

Churches To Honor Reformation Day

McPherson County Reformation Day services will be held at the college stadium Sunday, Rev. Stanley A. Benson, who is President of the McPherson Ministerial Alliance, will preside.

The message will be given by Rev. J. Henry Less of Elgin, Illinois. Rev. Less is head of the Foreign Mission Commission of the Church of the Brethren. Special music will be presented by the combined choirs of the city.

The Prelude will be played by the Marcolle Band, under the direction of Prof. Donald R. Frederick.

Oct. 31, or the Sunday nearest to observed nation-wide as the beginning of Reformation Week. On the eve of All Saints Day, Oct. 31, 1171, Martin Luther nailed his theses to the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany.

These 95 theses challenged the flagrant abuses upon the sale of indulgences. Luther was forced to go into exile to save his life, but he later came out of hiding and with his followers drew up a constitution which outlined the principles of the Lutherans to this day.

Luther asserted the superiority of private judgment over authority as a religious matter, and the basic tenet of Protestantism. Ministers of the city will be participating in the service at Rev. Paul Mathual of the First Methodist Church, Rev. Roy Paslay of the First Baptist Church, and Rev. Alfred Bartley of the First Congregational Church.

Teachers Procure Decorations Prize

The top three winners of the homecoming decoration contest were announced at the ball game Saturday night. They were as follows: first prize, FTA; second prize, Junior class; third prize, Arnold Hall.

Honorable mention honors were received by Ag Club, Rec Council, sophomores class, Dotsau Hall, and the Spectator.

The FTA committee on decorations was led by the chairman, Vivian Oliver. Also on the committee were Richard Carney and Adele Bernstorf.

The decoration consisted of a coffin containing the dummy of a dead coyote. A gravestone and building guarding the victory home were parts of the decoration.

The mood was enhanced by background music composed by Vivian Oliver and sung by Clifford Thaling. The tune was "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie," and the words were an appropriate paraphrasing.

Second prize was awarded to the Junior class. Their decoration, which was entitled "Coyote Falls," consisted of a water fall.

The mechanics included a large central pump raising water to the top of a wooden frame. The water then ran down a blue canvas.

Arnold Hall received third prize for their group of bulldog silhouettes drawn by Danny Cross. The bulldogs were pictured in different phases of beating up and carrying away bearded loggers.

A large barking dog, complete with moving jaw, was part of the AR Club float showing a bulldog chasing a coyote down his hole.

"Give 'Em the Ax" was the theme of the Rec Council decoration. A large bulldog chopping off the head of a coyote, with little Red Riding hood watching, was the setting for their float.

A chicken house, with coyotes looking out the windows and a bulldog and a skunk outside, made up the sophomore float. "The Coyotes Turn Chickens into We Skunked Them" was the theme.

A miniature gridiron and bulldogs chasing coyotes off it was the scene on the Dotsau lawn for their float. A sign "Send Home Howlin'" was hung over the float.

"Let's Give the Coyotes a Threeshot" was the theme for the Spectator float. It consisted of a large bulldog running some coyotes through a grider.

SoCo Will Show Bright Victory

"Bright Victory" a full-length movie, will be shown in the Chapel tonight with "Martin Luther" after it. First feature begins at 7 p.m.

Fee Will Attend Meet Of Deans

This weekend Dean Mary Fee is attending the Annual Convention of the Kansas Association of Deans of Women and Advisers of Girls at Kansas State College in Manhattan. Headquarters for the conference are in the Kansas State Union Building.

The theme of the convention is "Freedom and Responsibility—The Changing Values in a Changing World."

Dean Emily Taylor, the dean of Kansas University, will speak on "Where Do We Go From Here?"

Work Begins On Mac Catalog

Work on the 1957 College Catalogue has already begun this year. Revisions in the curriculum, new pictures, and more-up-to-date material are added over two years.

The College usually has about 400 catalogues printed each time at a cost of approximately 50 cents each.

In order that they may be available by April 1, Dean James Beckebill and Mrs. S. M. Dell, who are in charge of the catalogue, must begin work early.

