hour, when the door to the room opened and Mrs. Brunk cautiously entered.

The speaker stopped his speech to comment, "A dollar, a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar. What made you come so soon?"

And all Mrs. Brunk could do was to creep into a seat in the front row, knowing all the while that the eyes of a dozen Macollege students were on her.