First, several catalogues are literally torn apart and the pages of each section are given to the heads of the proper department. After these teachers have made the corrections and revisions that are necessary, the pages are returned to the Dean and Mrs. Dell.

The material must then be sorted, typed, and assembled. Proof sheets of the Catalogue will be sent to the McPherson Daily Republican Office for printing. Galley proofs are sent to the department heads for corrections or approval, and then returned to the printers for the final print.

Tomorrow the annual Western Region Conference of the Church of the Brethren begins at Macapua. Visitors will be here through Thursday.

National leaders of the Church of the Brethren will be present to direct workshops and meetings. Macollege's Music Department under the direction of Prof. Donald R. Frederick will present a musical tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

Trustees Will Confer To Consider New Sharp

Macollege's Board of Trustees has a special meeting for Tuesday, Oct. 30, during Regional Conference, to consider funding raising for the new Sharp Hall.

The Board of Trustees consists of 26 men and women selected from the Districts of the Church of the Brethren in the Western Region, which extends from Montana to Louisiana.

Tentative plans for a new Sharp Hall were approved by the Board of Trustees last February. At approximately $500,000 is needed to complete the new Sharp Hall.

Some money has already been donated by interested people and various churches throughout the region.

A new Sharp Hall is the next project to be considered in a Ten-Year Development Plan at Macollege. The ten year development program began in 1952 and will continue until 1962.

Dotsau Hall, the new girls' dormitory completed in 1953, was one of the first projects in this Ten-Year Development Plan.

Also in that year, Arnold Hall, formerly a girls' dormitory changed its scenery from "pretty pink ribbons" in "anais and puppy dolls."

The new stadium was completed in 1954, and the college courts were completed in 1955 under this plan.

The new Sharp Hall would be located approximately where the old one is now located. Present plans include a new stage and auditorium to the west and an ornamental pool to the east.

Other projects included in the Ten-Year Development Plan which have not yet been started are a new Student Union building, a new cafeteria, and an enlarged physical education plant.

Music Groups To Present Program Tomorrow Night

Regional Conference guests, friends of Macollege and students will be entertained by the Band, Capella, and the Chapel Choir Saturday night, Oct. 27 with a musical program at the High School Auditorium.

The numbers that the Chapel Choir is working on are, Plenty of Good Rain, a Negro Spiritual, Wherever Shall I Come Before the Lord, Gladly Blamefully Bush-Croft of the Drum, Katherine K. Davy, We Praise Thee, A God of Praise, Jean Sibelius, arranged by Theodore Ganechew; and Like as Hart, Palestrina.

Mix Doris Coppock directs the Chapel Choir.

The A Cappella Choir will sing Come, Let Us Sing to the Lord, Schvedoff, Let's be to God on Earth, Leonard, Adamus, Te Palestrina and Music of Life, Noble Cain.

Numbers of the College Civic Orchestra will play Largo, from New World Symphony by Dvorak; Capella and the Chapel Choir by Mozart; Finale, from Second Symphony by Rachmaninoff; and two chorale numbers by Mendelssohn.

The Grand Finals will be a combination of the A Cappella and Chapel Choirs accompanied by the Chapel Choirs orchestra. Festival Song of Praise, Mendelssohn. Sunday afternoon the College Band will perform at the stadium.

Brethren, Quakers Hold Meeting Saturday

To Meet Fifth Place Team For Fifth Conference Game

Tomorrow night the Bulldogs play their fifth conference game against the Quakers of Friends University at Wichita. Friends was voted among the top three teams of the conference at the start of the season, but several defeats have put them down a notch or two in the standings. Friends' enrollment this year consists of 730 students. However, they joined the Kansas Conference only a few years ago, and haven't placed in the upper half of the standings yet.

In the meeting with the Quakers last year, the Bulldogs triumphed over them 43 in the homecoming game at Maclellage. Friends' only touchdown was made against Mac reserves on a 38 yard run. Records of previous meetings of the two teams show that McPherson has had the edge with 10 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. This year's contest will probably be a more even match than in other years.

Class Creates Weed Designs

Weeds can be beautiful. You, too, will realize that if you see the weed arrangements made by Design Class. They have variety of color, texture, and of arrangement.

In another interesting assignment the students made pictures by using objects of different textures, but having a central idea.

Nature was the theme of several of them. One had the paper, envelope, stamp, and a fountain pen giving the idea of letter writing. Articles associated with sewing were used by some of the students.

Mrs. Wesley DeCoursey invites all to see these projects.

Prof Talks To YWCA

Girl Studies in Sleep

In studying a habit? One girl who lives in Detsour Hall is wondering. She awakes at three o'clock one morning to find her light on and a paper in her hand.

This all may sound like a dream, but her roommate will testify that she turned on the light half an hour earlier.

KWU Tops Mac At Homecoming

Kansas Wesleyan University put a slight danger on the MAC homecoming activities when they defeated the Bulldogs 41-30 last Saturday night.

The game was highlighted by several spectacular runs by members of both teams. Two of McPherson's three touchdowns were scored by long down-field runs.

The first score of the game was made by Wesleyan's smashing back, Larry Hoodek when they plunged over from the seven yard line.

Wesleyan scored another 11 yards after this time by Dan Enloe on a 33 yard run. Then Bulldog end, Ed Delk caught a pass in the end zone from quarterback Ed Wolf for McPherson's first tally by Merle Rolfs kicked the extra point.

KWU made one more touchdown by Bruce Sorrel in the first half and then came back in the second half with Ed Rolfs around end 33 yards for the fourth Coyote touchdown.

McPherson's second touchdown also came in the third period when Merle Rolfs broke away on the 33 yard line and ran 62 yards to the end zone.

McPherson's last touchdown was made in the fourth period when Ed Rolfs got into the open behind good blocking and ran 70 yards for the score. Rolfs kicked the Bulldog's two extra points.

The Bulldog aerial attack was ineffective against the Coyote defense as they completed 5 of 11 attempts for 73 yards. Wesleyan made 3 punt attempts, all of which failed.

However, the powerful Wesleyan backfield consisting of Hoodek, Emig, and Sorrel was too much for the Bulldog as Hoodek made two touchdowns, Emig three, and Sorrel one.

Four of the five Mac pass completions were from quarterback Wolf to end Ed Delk, the longest of those being for 31 yards. The fifth pass was caught by Vernon Petefish for 4 yards.

Beam Hits Bull's Eye Since She Is Married

Members of Miss Doris Coppock's 115 Archery class are thinking seriously of advertising for husbands.

It seems that since Rita Evans Beam has come back from her honeymoon, she has made nothing but bull's eyes in archery.

The class has decided that if marriage can do that much for one's grade, they all want men too. Instructor Doris Coppock says she is interested also.

Vikas's Views

Tomorrow Oklahoma meets its most talented opponent, Notre Dame.

While Notre Dame has lost most of their games to the Sooners, one must look into the caliber of the teams played before drawing a false conclusion.

Michigan State Powerful
Michigan State has a very powerful team and if they are victorious in the "power-packed" conference, they may be the nation's number one team. Again one must not include a "mediocre team" (Detroit) as an overdraw one that is truly a powerful team.

The Big Ten teams are always included in the rating. This year six such teams have showed up in this poll, at one time or another. Each year the Big Ten has come up with a team that is "true", only to lose prestige from a team that has acquired a record while playing on low caliber teams.

Yet this does not mean that Oklahoma should be considered a low caliber team. They have had a glorious record, even though it has been won over "poorer" teams. They also always anticipate an upset, and this pessimistic attitude helps them.

Read and heed the Spec ads.

Stucky Did Relief Work In Europe Under MCC

Willard Stucky, junior at Macalester, did relief work in Europe under the Memorial Central Committee for three years. He went to Europe in the spring of 1953 and returned to the States in the Spring of 1954.

The Memorial Central Committee is a united effort of Methodist Churches to relieve disaster areas and underdeveloped areas of the world.

Health Services
In this voluntary service, Willard spent the first year in Europe in Esselkamp Mittwald, Germany, with a builders unit, building houses for displaced persons from Poland.

Esselkamp Mittwald was one of Hitler's former ammunition dumps which had been converted into a settlement for refugees.

The next two years he spent in Northern Greece, in the village of Panagiotis, which is in Macedonia approximately 80 miles west of Thessalonica. In Panagiotis he did rehabilitation work in rural villages.

Willard attended his first year of college at Bethel College, Newton, Kas., after he returned from Europe. His sophomore and junior years he attended Macalester. Worked on Reservations.

Last summer Willard and his wife spent two months on the Royal Indian Reservation in Arizona, working with missionaries and trying to establish a permanent voluntary service unit for young people. This was under the Macalester Mission Board.
Willard is majoring in sociology and philosophy and religion. He hopes to go into the mission field again after graduation.

Stern Teaches Red Cross Class
"Everyone should know how to apply first aid when the need occurs in case of an emergency," says Roy Stern, Junior from Frederickburg, Iowa, who has volunteered to teach Red Cross lessons to junior high students at McPherson.

He has seven pupils ranging from ages 12 to 16 in his class. He teaches them in the Red Cross Office downtown.

He teaches such things as what to do in case of emergency at the scene of an accident and how to apply artificial respiration.

Last year he took a course in first aid instructors course under Prof. Richard Wareham.

In order to keep up instructor's certificate one must teach one course for one every two years.
Roy is interested in social service and plans to go into the ministry after graduation.

Women's Council Picnic
Women's Council members ate weak sandwiches at their picnic Tuesday evening.
Setting for the occasion was the lawn between the tennis court and Harnly Hall.
The members of the Council and their sponsor, Dr. Mary Fee, were present.

Are You Republican Or Democrat? Parties Work On Macampus

Larson and Irlabro

Evidence of both the major political parties were seen on campus during the past week.
Thursday morning DeZour Hall girls were shocked to find the statue of Abraham Lincoln on their front lawn. Abraham, who was our first Republican president, usually resides in Harnly Hall.

Last Friday morning, after Assembly in Sharp Hall, a five-boy band was seen parading around Macampus. It seems that the speaker, John Montgomery of Johnson City, Kas. is a Democratic candidate for Congress.

Students Cook Meal
Last Friday evening Mea students prepared a supper at the Blittinger home. Baked potatoes served with Vienna sausage were the main dish.
Mea students present were Donna Rhoads, Ellen Williams, Karen Alexander, Lois Pagar, Rose and Minnie Monk, Donna and Darro Davidson, Dale Sheafelt, Richard Rollar, Ronald Bowman, Dean Stump, Charles Beach, and Roy Stemp.

Others attending were Homer Galunda, Delores Wallace, Don Westermoreland, Shirley Stafford, Larry King, Janice Bower, Mary Ann Butala, Ramon Paoli, Don Glum, Helen Williams, Dick Holtzer, Ellen Williams, Melvin Lohling, Neva Sheafelt, Senora Wrightman, and Shirley Williams.

Joan Ford Heads SoCo

Joan Ford, junior from McPherson, Kan., is chairman of the Social Committee this year. The Social Committee Chairman is elected each year by the Student Council. The chairman then appoints the other members of the committee. The faculty also elects two of its members to the committee.

Galloping Poll

When the communists invented brain washing, our federal government came up with the public opinion poll. The government was firmly of the opinion that the people shouldn't try to make up their own minds.

Making up your mind is not only old fashioned, but a waste of time because all the big pollsters already know what you think if you think. And if you don't think you're an eccentric misanthrope who will probably be investigated by Sen. McCarthy. The government also had another theory: "When writing about polls it's important to use indecipherable sentences. This not only completely messes up your readers, but it also makes them think you know something about the subject you're writing on."

With this in mind we asked our question for the week. "Are you pro or con on having your kids receive railings forwarded to your paternalistic and maternalistic bias." those for: 20 per cent. Those against: 20 per cent.

These were some of the comments received: "It depends on the age of the students and their relationship with their parents." — Larry Sanders.

"In the case of us students who study only for semester exams this is rather embarrassing and I feel that this is discrimination." — Dwight Gilman (He obviously read the other book I did.)

"I think students might study harder if their parents know what they are doing." — Delbert Hayes. "I am for sending grades home. If your parents are paying way through college, they should know if they are getting their money's worth." — Larry King. "They might be shocking to my parents. They're used to higher grades." — Irene Shull.

"It all depends on my grades. I'd like to see them first." — Janice Dower.

"I think the parents should know what the students are doing at college." — Mrs. San Roman. "I think it's an excellent idea. It helps the parents to understand what's going on here at college." — John Sheets.

"You mean my parents have been getting those grades?" — Flanking Junior.

The answer to the above question was, of course, a yes; whereupon, the man fainted. This just goes to show that Public Opinion Polls inform the people.

The purpose of the Social Committee is to coordinate all school functions. The committee meets at least once a week to plan various school activities.

The committee sponsors and plans such activities as movies, formal dinners and banquets, all-school parties and picnics; and this year it will sponsor WPA Week. It is given an appropriation by the Student Council Treasurer.

Although being Social Committee Chairman involves much time and hard work and planning, Joan also takes part in many other campus organizations.

Joan Ford
She is secretary of the Junior class this year, treasurer of the Future Teachers of America, secretary of the Recreational Council, and secretary of the S.P.E.C. Club.
Last year she was an assistant to Prof. Dick Warham, who was Religious Life Director, and she was on the Symphonette steering committee. She helped in the planning of the new MCA set up which is being used this year.
Joan also sings in the chapel choir, and she has been a member of the Pep Club, P.e.c.e. Group, S.C.A., Spectator Staff, State Club, and Intramurals.
This year she is a representative from Macleod to the city UCYM organization.
Joan is majoring in Elementary Education, and she would like to teach in some type of underprivileged school.
She has spent the past two summers working with Spanish-speaking migrants under the auspices of the National Council of Churches. She says that the only boys working with people.
Her hobbies are reading, sewing, and roller skating.
She was granted an honor scholarship for her first two years in college. This year she was chosen to receive the new $200 scholarship award offered by the Peoples State Bank of McPherson.

Don't Read It . . . Handy Housecleaning Hints

By Norris and Carl
Regional Conference starts tomorrow, and chances are that you will have some visitors. These may be your parents, friends, fourth cousins, or even members of the board of trustees.

To prepare for these guests, you should have clean rooms, so you can give a good and inaccurate impression of college life to these visitors.

To determine whether or not your room is clean enough for these visitors, measure the distance from the floor to the ceiling. If it measures less than six feet, your room is too dirty and needs some cleaning up.

A clean room is another important spoke in the wheel of education. Without this spoke, the wheel will make dirty tracks down the hall.

Before you start to clean the room, make sure that you have gathered the necessary equipment to make the task as easy as possible.

Suggested pieces of equipment are as follows: Radio, string mops, broom, shovel, pitchfork, fire hose, a pint of John's hot sauce, a box of matches, and in extreme cases a medium-sized bottle of nitroglycerin.

Ponder With The President . . . Promises Or Progress?

One of the issues of the political campaign which has worked its way to the top as the campaign progressed has been the issue of peace.

Not only are the people in America interested that this has happened, but all the people of the world are looking at this factor with even deeper interest.

To many people of the world, the determining factor concerning the peace of the future, lies not in Russia, but in America. Many of our overseas neighbors seem to have the feeling that Russia does not wish to fight, but that America is poised and ready for war.

This coming to the fore of the issue of peace in America seems to bring them hope. Apparently, both of our political parties are interested in peace.

The Republican party declares that it has brought the present peace. The Korean war has ended. There is no active shooting anywhere, or at least not for a prolonged period of time.

President Eisenhower indicates his intention to maintain this kind of a future. He has said in a magnificent statement,

"Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired, signifies, in a final sense, a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and unclothed."

When the issue over Suez arose there were many who thought that it was so delicate that if mishandled it certainly would lead to war.

President Eisenhower's forthright statement early in the negotiation of this would not lead to war and that we were not going to enter into shouting about it, made a war practically impossible for the other nations of the world are not likely to begin a war if they do not feel that America can be drawn in on their side.

The Democrats, similarly, are interested in peace and Adlai Stevenson has gone further even than President Eisenhower in seeking to find new ways toward peace.

His promises are that if elected he will look forward shortly to the ending of the armistice and the cessation of further atomic bomb tests.
